STUBBORN FIGHTING CONTINUES EAST OF PARIS

Allies Claim German Divisions Retreating at Several Points

INCOME TAX MINIMUM IS TO BE LOWER

Must Pay on All Above $2000; Whisky Escapes; Tax 2 Cents on Rectified Spirits

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—An income tax increase of one-half of one per cent and a reduction of the minimum exemption from $3,000 to $2,000, and the maximum exemption from $4,000 to $3,000, were tentatively agreed upon today by Democratic members of the ways and means committee, who are framing the emergency revenue bill to raise $100,000,000. It is estimated that the proposed income tax changes would produce $25,000,000 annually.

In deciding on the income tax increase, the committee considered the fact that revenue from this source would not be available until next July, but the opinion was general that the increased revenue from other sources would meet any deficit until that time. Under the proposed changes, the income tax would be one and one-half per cent on income of single persons in excess of $2,000, and the same on married persons in excess of $3,000. In addition, the one-half per cent increase would be added pro rata in accordance with the increase in sur-taxes in excess of $20,000.

The committee agreed also that the increased tax on beer and malt liquors should be fixed at 50 cents a barrel, bringing in $35,000,000. On domestic wines, an extra tax of 20 cents a gallon will raise $10,000,000. Distilled spirits will escape an extra tax, but it was decided to tax rectified spirits 2 cents a gallon, realizing $2,000,000.

Opponents of an increased tax on whiskies won their fight after three ballots had been taken. Proposals to levy an additional tax of 25 cents and 15 cents a gallon, were defeated. On a proposal to make the tax 10 cents a gallon, there was a tie vote. Finally it was agreed to make the tax apply only to rectified spirits at 2 cents.

The committee is said also to have agreed tentatively on a tax on railroad freight in lieu of a tax on railroad tickets. Such a tax would be collected by the railroads and easily administered. The rate proposed, it was reported, was 2 per cent.

At the conclusion of an all-day conference, it was agreed not to tax tobacco products, automobiles, gasoline, amusement tickets, magazines and many other articles and commodities which had been proposed, the increased income tax averting the necessity of levying against these articles.

No official announcement of the committee's action was made, Representative Underwood, the chairman, stating that the program was subject to change. The committee will meet again Thursday.

Fear Bulgarians Will Join Against Austria

ROME, Via London, Sept. 8.—(6:34 p. m.)—Despatches received here from Vienna by the Tribune declare that alarm is being expressed in the Austrian capital concerning recent demonstrations in Rumania and Bulgaria, in favor of Russia. These two countries are believed to be in favor of Great Britain, Russia and France in the present war and the Bulgarian consul at Budapest, Hungary, was removed recently by the authorities at Sofia for having delivered a speech, the tenor of which was favorable to Austria.

The Vienna Tageblatt, according to these same despatches, asserts that Emperor Nicholas has written to the crown prince of Bulgaria asking for the aid of Bulgaria against the enemies of the Slavs.

REPORT MADE ON SHIP PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—"Fears are expressed that we will involve ourselves in complications with Great Britain if we buy German ships," says a report of the Merchant Marine Committee, submitted to the House today, advocating the Alexander bill for a government-controlled company to purchase and operate ships. "That may be so," the report continues. "This bill does not direct the shipping board to buy ships of any particular nation. They have the widest discretion in the purchase or construction of vessels. We have no reason to believe that they will act otherwise than with the greatest care in whatever they do.

"The war in Europe," the report adds, "has not only demoralized commerce but credits as well. However much enterprising citizens and corporations may wish to meet the demands of the present emergency, they seem to be powerless to do so without government aid. Hence, the rational course is to utilize government resources to inure to the benefit of all the people.

"Rather than hazard the possibility of a misunderstanding with one or more of the belligerents, some would have us make no effort to repair the damage done to our industries and commerce by the European war, or to exercise any of the rights of a neutral power. We have rights as neutrals, as well as duties to be observed."

The report declares that the United States now has less than 1,000,000 tons of shipping in the foreign trade. It points out that many lines seeking shelter under the American flag, although American-owned, may pass again to foreign flags after the crisis, if to their pecuniary advantage. It declares the government's policy should be to build up the merchant marine permanently.

MUST CONSERVE BRITISH CASH

LONDON, Sept. 8.—(10:10 p. m.)—"We want every penny we can raise to help fight the enemy," said David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, replying today to a deputation from the municipalities which wanted the aid of the treasury in securing loans at cheap rates.

"We must come out triumphant in the struggle," continued the chancellor, "and as finance is going to play a very important part in it, we must husband our resources. We do not want a penny spent which is not absolutely essential to relieve distress. In my judgment, the last few hundred millions may win this war.

"The first hundred millions our enemies can stand as well as we can, but the last they cannot, thank God. And therefore I think cash is going to count much more than we imagine. At the present moment we are only at the beginning; we are fighting a very tough enemy, who is well prepared for the fight and probably will fight to the very end before he will accept the only condition upon which we can possibly make peace.

"If we are wise, there is where our resources will come in, not only of men, but of cash. We have won with a silver bullet before. We financed Europe in the greatest war we ever fought and that was won. Of course, British tenacity and British courage always come in, and they always will. But let us remember that British cash tells, too."

GERMAN REPORT FROM GALICIA

LONDON, Sept. 8, 7:52 p. m.—A German official statement received by Marconi wireless from Berlin says:

"The Austrian general staff reports that the Russian bombardment of the earthworks around Lemberg on September 3, was directed against unoccupied and undefended positions, the Austrians having previously withdrawn in order to spare the bombardment of an open town.

"The army commanded by General Dank was recently engaged in heavy fighting. The Russians brought up by rail large reinforcements, and a severe attack followed, but the troops commanded by Field Marshal Kestranek repulsed this attack, inflicting heavy losses on the Russians, and taking 600 prisoners.

"Elsewhere along the front there is comparative quiet."

SAYS GERMANS MUST NOT WIN

LONDON, Sept. 8, 8:15 p. m. — In opening what she called a "patriotic campaign," tonight Christobel Pankhurst, the militant suffragist, said the defeat of Great Britai by Germany would be calamitous from purely a woman's point of view and that upon the preservation of the British empire depended woman's enfranchisement.

Austria's Last Hope.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 6:10 p. m.—The forts of Przemysl and Jaroslau on the River San and Cracow, on the Vistula river, are the only obstacles the Austrians now have to prevent the Russian advance.

Przemysl is a strongly fortified military camp, 51 miles west of Lemberg, with 42 forts and 40,000 men, who were reinforced by the soldiers who escaped from Lemberg and Poland.

Says Louvain Saved.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—(8:20 p. m.)—The following offical German statement was received here this evening by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company:

"Dr. Earl Helfferich, a director of the Deutsche bank, who has returned to Berlin from Belgium, denies the reports of the total destruction of Louvain. He says the entire southern half, and part of the western portion of the town are practically undamaged and that the Hotel de Ville was saved by German soldiers extinguishing the flames from surrounding houses that threatened it.

"Professors of the leading German universities have declared their intention to renounce all distinctions bestowed upon them by British universities, or learned societies, on account of England's attitude in the war."

MINE COMPANIES DECLARE BUTTE TO BE "OPEN SHOP"

Will Not Recognize Either of Two Fighting Factions

NO WAGE CHANGES

Unions Are Not Strong Enough to Keep Contracts With Companies

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 8.—Mining companies of Butte declared late tonight for the "open shop."

A joint statement promises the wages and hours of labor prevailing under contracts with the union, but refuses to recognize further either Butte Miners' union, or the Western Federation of Miners.

The companies said they had decided to take into their own hands the matter of whom they intended to employ only after the arrival at the conclusion that neither the Butte Miners' Union No. 1, nor the Butte Mine Workers' Union was capable of proper organization.

The companies the signed the statement follow:

Anaconda Copper Mining Company; North Butte Mining Company; Butte and Superior Mining Company; Butte-Balakiava Copper Company; Elm Orlu Mining Company; Timber Butte Milling Company; Butte Alex Scott Copper Company; Pilot Butte Mining Company; Tuolumne Copper Mining Company; The East Butte Mining Company; Rainbow Development Company, and Butte Duluth Mining Company.

DENY INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

State Commission Rejects Application for River Points

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Application for an increase in freight rates between points on the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers was denied today by the State Railroad Commission. The corporations concerned are the California Navigation and Improvement company, Farmers Transportation company and the California Transportation company.

These carriers, however, will be allowed to eliminate commodity rates on shipments of 5000 to 10,000 pounds between San Francisco and Sacramento, provided that carload commodity rates are published.

The application of the Southern Pacific to increase rates from San Francisco to Vallejo, Benecia and adjacent points, will be considered by the commission. The Southern Pacific claims an annual loss of $100,907 through carrying this business by water.

The Santa Fe Railroad and the Western Pacific will be allowed to increase rates between San Francisco and Stockton, but no increase will be allowed between San Francisco and San Jose, Niles, Oakland; Crockett, Berkeley, San Leandro, Bay Point and other cities between this city and Stockton. First class rate will be increased from ten to eighteen cents per hundred pounds; second class from ten to fifteen cents per hundred pounds, and other rates in proportion.

SALVATION ARMY FORBIDDEN TO GET LOS ANGELES FUNDS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Salvation Army officers today were given one day in which to comply with the order of the municipal charities commission, which prohibited the organization from collecting funds and supplies in Los Angeles because of the commission's assertion that one-third of the funds are not used here and the refusal of the Salvation Army to operate under a local board of control.

Nine industrial stores, the True Love maternity home, and the Industrial Home will be affected by the order. Major William J. Dart, in charge here, indicated that the Salvation army would carry the matter to the courts.

GALICIANS GIVE CZAR WELCOME

LONDON, Sept. 8, 6:28 a. m.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"The Russians are being received with open arms by the populace of most of the cities in East Prussia and Galicia.

"The Galicians at first fled on the approach of the Russians, but later, finding that their fears were unfounded, they returned and fraternized with the troops. In other villages the invaders were welcomed by processions of priests and people with crosses and banners, who met the soldiers outside the villages and offered them bread and salt.

"No able-bodied were left in the villages, all having been drafted into the army."

CURTIN APPEARS TO HAVE WON DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Reports to Secretary of State Nearly Complete

HAS LEAD OF 1740

Hall Ahead in Los Angeles and Kern Counties

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—A compilation of figures not quite complete on the recent primary election, received here today from Secretary of State Frank Jordan, show that the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, apparently went to Senator John B. Curtin by a moderate majority. Official figures to date give Curtin a lead of 1740 over Fred H. Hall of Bakersfield. The only two counties that gave Hall a plurality over Curtin were Kern, where he polled 2958 to Curtin's 474, and Los Angeles, which favored Hall with 3653 against Curtin's 1951.

Totals thus far give Curtin 28,104 votes and Hall 26,364.

MILITIA DESTROY LIQUOR STOCKS

Saloonmen Had Defied Orders of Soldiers at Butte

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 8.—A practice eight-mile march of the militia, the destruction of liquors in two saloons whose proprietors had been found guilty of keeping them open in defiance of military orders, and the withdrawal of the application for a grand jury on the statement of County Attorney McCaffery that he will file charge against Mayor Lewis J. Duncan and Sheriff Timothy Driscoll direct in the District Court were the features of the seventh day of martial law in Butte.

Eight arrests, five of them for minor offenses, were made by the militia in the last twenty-four hours.

The military commission met today but adjourned until tomorrow morning, by which time a decision on the habeas corpus cases pending in the Federal Court is expected.

JOHNSON SPEAKS IN THE SOUTH

Governor Finds Great Support for Progressive Cause

(Special to the Republican).

WHITTIER, Sept. 8.—Daring John D. Fredericks to mention what law placed upon the statute books by the Progressives that he would repeal, Governor Johnson stirred his audience here last night when he flung that challenge to his Republican opponent for the governorship. The governor said no man running dare advocate the repeal of the direct-primary, the workmen's compensation bill or any of the other humanitarian measures passed in the last four years.

The Auditorium of the Whittier high school was crowded for the meeting, some seven hundred occupying all seats, while twenty-five vice presidents were upon the stage. Major M. D. Owens, president. Introducing the governor. Among the vice presidents was Marshall Hazard, president of the Whittier board of school trustees, a life long Republican, registered now as such, who is out openly for Johnson; B. A. Edgington, a Democrat and Franklyn U. Bugby, a Republican, besides others of the old parties were vice presidents. A party of twenty-five came all the way from Santa Ana, the county seat of Orange county, to hear the governor. Governor Johnson is immensely pleased with the outlook here in Los Angeles, his vote having been but slightly less than that of Fredericks. Progressive leaders here in talking over the situation today, made light of Fredericks' boast, that Los Angeles was a stronghold of his, pointing out that though the Republican ticket was elected four years by a thirty thousand majority; Fredericks only obtained the district attorneyship by fifteen hundred.

AUTO STAGE ROBBED.

PRIEST RIVER, Idaho, Sept. 8.—Nine passengers, including two women, were robbed this evening of their jewels and money by three men who held up the automobile stage plying between this town and Priest Lake.

The highwaymen sprung out of the dense timber on the crest of a long hill about four miles from town. After firing four shots into the engine of the automobile and ordering the passengers to march on a mile without looking back, the robbers escaped.

WAR BULLETINS

PETROGRAD, Sept. 8.—The Russian forces are making satisfactory progress along the Austrian front, where there have been serious engagements, according to the Russian official statement, which says:

"In the Rawa region, the Russian commander, General Ruszky, has fought a fierce battle against Austrian forces. The Russian troops have delivered an attack against a very strongly fortified Austrian position near Gorodok.

"On the left bank of the Vistula, the offensive movements of the Russians have proved favorable to their arms."

PARIS, Sept. 8, 10:50 p. m.—Twenty-eight Prussian prisoners, the first to be seen in Paris in the present war, arrived at St. Lazare station today. They had become separated from their regiment and lost their way. They asked a peasant near Meaux if the Germans had taken Paris and how to get there.

The peasant replied that he thought Paris had fallen and would conduct them to the right road. When it was too late, the Prussians found he was leading them into the British lines.

LONDON, Sept. 9, 3:07 a. m. — The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Ostend, telegraphs as follows:

"The American consul informs me that the agreement whereby the Germans refrained from entering Ghent, and imposing an indemnity was a triumph of American diplomacy."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8—The Canadian contingent which started for Europe last week to reinforce the English troops in France has been detained near Rimouski at the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, pending advice as to the whereabouts of German cruisers, according to information reaching here tonight. The Canadian force, approximately 30,000 strong, embarked at Rimouski Wednesday and no report of their departure for Europe has been received.

LONDON, Sept. 9, 3:05 a. m.—The Standard quotes the Russian and French embassies as denying the presence in France of a Russian force.

PRESIDENT SETS DAY FOR PRAYER

Sunday, October 4, Proclaimed Time for Peace Supplication

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Wilson today signed a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to pray for peace in Europe.

The president's proclamation sets aside Sunday, October 4, as a day of prayer.

President Wilson's proclamation was as follows:

"By the President of the United States of America.

"A proclamation.

"Whereas, great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battle whom the counsel of statesmen have not been able to save from the terrible sacrifice.

"And whereas, in this as in all things it is our privilege and duty to seek counsel and succor of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before Him, confessing our weakness and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things;

"And whereas it is the especial wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and counsel and all friendliness, to serve the cause of peace;

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October next, a day of prayer and supplication and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions to Almighty God, that overruling the counsel of men, setting straight the things they cannot govern or alter, taking pity now on the nations now in the throes of conflict, in His mercy and goodness showing a way where men can see none, He vouchsafe His children healing peace again and restore once more that concord among men and nations without which there can be neither happiness or true friendship nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world; praying also to this end that He forgive us our sins, our ignorance of His holy will, our wilfulness and many errors, and lead us in the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise.

"In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington, this eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and fourteen, and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

(Signed)

"WOODROW WILSON,

"By the President.

"WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,

"Secretary of State."

WOLFE WILL RUN AGAINST GRANT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Edward I. Wolfe, a former state senator, filed his nomination petition today as an opponent to Senator Edwin E. Grant, who defeated Wolfe two years ago in the nineteenth district. The contest will be staged in October, at a recall election, which had its incentive in Grant's redlight abatement act, that will appear as a referendum measure on the November ballot.

BRITISH DRIVE BACK GERMANS TEN MILES; FRENCH ARE GAINING

Losses Very Heavy on Both Sides—Fierce Combat on Russian and Austrian Border

LONDON, Sept. 9.—News has reached here that the North German Gazette of Berlin, the official organ of the government of Germany, publishes a statement that Emperor William has sent an important message to President Wilson.

Official reports from both Paris and London indicate successful movements, at least for the time being, by the allied armies against the Germans. London reports that the British have pushed the opposing forces back ten miles and that the allies are gaining ground along the line of the Ourcq and Petit Morin rivers.

Wounded soldiers who have reached Paris tell of the severity of the fighting in the Champagne country and report heavy losses.

With hundreds of thousands of men engaged on both sides, the battle now in full swing to the east of Paris, promises to be the most important of the campaign up to the present.

In reply to a request by the Germans for an armistice of twenty-four hours to bury the dead and care for the wounded, the French authorities are reported to have sent this message: "We grant you that time to get out of France."

The Russian troops are still engaged in fierce combats with the Austrian forces in the Rawa district, Russian Poland. Fighting is almost continuous, and the outcome in this region has not been determined.

France announces that it is sending reserves to Morocco to release regulars now there for service with the army in France.

Christabel Pankhurst, the militant leader, has ranged herself on the side of the prime minister in the present critical condition of the country. She says the militant women are ready to take their places to serve the nation in any way deemed most advisable.

British Summary of Successes Won Yesterday

LONDON, Sept. 8, 11:54 p. m.—The British official press bureau issued the following announcement tonight:

"The general position continues satisfactory. The allies are gaining ground on their left all along the line of the Ourcq and Petit Morin rivers. The British have driven the enemy back ten miles."

"Fighting has been in progress further to the right along the line which includes Montmirail and Sompuis, neither side gaining advantage.

"Further to the right again, from Vitry-le-Francois to Sermaizeles-Bains, the enemy has been pressed back in the direction of Rheims.

"At Luneville an attack by the Germans has been repulsed.

"Pressure against the enemy continues all along the allied fronts. The British force has been engaged all day but the enemy opposed to it, after stubborn resistance, retired and is now crossing to the North of the Marne.

"The Fifth French army has advanced with equal success and reports many captures.

"The sixth French army, on the Ourcq, has been heavily engaged but here also the enemy has been driven back.

"The German army has suffered severely along the whole line, the advance having been resolutely pushed home.

"The British force has again sustained some casualties, but the number is small in relation to the nature of the fighting.

"The result of the two days operations up to the present is very satisfactory."

TELLS OF FIGHT OFF AFRICA

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The German ship Madgeburg, a witness of the naval engagement between the British cruiser Highflyer and the German converted cruiser Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, off the west coast of Africa, on August 26, steamed into this port today. According to her captain, S. Orgel, the Madgeburg herself was struck by one of the Highflyer's shells after being intercepted while supplying coal to the German cruiser.

Captain Orgel asserted that the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was attacked while at anchor in Spanish waters, neutral territory, without steam up. He said it was reported several persons on the Highflyer were killed.

Captain Orgel's story of his ship's experience during the encounter told tonight, sets forth that when the Highflyer came upon the Kaiser Wilhelm, the German had on board 100 Britons, prisoners taken from British prisons. Captain Orgel said the Kaiser Wilhelm transferred these prisoners to another German coaling vessel, the Arabus, lying nearby.

"The English gave the captain no thanks for this action," commented the Madgeburg's master.

The Madgeburg left Gothenburg, Germany, on July 18, for Australia. Putting in at Las Palmas, Canary Islands, on August 5, Captain Orgel received orders, he said, to deliver some of his coal to the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse at the south end of the Bay of Ido de Oro, on the African coast.

On Coast of Spain.

"This part of the coast belongs to Spain, Captain Orgel said. On August 26, at 11:30 a. m., an English cruiser was sighted, which began to signal the Wilhelm.

"The commander of the German auxiliary cruiser informed me that the English cruiser ordered him to surrender his ship; otherwise he would open fire. As far as I know, the German commander replied to the English cruiser as follows:

"'We Germans do not surrender.

"Captain Reymann, the commander of the Wilhelm, thereupon informed me that the English cruiser would soon open fire and that he therefore advised me to weigh anchor and steam out of the firing line.

"The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse herself could not leave her anchorage as she could not get up sufficient steam to move within two hours. It would have required eight hours to have got on a full head of steam. The reason the vessel had no steam was because she was in neutral waters.

Strikes Forecastle.

"While I still was engaged in weighing anchor, the English cruiser began to fire, although the Madgeburg lay directly in the firing line between the Wilhelm and the British cruiser. The English shells fell to the right and left of us, but short of their mark. Finally one shell took effect in the forecastle of the Madgeburg and caused great damage. Happily, no member of the crew was at that time in the forecastle.

"The Wilhelm immediately replied to the fire of the English cruiser with her three available guns. It was said that the English cruiser was struck several times and that several persons on board were killed.

"I myself took the Madgeburg under full steam southward and soon lost sight of both vessels. When we saw the Wilhelm last, she was listed heavily to port. I had the impression that she was sinking."

QUARTER MILLION RUSSIANS LANDED

ROME, Sept. 8, via London, 12:45 a. m.—According to the Rome Tribuna there is in France today a total of 250,000 Russian troops. This newspaper attributes Emperor William's presence at Metz to this concentration of the Russians.

The steamer Mauretania, which reached New York September 3, brought first reports to this country of an extensive landing of Russian troops at French ports. The strict British censorship prevented the transmission of this intelligence by cable, and for this reason the news had to come by word of mouth and by mail.

Letters from London dated August 27, corroborated the reports of the Mauretania passengers. From these two sources it was gathered that England had placed more than 80,000 Russian troops in France by means of transports sent north of the Scandinavian peninsula to Archangel, where the Russians embarked. The movement was surrounded with the greatest secrecy. According to one version the Russians were landed from the transports direct at Belgian or French ports. Another said that they had disembarked at Aberdeen, Scotland, thence taken on special trains across England, and later conveyed by ship to Ostend.

It was pointed out at this time that if this movement could be accomplished successfully once, there was no reason why it could not be repeated and that a Russian force much in excess of 80,000 men might well be landed in France by this northern route.

RUSSIANS MUST PAY HIGHER TAX

PETROGRAD, Sept. 8, via London, 5:20 p. m.—In order to increase the revenues of the empire, the rate of taxation on many commodities has been raised. These include mail, matches, cardboard (playing cards), cigarets, cigaret papers, etc.

A vast collection of war trophies taken from the Austrian armies in Galicia, including cannon, flags and rapid fire guns, has reached Moscow and is being exhibited to the public on especially built platforms.

BRITISH DETAIN SPANISH STEAMER

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 8. — Sixty-eight passengers of the Spanish mail steamship Montserrat, bound from New York for Genoa and brought into this port by the British cruiser Glory, which met and halted her at sea, have been detained by the military authorities here in the belief that they are German army reservists trying to return home to join the colors.

The Glory encountered the Montserrat early yesterday, signalled her to heave-to, and sent a detachment on board the liner which gave ground for belief that German reservists were on board. The Glory gave orders for the Montserrat to proceed for Halifax, where the two vessels arrived late today.

The Montserrat was turned over on arrival to the military officials here and it was directed that a prize crew from the H. M. S. Lancaster take charge of the Spaniard. The baggage of the suspects will be landed tomorrow and will be thoroughly inspected.

It is not expected the Montserrat will be detained longer than non tomorrow. Captain Pablco of the liner will lodge a formal protest with the local authorities chiefly, it is believed, to protect his ship from legal action by the seized passengers, who tonight were locked behind the massive stone walls of the military prison on Melville Island.

WAR VERSES OF TENNYSON'S FOUND

LONDON, Sept. 8, 4:55 a. m.—Lord Tennyson, son of the poet, at a patriotic meeting last night quoted the following hitherto unpublished poem of his father:

"O who is he, the simple fool,
Who says that wars are over,
"While bloody protest flashes there
"Across the Straits of Dover?
"Are you ready, Britons all,
"To answer yes with Thunder?
"Arm! Arm! Arm!

"Nine hundred thousand slaves in arms
"They seek to bring us under—
"But England lives and still will live—
"For we'll crush the despot yonder—
"Are you ready, Britons all,
"To answer foes with thunder?
"Arm! Arm! Arm!" "

May Export Medicine

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Representative Metz received advices from Germany today that following the raising of the export embargo on dye stuffs via Rotterdam, the embargo also has been raised on medicinal products with the exception of chloroform, carbolic acid, serums and a celebrated proprietary blood specific. The State Department is being urged to ask for free export of the latter for the benefit of many persons in this country under treatment.

Occupation of Rheims.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 11:07 p. m. — A Central News dispatch concerning the occupation of Rheims, coming by way of Amsterdam, says:

"The Germans were in doubt whether the town had been evacuated and a patrol first entered the town. The Mayor was held hostage for the safety of the German troops. The following day the main German forces advanced to the town with their bands playing."

Indian Officer Wounded.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 8:10 p. m.—That the Indian forces of the British army are taking an active part in the operation in France is indicated by the casualty lists. Among the names of the wounded made public is that of Captain F. W. Hunt, 19th Lancers, (Fane's Horse Indian army).

Must Have Passports.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 7:45 p. m.—The British government is adopting stringent regulations in order to keep out of England alien enemies, who heretofore have been permitted to land under the guise of Americans, whose citizenship was attested by consular certificates granted on the continent.

After September 14, consular certificates will not be accepted as proof of the American citizenship of those arriving from the continent. These persons will not be permitted to land unless they are provided with passports.

This measure has been advocated by the American Relief committee, which frequently has been victimized by fraudulent claims of American citizenship.

Battle of Creil.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 4:35 a. m.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Mantes, thirty miles northwest of Paris says:

"The battle of Creil, fought on Wednesday and ensuing days, was intended to mask the new German movement to break through the lines of French forces ranged northeasterly through Rheims.

"I myself was a witness of the continual pouring eastwards and northwards of reinforcements to build up and strengthen the rampart of the allies that was to check the German torrent. It became clear, I suppose, to the German general staff, that, just when they were within reach of their objective, Paris, the strength opposed to theirs was more than their fatigued and shaken men could penetrate within any period that would suit the solving, in addition, of the Russian problem. They therefore wheeled suddenly as though in desperation, in an effort to destroy first that part of the French strength."

HUGHES LEADS IN ARIZONA FIGHT

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 8—Scattering returns in the state-wide primary show Dr. H. A. Hughes to be leading Governor George W. P. Hunt; Marcus A. Smith, Democrat, leading for United States senator; Wiley Jones, Democrat, for attorney general; and L. D. Orme, Democrat, for state auditor.

Heavy voting is reported all over the state, due to the bitter contests among Democrats for the leading offices from governor down.

Reports indicate that both Progressives and Republicans are voting with the Democrats under the easy primary law. All returns available indicate that the Progressives are leading the Republicans, in neither of these parties are there any contests.

Definite results will be late because of the length of the ballot, 276 names appearing on it.

OMAHA CONVENTION.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8—The annual convention of the United Association of Post Office clerks, which is being held here this week, got its business well under way today. Yesterday was devoted to entertainment which ended with the conferring of knighthood upon the three hundred delegates by King Ak-Sar-Ben XX, at the "den."

NAME PRIMER OF EUROPEAN WAR

The National Geographic Society has prepared the following facts concerning places that are figuring prominently in the news of the military operations of the European war:

St. Quentin — A city of northern France, 120 miles from Liege and 80 miles from Paris. It has a population of about 55,000 and stands on the right bank of the Somme river, at its junction which connects that river with the Scheldt and the Oise. The city is built on a slope with a southern exposure, and is the center of an industrial district which manufactures cotton and woolen fabrics, principally pique and window curtains. It also carries on spinning and preliminary processes, bleaching and finishing. Machine and hand-made embroidery is produced in large quantities and there are extensive establishments producing iron goods and machinery. St. Quentin dates back to ancient times, and, in the early history of Europe was the cross-roads of five military roads. It has had a long war history. During the Franco-Prussian war it repulsed the German attack at one time, and at another was the center of the great battle between the German forces under General von Goeben and the French under Gen. Faibherbe, the French being defeated.

Oder River — One of the most important rivers of Germany, rising in Austria-Hungary and flowing northwest through Breslau, Frankfurt and Settin to the Baltic Sea. At its nearest point, it is 35 miles from the heart of Berlin, to the northeast. About 480 miles of its length are navigable for barges. The Oder is heavily fortified in its northern reaches and is regarded as the point of final stand of the German army in case of an attack upon Berlin from the east.

Posen — Capital of the province of Posen, Prussia, situated in a wide and sandy plain at the confluence of the Cybina and the Warthe Rivers, 150 miles east of Berlin and 35 miles from the Russian Poland frontier. The city lies at the center of a network of railroads connecting it with Berlin, Breslau, Thorn, Kreuzburg und Schneidemuhl. Its population in the 16th century reached 80,000, but sank to 12,000 in the 18th century. Today, it has approximately 150,000 inhabitants. The inner line of fortifications was removed in 1902 and the city has been completely modernized. Posen is the headquarters of the 5th army corps and, in times of peace, has a garrison of 5000 men. The manufacturing of machinery, spirits, furniture, sugar and beer are its principal industries.

Vistula River—One of the chief rivers of Europe, rising in Austria, flowing through Russian Poland, by way of Warsaw, and crossing West Prussia from south to north, and having its mouth in the Gulf of Danzig. At Thorn, where it crosses the Russian-German frontier, there are heavy fortifications, as there are at many other points from there to the gulf.

Bromberg—A city in northern Germany, in the province of Posen, seven miles west of the Vistula river and the west Prussian boundary. It is located on the Bromberg canal, which connects the Brahe and the Netze rivers and thus establishes communication between the Vistula, the Oder and the Elbe. The population of Bromberg is about 60,000. Its industries are principally iron works, machine shops, paper factories and flour mills.

Bromberg holds an important strategic position, being one of the defenses along the Vistula river from the frontier town of Thorn to the Gulf of Danzig. It was Polish prior to 1307, when it was taken by the Germans. It was re-taken by the Poles in 1343, and during the centuries that followed it suffered so much from war and pestilence that in 1772, when the Germans again took possession of it, its population had fallen to less than 600 inhabitants. Later it was transferred to the duchy of Warsaw, where it remained until occupied by the Russians in 1813. Two years later it was restored to Prussia.

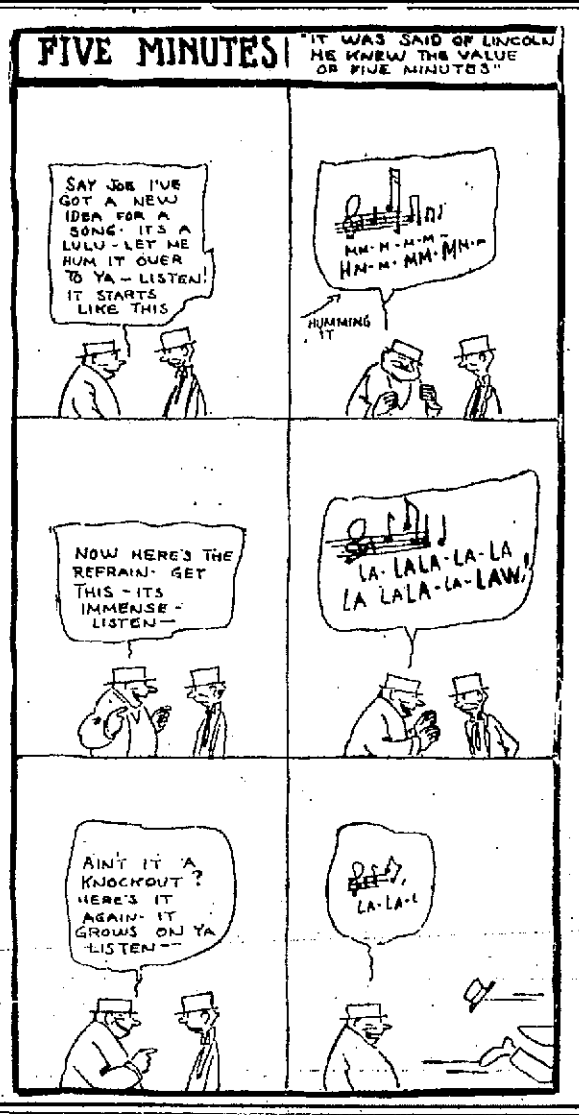

Boulogne — A fortified seaport of northern France, 26 miles from Folkestone, England. It is situated on the shore of the English channel and has a population of about 35,000. The harbor of Boulogne is formed by the mouth of the Laine river. It has extensive docks and large inner port. The annual value of exports from Boulogne approximates $80,000,000, and of the imports, $40,000,000. Its fisheries annually produce $5,000,000 worth of fish. Boulogne has had a long military history. It is believed to have been the place where Julius Caesar assembled his fleet. Henry VIII took the town by seige in 1544, but it was restored to France in 1550.

Calais — An important port on the north coast of France, and only 22 miles across the Strait from Dover, England. Dover, in turn, is only 65 miles from London. Calais is 55 miles northwest of Lille. The population of the city is about 65,000. Formerly Calais was a celebrated fortress. It is now defended by four forts, none of which is of modern construction. It also has a citadel, built 350 years ago, and a few modern batteries. The old town stands on an island, hemmed in by the canal and the harbor basin, which divide it from the extensive manufacturing quarter of St. Pierre. The city is the principal port for the trans-continental passenger traffic with England, carried on by the Southeastern and Chatham and the Northern of France railways. The average number of passengers carried annually was upwards of 300,000 before the present war.

Koenigsberg — One of Germany's strongest fortified cities, with a population of about 250,000. The fortifications, begun in 1843, were not completed until 1905. They consist of an inner wall brought into connection with outlying fortifications and 12 detached forts. The protected position of the harbor makes Koenigsberg one of the important commercial cities of Germany. The industries consist of large printing works, locomotive works, machine shops, tar, sugar, cellulose, tobacco and cigar factories, and chemical works. Koenigsberg was occupied by the French in 1807. In 1813 the plan for resisting Napoleon's advance in Prussia was laid out there. During recent years, it has been connected with the Russian railway system through East-Prussia.

Osterode — An East Prussian town of about 15,000 inhabitants, seventy-five miles by rail northeast of Thorn and twenty miles west of Allenstein, on Lake Drewenz, and at the junction of lines to Memel, Elbing and Schonsee. It is thirty-three miles north of the Russian Paland boundary. Osterode has a castle built by the Teutonic knights in 1270. The manufactures are machinery, beer, spirits and bricks.

Marienberg — A town in West Prussia, a few miles east of the Vistula river and twenty miles south of the Gulf of Danzig. It is situated on a fertile plain on the right bank of the Nogat, a tributary of the Vistula, and has a population of about 15,000. It contains large chemical wool cleaning works and is the seat of important horse, cattle and wool markets. For a century and a half it was the residence of the grand masters of the Teutonic Order, a religious organization which controlled that region. On the decline of that order in the middle of the fifteenth century, their castle passed into the hands of the Poles. It was allowed to fall into decay by them, but has been restored by the Germans, and is now one of the most important secular buildings dating from the Middle Ages.

GOOD OLD LIGHTS ON BROADWAY

Upon a street in Mayfair
He stands in mute appeal
He says, "I'd gladly pay fare,
But cannot make a deal
And as I plead, 'Now play fair!'
There gleam across the foam
The dear old lights of Broadway,
That fashion-folly-fraud way—
That great, glad glow of Broadway
And home, sweet home

"Unknown, or else forgotten,
I walk the London street
I stroll the Row that's Rotten;
I dwadle down by Fleet
With mouth as dry as cotton,
I cry to St Paul's dome,
'O, dear old lights of Broadway,
That lovely, lobster-clawed way!
O radiance of Broadway
And home, sweet home!

A person sad and weary
Stood in the Rue du Peuf,
Remarking, "I am weary
Of traveling on hoof
I'd even use the Erie
Or some aerdome
If I could look on Broadway,
That Mamie-Minnie-Maud way—
That gladsome, glaring Broadway
And home, sweet home."

And in the Berlin center
Upon a something Strass,
Men see a specter enter—
A Yankee upper-class!
His cry outcrying Stentor,
Shoots through the Gothic gloam,
"Oh, take me back to Broadway—
Applaud-way and my-Gawd way!
I want the breath of Broadway
And home, sweet home!"

SHE TRIED

Mrs. Flint, a kind-hearted mistress, was much disturbed that Martha, her new maid, was obliged to sleep in a cold room on the top floor.

"Martha," said she, remembering the good old-fashioned custom in her girlhood, "it is going to be a very cold night, and I think you had better take a flat iron to bed with you."

"Yesm," the girl quietly assented.

When Martha announced breakfast the following morning the mistress asked;

"Well, Martha, how did you get along with the flat iron?"

Martha breathed a deep, reminiscent sigh.

"Well, ma'am, I got it 'most warm before morning."—Boston Advertiser.

NEED WIRE PROTECTION.

My fancy wanders far instray
To a benighted age,
To that side-tracked, forgotten day
When pantalettes and buckles gay
And hoopskirts were the rage.

Ah, me! I seem again to see
The damsels that I met
That is, they came as near to me
As guardian wires would let them be—
Not very near—and yet

That short aloofness was a charm
That magnetized my glance.
I could admire a rounded arm,
A well-turned ankle (where's the harm?)
And revel in the dance,

Without the marks of whitewashed chins
Left on my full-dress breast,
And minus bruises on my shins
From sharp French heels, whose myriad sins
My toes would all attest.

Today the tango and the dip,
The maxixe and, the wave—
Without a warning wire to trip—
Means mixing in too close a grip.
For girls will not behave!

MAN PROWLS AMONG 70 GIRLS

Seventy young women, roomers at the Y. W. C. A. in this city were thrown into a panic early this morning when the first man who has ever been above the office floor since it was opened two years ago appeared suddenly in the third floor hallway, having forced entrance through a cellar window.

Most of the girls were asleep as was the matron, but when a late stayer-up attempted to cross from her room to another opposite her she came face to face with the stranger, and screamed. In the confusion the intruder escaped, unrecognized.—Philadelphia Record

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal, amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has given them. This can best be accomplished by eating Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by San Joaquin Drug Co., Webster Bros. Inc., Patterson Dick Pharmacy and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

OTIS TESTIFIES OF TIMES TRAGEDY

Los Angeles Newspaper Owner Before Federal Commission

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Organized labor's differences with the Los Angeles Times, which began a quarter of a century ago, today occupied the attention of the Federal Industrial Relations commission.

Harrison Grey Otis, publisher of The Times, first testified briefly before the commission, later resumed the stand and read a lengthy statement and finally submitted to cross-examination at the hands of Commissioner Garretson, one of the members of the body appointed to represent organized labor. Charles Scott, an organizer for the International Typographical union, told labor's side of the story.

Testimony of the two witnesses regarding circumstances surrounding the open break between The Times and its union workmen differed materially. Otis declared a strike was called on his office, while Scott insisted that union employes were locked out after they had made a demand for increased wages. Scott also declared that the unions were tricked into calling off a boycott on merchants who advertised in The Times in the belief that a settlement was about to be effected.

"We do not consider that the affair ever has been settled," he said, "and we still stand ready to meet and treat with the Times."

Destruction of Times.

Only once did Otis refer to the dynamiting of The Times building, and he prefaced that statement by the remark that he would pass over the incident quickly, as it was a "sensitive subject." He was detailing the growth of the paper with the intention of showing that it had prospered under the employment of non-union labor, and the cost of the new Times building entered into his testimony.

"The rainy day, or more properly, the fiery day, came as already related," he said, "when the first Times building was destroyed, through the combined and wicked agencies of union labor conspiracy, dynamite and fire, with an aggregate loss of more than half a million dollars, and, saddest of all, the wiping out of twenty-one precious human lives—the lives of loyal and brave non-union—workmen who manfully stood fast at their posts during the perilous hours of death and destruction."

The publisher insisted that he did not object to labor organizing, but he was opposed to the closed shop.

"Abolish labor union monopoly, discrimination and violence, the denial of employment to all non-union workmen and other flagrant evils of the dictatorial closed shop," he said, "and there will result work for all at fair wages; accelerated production and increased personal comfort will speedily follow, succeeded by the disappearance of the soup kitchen and elimination of 'industrial unrest'."

Organization Not Essential

"Organized labor," he continued, "is not essential to the industries and could not make headway against free, unorganized labor, were it not bolstered up by monopoly, force and proscription, frequently accompanied by violence and outright lawlessness."

Scott took exception to Otis' reference to his plant as an "open shop" and also his statement that the wages he paid his typesetters were above the union scale. The Times office is a non-union shop and does not pay as much as unionized shops, he insisted.

It developed that as a young man, Otis was a union printer, and Commissioner O'Connell wanted to know why he joined a union.

"It was the folly of youth, as near as I can recollect," Otis replied.

F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the local Merchants and Manufacturers association, was the only other witness heard today.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexion will be wise in immediately taking up the mercolized wax treatment. Weather-beaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the despoiled cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scarf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no injury is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astringent-lotic lotion at this season is highly advisable: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pt. Used as a face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

HOW TO TEST YOUR EYES

A SIMPLE TEST FOR NORMAL EY SIGHT.

An eye test that costs but fly cents and is worth the price aside from the value of the test is a moving picture show. If you can sit through an average program without your eyes aching or feeling dry and tired and without feeling an inclination to open and close them frequently, and if an hour later, or the next morning, your eyes feel perfectly smooth and easy, there is nothing much the matter with them. If, however, after such a program your vision is dim, your eyes feel dry or irritated or burn or itch or ache or feel overworked, try this prescription.

Optona 5 Grains (1 tablet).
Water 2 ounces.

Dissolve the tablet in the 2 ounces of water and use as an eye wash from two to four times a day. This application relieves the tired feeling, seems to lessen the stress or strain and makes your eyes feel smooth and fine. It is a boon after an evening at the moving pictures or after a hard day's work where you have used the eyes incessantly. Irritation, inflammation and many minor eye troubles are greatly benefited and sometimes wholly cured by the use of this prescription. If you wear glasses, try it. You may, to your own surprise, find that you do not need them. Glasses bought at cheap stores without scientific adjustment to the eyes, or glasses worn too long without readjustment are oftentimes not only absolutely unnecessary, but positively injurious. The use of this prescription may give you a favorable opportunity to judge whether or not you need glasses. It is a simple home remedy that has been used by hundreds of thousands, and among its users many regard it as an indispensable part of their daily toilet.

ROOSEVELT CONTINUES LOUISIANA SPEECHES

NEW IBERIA, La., Sept. 8.—Theodore Roosevelt delivered three addresses in the Third Louisiana congressional district today. The first was at Franklin, the second at Jeanerette and the last one here.

Two miles from New Iberia he left the automobile in which he had ridden from Franklin and mounted a horse and led a large procession of horsemen into the town.

The former President dwelt at length in all his addresses on what he termed inequalities of the new tariff, particularly as it affected sugar. He also reiterated previous statements of Progressive principles.

NEUTRALITY QUESTION DELAYS HOSPITAL SHIP

The Red Cross to Have Only Americans and Spanish Aboard

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The Red Cross, the American ship of mercy which will carry relief to the wounded on European battlefields, will sail from this port, probably Thursday morning, it was announced tonight. Her crew will be made up of Americans or Spaniards—men of neutral nations.

The Red Cross was to have begun her voyage today, but those employed on board included a number of Germans and her departure was delayed after the British and French persons of that nationality being among her crew.

"The activity of the press has indirectly caused delay," Miss Boardman said. "As soon as it was learned that we had accepted the offer made by the Hamburg-American line, of their steamship, Hamburg, several newspaper began to publish conjectures as to the possible violation of neutrality.

"I have just seen the French consul-general and do not expect any trouble, other than a slight delay. We are not planning to dock at any French port. The ship will go first to Falmouth, England, and will then go over to Brest in France. She will only anchor in the harbor there and unload her supplies without docking. I can see no case of violation of neutrality, even with Germans on board, as long as the ship merely anchors in the stream."

TWO CANDIDATES FOR N. Y. SENATOR

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 8.—A petition naming James W. Gerard, ambassador to Germany, as a Democratic candidate for nomination as United States senator, was filed today with the secretary of state.

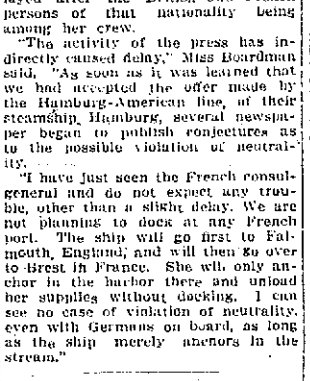

Thomas B. McCarthy, former secretary to Gerard, who filed it, said Gerard had not been consulted and no communication had been received from him indicating whether he would accept the nomination.

A petition designating Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, as a Democratic candidate for the nomination of United States senator, was also filed tonight. It contained 8,800 signatures.

OBREGON SIDES WITH VILLA

Will Probably Force Carranza Into Acting With Them

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. — The basis for the recent assertion of President Wilson that he believed Carranza and Villa would co-operate in restoring constitutional government in Mexico, was revealed today when it became known that General Obregon, personal friend of General Carranza, had signed the proposals of General Villa for an electoral program.

General Villa's proposals were laid before Paul Fuller, personal representative of President Wilson, at a recent conference in Chihuahua. The President later told callers the proposals did not appear unreasonable. Mr. Fuller had an interview with General Carranza in Mexico City today and it was reported that the first chief also indicated his assent to the program mapped out by Villa, which is as follows:

That a convention of the delegates of the Constitutionalist army be called to arrange the date of the election for congress, president and vice-president.

That no military man be a candidate for president or vice-president, or governor of any state.

That a civilian take charge of the provisional government to hold elections.

That a general amnesty be declared except as to those who committed the crime or participated in the assassination of Madero and Suarez.

That the officers of the old federal army who can show clean records shall be taken into the new national army.

That all reforms shall be put through in an energetic manner, but on a legal and constitutional basis.

Will Carranza Run

General Carranza already has complied with the first proposal by calling a general convention for October 1, to select a provisional president. Under the Mexican constitution, the provisional president cannot be a candidate in elections conducted under his administration. General Carranza, therefore, if desirous of becoming provisional president, will not be in office longer than the period necessary to conduct an election. If he resigns as first chief in favor of the new provisional president, he may enter the presidential race as his friends claim he is not a "military man," in the accepted sense in Mexico even though he has held the title of "general" in the Constitutionalist army.

The belief prevails here that Carranza will resign in favor of a civilian, as proposed by Villa, and that he then will wage an active political campaign for the presidency. It is fully expected that Villa will not support Carranza at the polls, but he has not revealed the identity of his candidate.

It is generally understood here that while formal negotiation may be extended to the new provisional president, American forces will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until the election for permanent president is actually held.

Denial From Angeles

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 8.—General Villa today sent the following message to The Associated Press from Chihuahua City:

"I pronounce as inexact the press reports referring to a new revolution provoked by General Felipe Angeles. That general is engaged at this time in commissions for this division, and soon will return to this city, where he left his family and friends, and is esteemed by all his friends and companions in arms."

PLAN FOR PAYMENT OF EUROPE'S CLAIMS

Federal Reserve Board Considers—Decision Expected Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. — The Bankers' committee plan for meeting American obligations to Europe with gold payments, proposed to the Federal Reserve board last week, was taken up today by the board. It contemplates a gold fund contributed by national banks in reserve and central reserve cities of $150,000,000, of which $25,000,000 is to be made immediately available.

A decision may be reached by the board tomorrow after an examination of every possible result of its approval.

Following is the committee plan as made public tonight:

"That the banks of this country, especially located in reserve and central reserve cities, be requested to contribute to a gold fund of $50,000,000, of which $25,000,000 is to be immediately put into the depository of the Bank of England in Canada, for which a participation deposit receipt will be furnished to each contributing bank. The remainder of the contributed amounts to be subject to call by the New York committee through the local committees of the respective cities, and to be paid for in New York exchange.

"Said New York committee to be appointed by the New York Clearing House association, and said local committees to be appointed by the clearing house associations of the respective contributing cities. The committee appointed by the New York Clearing House Association to be charged with the duty of handling the said fund, of fixing the price at which foreign exchange is to be bought and sold and is to make regulation from time to time upon the respective contributing cities through the local committees thereof. Said local committees shall have supervision in the respective cities of the shipments and general withdrawals of gold.

"The committee recommends that the Federal Reserve Board take steps to ascertain the amount of gold that will be contributed by the banks in the respective cities and that it use its influence to have the said banks contribute their proper pro-rata."

FIRE DESTROYS SCHOOL BUILDING

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Kearney Heights school house, Collins near Fresno street, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. The building had formerly been used as a real estate office but was converted into a school house a few years ago. It was a small frame building of three rooms.

W. A. CLARK IN LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 7, 11:27 p. m.—Former United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, with his two daughters, arrived here tonight from Paris. They made the trip across the channel on the United States cruiser Tennessee.

CITIES IN WAR FRONT

No. 4.

BORDEAUX—A city of southwestern France, 359 miles south of southwest of Paris, on the Gironde river, sixty miles from the sea, and 125 miles from the Spanish frontier. In 1911, the city had a population of 261,675. Under the Roman Empire, Bordeaux became a flourishing commercial city, and the capital of Aquitania Secunda. It belonged to the English kings from 1241 to 1453, when it was taken by Charles VII, of France. It was the headquarters of the Girondists during the Revolution, and during the Reign of Terror suffered severely. In 1870 the French government was transferred to Bordeaux from Tours (to which it had been moved from Paris) on the approach of the Germans to Tours. The trade of Bordeaux, the fourth port of France, is chiefly carried on by sea. From 1,000 to 1,200 vessels can be accommodated in the harbor. The most important industry is shipbuilding and refitting. Iron-clads and torpedo-boats, as well as merchant vessels are constructed. The city is the center of trade in "Bordeaux" wines. Other principal exports are brandy, hides and skins, sugar, rice, woolen and cotton goods, salt fish, chemicals, oil-cake, plywood, fruit, potatoes and other vegetables. There are also flour mills, sugar refineries, chemical works, machine shops and potteries.

AMIENS—A city of northern France, capital of the department of Somme, on the left bank of the Somme, eighty-one miles north of Paris by rail and thirty-five miles from the English Channel. Its population is approximately 85,000. The city was once a place of great strength, but boulevards, bordered by handsome residences, have replaced the ramparts which surrounded it. The famous treaty between Great Britain, France, Spain and Holland, which took its name from Amiens, was signed there on March 23, 1802. During the war between France and Germany, Amiens, after an important action, fell into the hands of Prussians on November 28, 1870. Textile industries, for which Amiens has been celebrated since the Middle Ages, include manufactures of velvet, cotton, wool, silk, hemp and flax-spinning, and the weaving of hosiery and a variety of mixed fabrics. Machinery, chemicals, packing paper, and sugar are also manufactured. Amiens occupies the site of the ancient Samarobriva, capital of the Ambiani, from whom it probably derives its name.

PERONNE—A town of northern France on the right bank of the Somme, at its confluence with the Cologne, thirty-five miles east by north of Amiens by rail. In 1536 Charles V besieged Peronne but without success. In its defense a woman called Marie Fonze greatly distinguished herself, and a statue of her stands in the town. Peronne's greatest misfortunes occurred during the Franco-German war, when it was invested and bombarded from December 28, 1870, to January 9, 1871, upon which date, on account of the sufferings of the civil population, among whom smallpox had broken out, it was compelled to capitulate. Its population approximates 5,000.

LAON—A town of northern France, eighty-seven miles northeast of Paris, with a population of about 11,000. It is situated on an isolated ridge which rises some 320 feet above the surrounding plain and the little river of Ardon. From the railway station a straight staircase of several hundred steps leads to the gate of the town, and all the roads connecting Laon with the surrounding districts are cut in zigzags on the steep slopes. Laon forms, with La Fere and Reims, a triangle of important fortresses. Its fortifications consist of an inner line of works on the eminence of Laon itself, and two groups of detached forts, one some two and a half miles southeast about the village of Bruyeres, the other about three miles west of southwest, near Laniscourt. In 1814 Napoleon tried in vain to dislodge Blucher from Laon. In 1870 an engineer blew up the powder magazine of the citadel as the German troops were entering the town.

BETHEL—A town of northern France, thirty-one miles southwest of Mezieres by rail and twenty-three miles northwest of Reims, on the right bank of the Aisne and the Ardennes canal. Wool spinning, the weaving of light woolen fabrics, and the manufacture of farm implements are the principal industries. The town is of Roman origin. Its population is approximately 6,000.

LA FERE—A fortified French town, with about 6,000 inhabitants, on the Oise river, thirteen miles west of south of St. Quentin, an equal distance from Laon, and sixty-five miles northeast of Paris. It was bombarded and taken by the Germans in 1870. A school of artillery founded in 1719 is located here. An art collection of five hundred paintings, a few of which are of great value and several of which were injured by the bombardment, is owned by the town.

DANZIG—A strong maritime fortress and seaport, the capital of West Prussia, on the western bank of the Vistula, 253 miles northeast of Berlin by rail. Its population is close to 175,000. The strong fortifications which, with ramparts, bastions and watered ditches, formerly entirely surrounded the city, were removed on the north and west sides in 1895-1896. The remainder of the massive defenses remain, with twenty bastions. In the hands of the military authorities, the machinery for flooding the surrounding country on the eastern side have been modernized. The western side is defended by a cordon of forts crowning the hills. There are large establishments for the manufacture of arms and artillery. Vessels of the largest size are built in the Danzig shipyards. The city suffered severely through various wars in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. In 1807 it was captured by the French, and Napoleon declared it a free town. It was given back to Prussia in 1814.

THORN—A fortress town of West Prussia, on the Vistula, twelve miles from the Russian frontier. Its position commanding the passage of the Vistula makes it a point of strategic importance; it was strongly fortified in 1818, and in 1878 was converted into a fortress of the first class. The defensive works consist of a circle of thirteen outlying forts, about two and a half miles from the center of town. Its population is close to 50,000. Thorn carries on an active trade in grain, timber, wine, groceries and minerals. It is famous for its ginger-bread, a kind of gingerbread.

GRAUDENZ—A town in West Prussia on the right bank of the Vistula, thirty-seven miles north by northeast of Thorn and thirty miles from Russian Poland. It is an important place in the system of German fortifications, and has a garrison of considerable size. Its fortress, which since 1573 has been used as a barracks and military depot, and as a prison, is situated on a steep eminence about one and a half miles north of the town, and outside its walls. It was completed by Frederick the Great in 1776 and was rendered famous through its defense by Courbiere against the French in 1807. Graudenz is a place of considerable manufacturing activities. From 1658 to 1759 it was held by Sweden, and in 1772 it came into the possession of Prussia. It has a population of about 40,000.

INCIDENTS OF BRITISH FIGHTING

LONDON, Sept. 8, 2:12 p. m.—Scattered and sometimes conflicting news dispatches poured into London today, all going to make up a more or less accurate picture of what is taking place in the various theaters of war.

A dispatch to The Chronicle from Rotterdam says a large number of refugees have reached Terneuzen from Saint Nicholas, a town of Belgium in East Flanders, twenty miles northeast of Ghent.

Another incident is reported regarding the Duke of Westminster, who was recently mentioned as among those whose bravery on the field of action had attracted attention. The Duke, it is said, is serving as aide-de-camp to Field Marshal Sir John French. He encountered a patrol of Uhlans while he was carrying orders by automobile. He put on the utmost speed, but numerous shots from the Germans struck the machine and one mortally wounded his companion, an officer. The latter half rose, attempting to salute and fell back dead. The Duke, seeing his companion collapse, arose in the car saluted the dying man and said: "Good bye, boy."

College Men Enlist

The universities and colleges are contributing their share of men for the war. The vice-chancellor of Oxford University has recommended to the war office the names of 1,112 under-graduates for commissions in the army. Of these, 1,000 already have been commissioned, which gives one-third of the student body to the army, and more than that proportion of British subjects, because there are many foreigners among the undergraduates. All Souls' College has provided three officers.

Dr. W. J. Maloney, a professor at Fordham University, has accepted a lieutenancy in the British medical service and will be attached to the staff of the surgeon general. Dr. Maloney recently married Miss S. McKim of New York.

Levies on French Cities

The Boulogne correspondent of The Times says the Germans have demanded war contributions from French cities as follows:

Lille, $1,400,000; Amiens, $200,000; Armentieres, $100,000; Lens $140,000. He says the prefect of the Department of Du Nord has been imprisoned.

A Reuter's dispatch from Antwerp says the German aeroplane which flew over Ghent dropping two bombs yesterday, later descended at Ordegem. Its two officers had been wounded and they were brought to Antwerp.

DESCRIBE LINES IN EAST PRUSSIA

LONDON, Sept. 8, 7:47 p. m.—The Russian embassy at London has issued the following official statement:

"At the present moment the Russian front occupies the following position in East Prussia: In the north we occupy Tilsit (sixty miles northeast of Koenisberg.)

In the south we have approached the strongly fortified line of the River Deime. On the southern bank of the river Pregel, our lines go through Tapiau, Allenburg, Gerdauen and Angerberg. Cavalry detachments from this line have destroyed the stations at Korschen and Rastenburg. Most of the rolling stock was destroyed at the latter place.

"The line of the Mazur lakes is still in the hands of the enemy. To the west of these lakes, the Russian front extends from Johannisberg to Mlawa and Neshawa. On the left bank of the Vistula near Neshawa, an armored German train appeared and bombarded the town. It then left for Alexandrowo, on August 31.

"A further line runs through Kolo, Sieradz, Plotrkow and Radom, (all Russian towns) on the Vistula. Near Radom are concentrated fairly strong forces of the enemy. On August 31, they attempted an advance on Ivangorod, but failed.

"On the Galician frontier the rout of the Austrians becomes increasingly manifest. During our further advance into Galicia, 31 guns were captured. Our reverse of August 30 and 31 was exclusively of a local character without really important significance. The German reports concerning the number of prisoners and the importance of the German success have been enormously exaggerated.

"The feeling in Russia is absolutely calm and deeply patriotic. Rumors of outbreaks and disorders in different provinces are false."

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—Joseph Morrow, 73-year-old veteran of the Civil war, shot and killed his fourth wife late today and after watching beside her body for three hours, fired three shots into his own body, failing dead beside her. They had been married less than two months. Mrs. Morrow having nursed the third wife in her last illness this summer.

GRIDLEY, Sept. 8.—The Gridley, Butte county, rice carnival, the first exposition of rice agriculture ever held north of the Mason and Dixon line, closed today. It is estimated that the value of this year's rice crop in California will exceed $1,000,000. The cultivation of rice in California centers in Butte county, where 500,000 sacks have been produced this year.

OUR FIRST MONUMENT

In unveiling today the statue of Dr. Chester Rowell, Fresno will be placing the first of its permanent monuments. The past of this city is very short, but its future stretches out through the limitless ages, and through all those generations this monument shall stand, as a reminder that the first generation of this community had one man whose memory it desired prominently to hand down to its successors. Each succeeding generation will presumably add at least one such monument, and in the course of centuries, they may become very numerous. But this one will always remain the first; for all time it will stand as the earliest message which the founders of Fresno wished to transmit to the future.

It is therefore not merely an appropriate, but a very proud thing, that the first permanent expression of our civic ideals should be the likeness of a man whose greatness was not in accomplishments for himself, but in service to others. For a thousand years, every generation of children who shall be born in Fresno will grow up knowing that the oldest and most permanent tradition of their community is that of a life of simple service. A good physician, a good friend, a good citizen, who thought little of self and much of others who, when this community was young, lived his life into every other life in it and made that life better, who was the loving friend of the least and the humblest as well as the valued counselor of the wisest and the best—this is the man to whom, because he had already builded a monument more enduring than bronze, we erect this permanent memorial, to give form and substance to a tradition which in any case would never be forgotten.

LIMBURGER SAFE

The news of the capture of Lemberg by the Russian troops need cause no apprehension among free lunch habitues in America regarding the future of the cheese supply. The wellknown fragrant delicacy does not come from this Lemberg, but from another town of Limburg, which is still safely in peaceful territory. We shall soon have no more Pilsner beer, but the most savory of its concomitants will still be with us. Hitherto we have shown how German we were by washing down Holland-Dutch cheese with Austrian Bohemian beer. The Dutch part of our Germanism we may still retain, and the Bohemian part is well supplied from sources much nearer Fresno. Meantime, we may be reminded of one of the additional horrors of war, by reading the last news from Lemberg. General Ruszki, who took Lemberg, is reported as advancing to Przemysl. If the Russians will load their cannon with their superabundant consonants, they will have no need of grape and canister.

'OLD-FASHIONED WAY'

The San Francisco Chronicle suggests that "when the Republican convention meets it should be heard from in the good old-fashioned way." If this advice were to be taken, we should hear from the Republican convention the report of a sort of platform which used to be so common that people merely smiled with mild disgust, but which has now receded so far into the forgotten past that it would be greeted with mingled guffaws and groans. We should hear sonorous platitudes about the great, the grand and the glorious history of the great, the grand and the glorious G. O. P. But we should hear nothing whatever about concrete policies proposed in the actual government of California. We should see meaningless sops thrown to placate this, that or the other class vote and we should see nothing to define the actual attitude of the party toward the actual problems which, if elected, it must face. If that is really what the Chronicle wants, it can find plenty of models in its own old files. But we doubt if even the Chronicle, on rereading one of these platforms, would now have the face to advocate it, or to support it if adopted.

The Chronicle itself indicates that this is the case, because it does propose two planks, both definite and specific. The first plank is that the Republican party of California shall commit itself unequivocally to the Democratic doctrine of states' rights, and shall repudiate the entire policy of national conservation. This may not be a very wise plank, but it is at least a definite and positive one. The second plank is that the Republican party shall repudiate the action of the Republican party and shall oppose the nominees chosen by the vote of that party. The elected representatives of the Republican party, in convention assembled, shall declare that they and not the voters who elected them are the party, and that the action of those voters in electing these delegates is legitimate, but that these delegates shall not only oppose, but shall use all the organized forces of the party to defeat the other nominees chosen by the same voters at the same election.

Thus the Chronicle insists that the Republican party shall advocate an essentially Democratic doctrine, that it shall repudiate its own members, and their nominees, and that it shall pledge itself to the election of Democratic candidates for state offices wherever it can find them, and of independent candidates nominated by petition in those cases in which the Democratic candidates are not partisan enough Democrats to be entitled to partisan Republican support.

We are decidedly doubtful whether this sort of Democratic partisanship would quite come up to the "old-fashioned Republican standard" to which the Chronicle so frequently appeals.

INSULT THEMSELVES

Edward I. Wolfe, former state senator, has filed his petition as an opponent to Senator Edwin E. Grant in the nineteenth district in San Francisco, and the contest will be decided at a special recall election in October. This is the second attempt to recall Grant, and to substitute Wolfe in his place.

Both these recall elections are the most cynical insults to the moral standards of the people of San Francisco which have appeared in the course of recent politics. The only objection raised to Senator Grant is that he has stood too aggressively on the moral side of moral issues, and has thereby, according to the petitioners, misrepresented his constituents. His chief offense was the redlight abatement bill, which he introduced. According to the recall petitioners, this was so outrageous a misrepresentation of the moral standards of the nineteenth senatorial district that the senator introducing it ought to be discharged from his job. Senator Grant also voted for certain laws restricting the sale of liquor in the Exposition. It is probably just as well that these laws did not pass, inasmuch as the necessary restrictions have been imposed by the Exposition authorities themselves, and are much more likely to be made effective in this manner than in any other. But the animus of the recall petition is indignation that any San Francisco representative should take the temperance side of any temperance issue. Of these two charges, first that Senator Grant is opposed to prostitution, and second, that he is in favor of temperance, his opponents appeal to his constituents to recall him, and they present as the alternative the ablest, the most unscrupulous and the most effectively offensive of all the representatives of the old regime in San Francisco.

It may be taken quite for granted that the effort to recall Senator Grant will fail this time, as it did before. But the interesting thing is the impudence with which it is made, and especially the calm assurance with which responsible men will charge one of the best and highest grade districts in San Francisco with being on the immoral side of moral questions, and will appeal to the voters of that district to confirm this insulting judgment on themselves.

Of course the voters of the district do not deserve this judgment of themselves. We doubt if the voters of any district in San Francisco have so low a standard as that which is usually attributed to them by those who deal with them and flatter them. But it is a shocking and lamentable fact that nearly every politician in San Francisco of every party regards a strict attitude on moral questions as a political hoodoo and a loose attitude on these questions as a political asset in San Francisco. The people of San Francisco are not in bad as this, but there is something horrifying in the realization that their leaders could even mistakenly think them so.

NOBODY WANTS THEM

The prompt checking of the attempt to organize an M. M. & E. association in Fresno is evidently going to protect not merely Fresno, but the entire San Joaquin valley south of Stockton against the threatened industrial disturbances. Already newspapers in Merced and Bakersfield have warned the people of those towns of the consequences of any such movement, and it is obvious that the effort is forestalled before it begins. The Bakersfield Daily News, for instance, prints the following very definite editorial on the subject:

"This city has no welcome for delegates of M. M. & E.

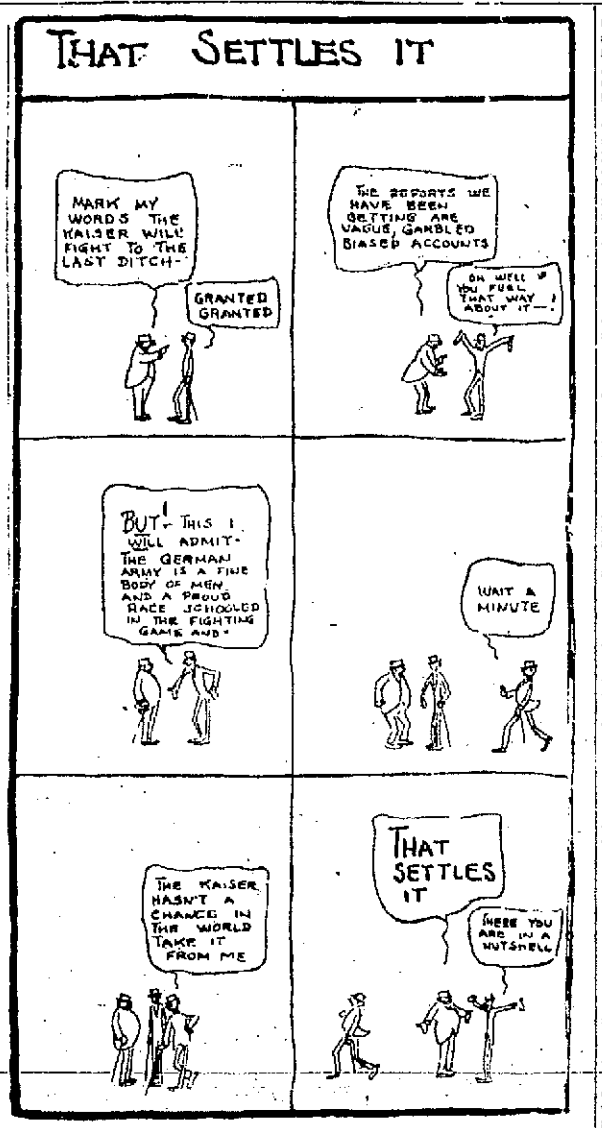

"Those walking delegates of the M. M. & E., an organization which has stirred up an industrial strife in Stockton that the city will not recover from for many years, are on their way south to foment further trouble. A few evenings ago, they launched a campaign in Fresno, a banquet being held in that place at which a number of hostile mouths were fired off serving as the opening guns in the destructive campaign contemplated. The walking delegates may be expected in Bakersfield at no distant date.

"Notice may as well be served at once, that Bakersfield will not stand for anything of the nature of the Stockton conflict. The M. M. & E. is not wanted. This town is not inviting and will not welcome the M. M. & E. or pestilence in any other form.

"If the walking delegates who have struck so deadly a blow at Stockton and are now moving upon Fresno, banquet here for the purpose of organizing a warfare upon the business of Bakersfield, THE NEWS will guarantee an open mass meeting in the open street with thousands present instead of a select and power-potted few, to protest against the proposition and to provide ways and means of preserving the present peace.

"Nothing like the M. M. & E. is coming to Bakersfield to disrupt the present relations between employers and workers and raise hell of trouble without meeting energetic opposition."

Both the Republican and Democratic campaign committees are put in the interesting position of repudiating the action of their constituents. The Republican and Democratic voters nominated certain candidates whom the Republican and Democratic committees refuse or omit to endorse. The last idea to penetrate the typical politician's head is the realization that "government by the people" really means what it says.

Soft Drinks

A soft drink is a fussy liquid made by mixing water with gas, ice cream, syrup, fruits, ginger, benzoate of soda and other enticing junk. It is called a soft drink because it is not relished by hard drinkers.

Those who have cultivated a taste for brandy, gin, fusel oil, aloes, fortified whiskey and other dissolvents of the digestive lining speak with scorn of the soft drink and make rude jokes about the gasified young man who insults his digestion with a glass of carbonated fancy work instead of lowering a liquid conflagration into his charred and devastated hold with noble carelessness. It does not take as much pluck to attack a glass of ice cream soda as it does to swallow six fingers of raging rye, and no man who has to attack an army and demolish it has ever screwed up his courage with chocolate nut sundaes. A man could spend all afternoon guzzling strawberry flips and cherryade and at the end of the time he would not have acquired nerve enough to lick a total stranger or even to borrow $5 of the bartender. Soft drinks are fluffy stuff and have not contributed much to the reckless romance of history.

Yet the sweet and yielding biteless soda has virtues of its own. They are chiefly negative. When it has entered the system of a trusting man it does not at once proceed to operate him as a fourteen-year-old boy runs an automobile. It does not heat his brain until he blows off a vain defiance and challenges a live wire to mortal combat, and it does not wander into his legs and tie them into weird designs on the public thoroughfare. It may lower his internal temperature until he combusts his meals with difficulty, but it does not make a danger signal of his nose and give him bats and buzzings in his aching belfry. When a man has absorbed three cold lemonades he may ache inside, but the children do not hide under the bed as he wearily totes his load home, while the destroyer of a fragrant egg phosphate does not advertise the fact by distributing samples of spoiled atmosphere to a street car load of people who can't get away from him.

"Soft drinks are fluffy stuff and have not contributed much to the reckless romance of history."

Soft drinks do not make iron constitutions, but neither do they produce the soft and frazzled head which is the great specialty of the hard drink.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

A worker in one of the mission settlements was speaking to some waterfront boys with reference to Roman history. He touched upon the doings of Nero, giving a vivid picture of the cruelty of the Emperor. Then he began to ask a few questions.

"Boys, what do you think of Nero?"

Silence, broken only by an uneasy shifting of the lads in their seats.

"Well, Clancy," said the lecturer, making an individual appeal, "what do you think of Nero? Would you say he was a good man? Would you like to know him?"

Clancy hesitated. Finally, after again being urged to reply, he did so in these words:

"Well, he never done nothin' to me."—Harper's Magazine.

DOCTOR'S ADVICE SAVED HIM

Sunday passed, Tuesday rolled around, and still his tail form did not loom in the vestibule when the cuckoo clock was sounding 8. Thursday he came, and the beautiful girl was burning with wrath.

"So this is the way you neglect me," she hissed. "What have you to say for yourself? Why didn't you come?"

"I couldn't," faltered the youth. "I had dyspepsia and the doctor advised me not to come."

"What? The doctor told you not to come to see me because you had dyspepsia?"

"Well, he told me to keep away from all sweets."

And the parlor sofa was tenanted.—Chicago News.

THE HEIGHT OF SUSPICION.

Blackinaton is a lawyer of the old school, and has a well deserved reputation for good heartedness that keeps him poor. He was recently imposed upon by the town's most successful miser, one Scruggins, who placed troublesome legal work in his hands. As the time came for settlement, Scruggins hemmed and hawed and manifested all the symptoms of being in acute pain over having to pay a just debt.

The lawyer's sunny good-nature again asserted itself.

"I won't charge you anything for my services," he said.

Scruggins peered sharply through his bushy eyebrows.

"Well, I'd like to have a receipt, anyhow," he snarled.—Lippincott's.

The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF LIZZIE BORDEN

One of the most shocking tragedies that has ever occurred in the New England States was the double murder of Andrew J. Borden and his wife, at Fall River, Mass., on August 4, 1892. They were killed in their home in Second street, and both bodies had been frightfully mutilated. Mr. Borden's body was found on the first floor, while Mrs. Borden's was found in her own chamber on the upper floor.

Mr. Borden was a wealthy real estate owner, a banker and mill man. He had been seen on the street only half an hour before the tragedy occurred. An investigation was at once started and on the day following an advertisement was inserted in the local newspapers by the two daughters of the murdered couple, Emma L. and Lizzie D. Borden, offering a reward of $5000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers. The two daughters made their home with their parents at the time of the murder, but Emma was away on a visit. Lizzie was at home, but claimed she was in the garden when the murder occurred, and the only other person in the house was a servant girl Bridget Sullivan. The murdered Bordens were buried on August 6. Twenty-four hours each day police and detectives were working on the case.

For some time many persons advanced the double suicide theory, as the daughter in the garden would have heard the murderer if it was a case of murder. This was dispelled by the fact that no weapons were found near the bodies, but later two axes and two hatchets were discovered in the cellar with stains of blood upon them, which confirmed the murder theory.

Suspicion was first created against Lizzie Borden, the youngest daughter, when in a search of the premises two days later she refused to allow the authorities to make an examination of her room. The first indication that there would be an arrest in the case was on August 10, when Lizzie was closely questioned, the answers she gave being unsatisfactory. She was taken into custody the following day and on August 12 she was arraigned at the Second District court room. She was accompanied to the proceedings by Rev. E. A. Buck, the Congregational minister, whose church the Bordens attended. She pleaded not guilty in a voice that rang out clear and audible all over the still room. After the court proceedings Lizzie was taken into an ante-room where she had passed the previous night, and from there was transferred to the Taunton jail.

Miss Borden was given a preliminary hearing on August 25. The case was carried on for several days. On the second day, Bridget Sullivan gave some damaging evidence against the accused daughter. She stated that there was no stranger in the house and the only occupants at the time of the murder were Mr. and Mrs. Borden, Lizzie and herself. It was brought out that the daughter had told conflicting stories as to her absence from the house to the barn at the time of the crime. This preliminary trial was closed on September 1, when the venerable Judge Blaisdell directed that Miss Borden be returned to Taunton jail to stand trial the first Monday in November for the murder of her parents.

The final trial was postponed from time to time and did not begin until May 8, 1893, in the Superior Court of the State, at the time in session in New Bedford, Mass. There were three indictments against her, two of which were for the murder of her parents separately and the third charging her with the murder of them both.

The trial was conducted without interruption through the rest of May and through June up to the 20th. Ex-Governor Robinson, of Massachusetts, was chief consul for the defendant, and it was probably through his instrumentality that the prisoner was so easily acquitted by the jury.

It required only twelve "good men and true" to find the prisoner innocent after one hour and twenty-one minutes' deliberation. When the verdict was rendered for fully sixty seconds there was not a sound, then the crowd of one thousand men and women broke into a cry of joy and approval that rang far outside and told the waiting thousands that Lizzie Borden was a free woman.

Lizzie had stood while the foreman spoke. When he had finished she started; stepped forward, put out her arms as if she would throw them about the neck of Mr. Robinson, and then sank to the floor an inanimate mass of overstrung, exhausted humanity.

She left the court room and shortly afterward took a train for Fall River, accompanied by her sister, her pastor and many relatives and friends. The reception at home, under the circumstances, was also cordial. The prisoner spent the first night at the home of a friend, but the second day she and her sister took up again their residence in their old home on Second street in the house pregnant with dreadful memories.

WHAT AILED THE SENATE

An old colored man from Virginia had received at last the position that fulfilled his ambitions. He held the job of sweeping the steps on the east side of the Senate end of the Capitol. Finding himself in this prominent place, he set about mastering the legislative and parliamentary phrases that are batted about so freely in the senatorial presence.

One day a party of tourists were disappointed when they found, upon arriving at the Capitol, that the Senate was not in session.

"I wonder what's the matter with the Senate today," said a woman in the party to old John.

"I ain't sartin," he replied judicially, "but I spec's dey done took and absessis."—Popular Magazine.

WINTEMUTE IS BACK FROM FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

Modesto Fire Chief Is Elected Vice President for California

Horse Drawn Vehicles Are Giving Way to Motor Apparatus

John Wintemute, chief of the Fresno fire department, has just returned from Victoria, B. C., where he attended the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' Association. The convention was in session from September 1 to 4 and Wintemute attended all of the meetings and heard the addresses and papers. The convention next year will be held in San Francisco. The president and vice-president were reelected and G. E. Wallace of Modesto was elected as the vice-president from California.

Wintemute said last night that fire departments were discussed from the volunteer service to the largest department on the Pacific coast, which is in San Francisco. All of the fire chiefs reported that horse-drawn vehicles were being replaced by motor vehicles and that the cost of maintenance was much less after the initial cost. The methods of fire fighting were taken up and discussed by the chiefs and all of the new apparatus was explained by the firemen who were either using them or had seen demonstrations.

Fire Chief Davis of Victoria, who, Wintemute said was a fine host, read a paper in which he censured the insurance companies for not making more thorough investigations of risks. He declared that over-insurance and slackness on the part of the insurance companies was to a great extent responsible for incendiarism.

Regulations for motion picture houses were also taken up as one of the topics for discussion. One of the chiefs reported that picture houses were only permitted to occupy buildings at the intersection of streets, so that ample fire-exits were assured.

ENDEAVORERS BEGIN PAYMENT OF TITHES

Occurrence of Holidays Will Not Conflict With Plans

This is the "tithing" week for the Christian Endeavor Union, all over California, and the Fresno county societies are already beginning to pay their amounts. All the members are giving one-tenth of their income to the Union, to be used in the prohibition advertising.

As the end of tithing week approaches it becomes evident that the plan will be a great success. Some of the Endeavorers are away on vacation during the week, and some have a lessened income, owing to the two holidays during the week, but, almost without exception, these have taken an average week's wage as a basis, and will give the tenth of that amount, regardless of whether they earn it during tithing week or not.

Some are paying the tithe in their society treasurer already, but the larger number will bring the offering to their several Sunday evening meetings, many of which will be of a special nature, in line with the closing of the special effort during the week.

Representatives of the various societies will meet at the First Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon to complete the plans for the utilization of the money raised, which it is thought will amount to several hundred dollars in Fresno city alone.

The advertising campaign in the county will be under the general direction of County President Will Kendall, assisted by a group of workers from each society throughout the county.

Society Notes

The Faith Circle of the First Christian church will meet next Friday evening with Miss Cora Richter, 839 U street."

Mr. and Mrs. William Betteridge and daughter Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Betteridge and son Leland, have just returned from a motor trip to Oakland and Santa Cruz. They were absent from Fresno a month.

EPWORTH SOCIAL MEETS SUCCESS

A large number of young people gathered at the First M. E. church last evening, and all enjoyed the "School Days Social." Much fun was gleaned from the various class rooms and the refreshments served during the recess were delicious. The evening brought to light several young ladies who would surely succeed in school teaching.

This social was a good starter for the many Epworth League frolics to be held this winter.

INITIAL MEETING OF CHURCH WOMEN

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist church held its first meeting of the year yesterday afternoon. An interesting program was led by Mrs. Millet. There were several good speeches outlining plans for work during the coming year. Under the guidance of Mrs. Catscart, Division 2 of the auxiliary served refreshments at the close of a social hour.

STILL CLIMBING

"Have you ever heard Jimkins relate about the time he got half way up Mount Blanc with one of his little nephews and no guide?" asked one man to another.

"How long ago did he tell you about it?" was the evasive reply.

"Last March, when he'd just got home," said the first man.

"Well," said the other, "in eight months since then he has climbed the rest of the way, succored a fainting guide, and sustained a snowstorm on the summit, resuscitated two benumbed strangers on the way down, and guided the entire party to the foot where a group of frantic relatives were waiting."—New York World.

One Ranch Owner Receives $500 As Adjudicated By Arbitrators

TURLOCK, Sept. 8.—The damages to the George Nelson and G. H. Sawyer ranches, caused by the break in the Davis reservoir last June, were finally determined yesterday by a board of arbitration consisting of H. S. Crane, representing the Turlock irrigation district, J. M. Walthall, representing the claimants, and Railroad Commissioner Alex Gordon, who was chosen by the two other members of the board.

The board fixed the damages to the Nelson property at $18,214.50, with the alternative of purchase of the property by the district at $29,037. The damages to the Sawyer place were appraised at $500.

An opening grand ball will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Lou Reichmann at their new auditorium, on Saturday, September 19, with Stockton music.

H. Nelson of Fullerton was here this week to see his ranch, which he purchased some time ago, but had never seen. He found the Riverbank district had advanced in development much greater than he had expected, and will have his property improved this fall.

Mr. McPherson, of the Santa Fe magazine, visited Riverbank this week. It was his first trip here since the property had been put on the market, and he stated that he was greatly surprised at what had been accomplished in the three years, both in the building up of the town and what the ranchers had accomplished. McPherson has a number of eastern friends owning property here, and he will recommend them to keep their holdings, on his return home.

The building will be strictly modern, having the best sanitary equipment. The school will fill a long felt need, making it possible for the younger children to attend a good school without the long walk to Hughson.

USELESS ECONOMY

"Economy has its pains as well as its pleasures," says a Washington preacher, "if the experience of an old darky of my acquaintance in Virginia counts for anything.

"One spring, for some reason, old Mose was going round town with a face of dissatisfaction. When questioned, he poured forth a voluable tale of woe in these terms:

"'Marse Tom he come to me last fall and he say: 'Mose, dey's gwine to be a hard winter, so yo' be keerful an' save yo' wages fast an' tight.'

"'An' I believe Marse Tom, yassuh. I believe him, an' I save, an' when the winter come it ain't no hardship, and dere I was wid all dat money thrown on my hands.'"—Tit-Bits.

NEVER

"X." Beidler, whose name was John Xenophone Beidler, or something very much like that, but who always was called "X" and who was one of the famous Montana pioneers as well as a vigilante, was out on the plains one day with Liver-eating Johnson, another well-known Montana character, when they wer chased by Indians.

Johnson had a better horse than "X" and was soon ahead. He turned several times and urged Beidler to hurry up.

"Hurry up, X!" he yelled. "Get a move on!"

"Dad-gast you, Johnson!" shouted Beidler as he spurred his horse, "do you think I'm trying to throw this race?"—Four Hundred Good Stories.

A SLANT AT PHYLLIS

When I take note of Phyllis' hat,
Tipped on one side, one eye disguising,
I wonder why it is so flat,
And at her aspect quite surprising.

For though her skirt fits close below,
With slits that all her locomotion,
It grows in volume, as you know,
Above, such is the crazy notion.

Her waist is undefined, and yet
Full many contours she confesses—
In fact, so many you forget
Just how a-tropic maiden dresses.

And as again you her survey—
To mark her well you are beholden—
You wonder if some later day
Will Phyllis further still embolden.
—J. A. Waldron in Judge.

COMMITTEES ORGANIZE FOR WORK IN VISALIA

Three Political Parties Elect Officers and Executive Board

VISALIA, Sept. 8.—The three county central committees held meetings here today and organized as provided by law. Owing to the divorce of county officers from politics, the activities of the committees pertain only to state, congressional and legislative campaigns. The Progressives named James Burke chairman, Charles A. Whitmore secretary and George A. Fleming, treasurer, and appointed an executive committee consisting of the above officers and H. H. Chandler of Exeter, H. J. Barrett of Dinuba, C. M. Connor of Lindsay and W. W. Thomson of Tipton.

The Republicans named S. O. Walker chairman and W. R. Bailey secretary, and an executive committee in addition to the above consisting of M. J. Rouse of Visalia, J. G. Ropes of Woodlake, George Murray of Porterville, and George Zartman of Tulare. The appointment from the fifth district as yet to be made.

The Democrats chose Daniel McFadzean chairman, J. Sub Johnson secretary and Sus Mitchell treasurer. They named an executive committee consisting of the chairman and secretary and the following: C. W. Braswell of Lindsay, Frank Ellsworth of Tulare, N. S. Bradley of Visalia, D. B. Day of Woodlake and W. F. Clark of Porterville.

USE NILE WEEDS FOR FUEL

For centuries it has been remarked, and returning travelers today relate that a strange growth of thick weeds and sedge near the surface of the waters of the Nile above Khartum, is responsible for the impassability of the river at that point. To any one who has visited the Sudan the barely navigable Nile about that region is a source of great disappointment. Former President Roosevelt particularly commented upon it.

Baedecker carriers may now save their tears. These vain regrets are literally wasted on the desert air, for two German pundits, Herr Dr. von Rath and Prof. von Horing, together with an English military savant, after a painstaking investigation of this fiber-like moss, have constructed a startling theory that this was the sort of stuff that, under proper geological conditions, became what we recognize as coal. Then they set about to prove their hypothesis by facts.

The periodic flooding of Egypt by the Nile may or may not have something to do with the rapid accumulation of this sedge, called sudd. It possibly has nothing whatever to do with this formation, but that is neither here nor there, so far as coal is concerned. The essential fact is that it gathers so quickly in the waters of the blue and white Nile that the application of such a refuse and waste to fuel uses will produce a cheap and easily accessible material. Because coal is almost completely absent and practically prohibited for fuel uses, at the necessarily high price in the Sudan, industrial development of the country has been seriously retarded.

THE BIBLE AS A SERIAL

For a newspaper to reprint a "best seller," a chapter or two to the issue, is no journalistic novelty. Yet, oddly enough, the idea of publishing in serial form the best seller of all best sellers is an experiment so unusual that it is attracting wide publicity. If you haven't happened to notice the statistics, you may not know that the book which leads all others in sales is the Bible. Editor W. W. Folsom, of Hope, Ark., is reprinting this best of books in his Gazette, a chapter a week.

To date he has completed the publication of the four gospels, and the feature has proved so popular that the other day he notified the Little Rock Board of Trade that if he lives long enough (he is now 76) to reprint the New Testament in its entirety he will then begin to reprint it a second time. —From the New York Tribune.

LION FRIGHTENS TWO WOMEN

Mrs. Fleming and her daughter, while driving from town Saturday evening, were confronted by an immense mountain lion on the McCourtney road, 6 miles from this city. The horses plunged and nearly backed off the grade. The animal watched the performance for two or three minutes and then loped off into the brush. This was the first lion seen in this section for a number of years.—Grass Valley, (Cal.) Dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle.

HER AGITATION

"That heiress seemed much agitated when she met you. Is it possible that you have entered her life before in some romantic way?"

"Nothing particularly romantic," said the newcomer at the summer resort. "I collect the payments on that heiress' piano."—From the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Mothers, What About This?

Of what benefit will an education be to your children if they graduate from school with impaired health, distorted spines and injured eyes?

Only ten in every hundred babies are born with perfect eyes. Eye defects in the other ninety vary, but all should have attention, particularly when the child reaches school age.

We are apt to neglect looking after this important matter, for the reason that children very seldom detect eye trouble themselves until it is apparent to everyone.

Plain ribbons will hold their prominent position, both for dress and for millinery purposes, says the Dry Goods Economist. Black moires will retain the favor they have won. THIN BLOOD AND DYSPEPSIA

Thin-blooded people generally have stomach trouble. They seldom recognize the fact that thin blood is the cause of the indigestion but it is.

Thin blood is one of the most common causes of stomach trouble. It affects the digestion at once. The glands that furnish the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity, the stomach muscles are weakened and there is a loss of nerve force. In this condition nothing will more quickly restore appetite, digestion and normal nutrition than good, rich, red blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and the enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates the tired muscles and awakens to normal activity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. The first sign of returning health is an improved appetite and soon the effect of these tonic pills is evident throughout the system. You find that what you eat does not distress you and that you are strong and vigorous instead of irritable and listless. You are now on the road to health and care in the diet is all that you need.

The Dr. William Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will send you a little diet book free on request. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT TO ENFORCE GAME LAW

Commissioner Ferguson Announces Change in Methods

Fish and Game Commissioner, Andrew D. Ferguson, announced yesterday, a change in the enforcement of the federal migratory bird law, known as the Week-McLean bill and passed in the closing days of the Taft administration. Violations of the law have been in charge of the department of agriculture since the passage of the bill, but this year the enforcement has been turned over to the department of justice and violators will be confronted with the same machinery of prosecution, used for the currency, revenue and other federal statues.

All water fowl, migratory game and insectivorous birds are protected under the federal government and the seasons are provided by a proclamation of the President. Up to this season, although the Department of Agriculture was in charge, no means were provided for the enforcement of law and few prosecutions resulted. Ferguson says that the same relentless prosecution will be followed hereafter as is employed in other branches of the federal government, and that violations will be a serious matter.

"The impression seems to have circulated that the federal law is unconstitutional," said Ferguson. "It is true that a district judge in Arkansas hold it unconstitutional, but a federal judge in South Dakota about the same time declared its constitutionality and it will be considered in this way until otherwise declared. The Department of Justice in accepting the prosecutions seem to have considered its effect as legal."

According to reports received from all over the country the law seems to be coming universally popular among sportsmen, as nesting ducks are becoming more frequent in all sections. Under the old conditions the spring shooting had the effect of driving all the migratory birds away. Under present regulations the seasons are shorter, as with the duck season which opens on October 15 and closes on January 31, this year.

"In the San Joaquin Valley the reports from the field departments," says Ferguson, "are to the effect that more ducks remained here during the last few seasons than has been seen here in many years.

Scalp Dry Like Powder, Scaled Over, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, No Signs of Trouble Since.

Granite Falls, Wash.—"At the age of two years there came a scale on my little girl's head. Her scalp was very dry like powder which roughed in the hair and mixed with the scales. Eruptions would appear and at times they would itch. They would bleed when I combed her hair. It seemed to scale over from one combing to the next.

"I commenced to treat her as soon as I saw the least sign of the eruption. I tried ——— Solution at first and after washed with ——— Soap but she got no relief. Then I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, lathering her head, then washing and applying the Cuticura Ointment every morning. GERMANY AND THE WAR

By the Imperial German Ambassador

In order that the American people may have an opportunity of hearing the German side of the case from an official source, The Independent magazine of New York asked Count J. H. von Bernstorff to reply to certain questions which have been much discussed in the press, and he has kindly consented to do so. The Independent prints the following from him:

Did Germany approve in advance the Austrian ultimatum to Servia?

Yes. Germany's reasons for doing so are the following. For six years Servia has been the outpost of Pan-Slavism against Austria. The principle of Pan-Slavism is the assumption that Russia is the protector of the Slav nations. This makes it clear to everybody who looks into the question that Pan-Slavism means the destruction of Austria, which is half Slav. Austria bore patiently for years the undermining campaign of the Pan-Slavic party, which was carried on in Austria. But the assassination of the crown prince brought her patience to a sudden end. It is believed by many people in the United States that Servia accepted all, or nearly all, of Austria's demands. In reality she did not accept the most important one, namely, that of issuing to the officers of the Servian army an official condemnation of Pan-Slavic propaganda and of the assassination of the crown prince. Now it has been proved that the assassination of the crown prince was prepared and arranged by Servian officers. He was shot with a Servian army revolver.

Could not Germany after the Austrian ultimatum was delivered, have prevented Austria from precipitating the war?

If the Servian war is meant, the answer is that Austria could not possibly be kept back from going to war with Servia after her patience had been so overtaxed. I ask any American whether he thinks the American people would not have started war with Mexico immediately if during the Mexican troubles Huerta had hired assassins to kill the Vice President of the United States? How would the reader answer this question? All European governments with the exception of Russia, tried to localize the war between Servia and Austria. But then Russia, on Pan-Slavic principles, said that she had to make concessions; she pressed Austria as far as she possibly could within the bounds of her friendship and alliance. Thereupon Austria made the greatest possible concessions and promised absolutely to regard and uphold the integrity of the Servian kingdom. This concession was transmitted by the German government to the Russian government. No other answer was sent except the mobilization of the whole Russian army against Germany and Austria. Thereupon the German government asked the Russian government why they were mobilizing their whole army against Germany and Austria. Germany has not received the answer to this question to this day. Instead of an answer Russian troops crossed the German frontier. The first Russian prisoners of war were taken before any declaration of war was made. After this act the German government informed the Russian government that they considered themselves in a state of war with Russia, and the rest followed as a consequence of the existing alliances in Europe.

What is the justification for the violation of the Belgian neutrality to which Germany was a party?

The violation of Belgian neutrality is an action which is universally regretted in Germany. But it was considered an absolute military strategical necessity. If Germany had entered France by the routes of Metz and Strassburg, the French army would have entered Belgium and fallen on our right flank. We had absolutely reliable information that this intention existed in the French army. We were absolutely sure that Belgium would not be able to defend her neutrality against France, and would probably not even be willing to do so, as her fortresses had all been built against Germany and not against France. Furthermore, on the first day of the war French motor cars with French officers passed through Belgium to reconnoiter in Germany without being stopped by Belgian authorities. Equally French aeroplanes flew over Belgium without being stopped and bombarded German cities. Our information about the French army was furthermore corroborated by the fact that English generals visited Brussels in the spring at the time when the coalition was preparing for war against us. The governments of the coalition cannot suppose that we do not know that during the visit of King George to Paris the military negotiations were going on between England, France and Russia for the purpose of a joint attack against Germany.

Is not the dropping of shells without warning from an airship upon cities like Antwerp and Paris a violation of civilized warfare?

I am rather surprised at the words "without warning" in this question, because I do not see how a fortress which is prepared for an attack in a country which is at war, should be without warning if it was attacked at any minute. The warning for every fortress in the country is the beginning of the war. I can only say that in our fortresses on the frontier women and children were sent away on the very first outbreak of the war. As long as there has been war in the world fortresses have always been bombarded. Whether they are bombarded from the air or from cannon on land is simply a technical detail.

Is not the destruction of the historic edifices and library at Louvain an act of vandalism?

To begin with, I doubt whether the historic edifices and library at Louvain have been destroyed. But if they should have been, the responsibility rests solely with the population of Louvain, and the act of vandalism, if there has been one, has been perpetrated also solely by that population. The facts of the case are the following: One battalion of German troops was left in charge of the city, and of the communications of the army. They were not in line, but dispersed in the city. The priests of the city, thinking that the German army had retired, distributed arms among the civilian population and our soldiers were shot unawares. The principle of civilized warfare is based on the assumption that only the soldiers of a country shall fight against the soldiers of the other country, but that civilians, women and children shall never join in the combat. To maintain these principles severe punishment has always been inflicted upon any population that joins in the fight, and I do not refrain for one moment from saying that they deserve it. In this special case, however, the German soldiers who were attacked by the people of Louvain were mutilated and treated with acts of bestial cruelty. If the returning troops with these facts before their eyes burned down many houses of the city, I do not see how they can be blamed.

What is the Slavic peril? And why should Germany fear it more than England or France?

Germany does not fear the Slavic peril at all. However, the existence of Austria as a great power has always been considered of vital interest to Germany because it keeps our flank covered. Furthermore, it must not be forgotten that the alliance between Germany and Austria is quite a different kind of alliance than any of those among the powers who have formed a coalition against us. Austria and Germany have belonged together for a thousand years, and every fight between them has been regarded by both nations as a civil war. Historic developments since 1866 have changed the aspect of Austria and have formed a dual monarchy between Austria and Hungary. Austria is now half a Slav state and as such cannot permit the pretensions of Russia to be the protector of the Slavs. England and France are now fighting for Russia's purposes. Why they do so they will have to answer for themselves.

Would the purchase by the United States of the German merchant ships of New York be a violation of neutrality?

According to my opinion, No. Because our shipping companies are absolutely private business undertakings without any interference of the government. If, furthermore, these companies are, as the American government has stated, not to receive payment until after the war I cannot see how the purchase of these ships can in any way help Germany. The opposition to these plans seems to me to come simply from the wish to prevent the United States from having a mercantile marine. England has joined our enemies for the chief purpose of getting our trade. It would naturally gain nothing even if England did win the war if their trade were taken by the United States.

What do you think of the employment of African and Asiatic troops in a European war?

I condemn it unconditionally.

In conclusion I may say that it is one of the fundamental errors of American newspapers that this is a war of kings. Most emphatically is it a war of the German people. Do not be deceived about it. Every man who doubts this is fundamentally at error. I read all sorts of things about "the kings' war," but God knows it is the people's war. The absolute feeling of the German people was that the emperor waited as long as possible, if anything that he waited at least two days too long. If any proof is needed for this statement look at the attitude of the leaders of the German Social Democrats, who are loyally supporting the emperor. See how different it is in Russia where the Poles are in revolution; in England where the leader of the Labor group said that it was not a people's war and the government had not done enough to prevent it. The leader of the Social Democrats in Germany said: "We hate war, but since the German nation has been attacked we will stand up like one man against the autocrat who attacked us."

Just sixty-four years ago President Fillmore signed the Act that admitted California to the Union. It was ten days before the news reached San Francisco. And that's the point I want to bring out in this ad today. Sixty-four years ago it took ten days to bring the most important news from Washington to San Francisco. Now it takes ten seconds. Sixty-four years ago it took an energetic man six months to come from Washington to California. Now, it takes three days and a few hours. Sixty-four years ago the Mexican and Spanish population was by far in preponderance here. Today it is almost obliterated from the face of California.

The above is only to show you how rapidly the changes are coming here.

It was only eleven years ago when I first came to Fresno county. It has more than doubled in population. Fresno has grown far beyond our expectations at that time. One hundred thousand people in this county now. During the next ten years we will increase MORE RAPIDLY.

If you have a boy or girl you had better prepare for them now. If you have a little land, you had better get a little more now. If you have none—Do not delay.

The hand on the clock never stops!

I am ready any day to talk it all over with you. I have helped many.

COUNTY COMMITTEES ORGANIZE

STATE CANDIDATES OMITTED FROM RESOLUTIONS

Democrats Leave Out Governor Because Contest Unsettled

Organize By Naming Same Officers As Old Committee

The Democratic County Central committee, in addition to formally organizing for the state campaign, passed a set of resolutions yesterday afternoon in which it urged the election of every Democratic candidate except the candidates for state offices. It was explained afterward that no mention was made of the governorship, because it is not yet definitely known who is nominated for that office.

The resolutions omitted any reference to state Democratic candidates.

The document, which was drawn up by Russell Uhler, with the assistance of Henry Hawson, had two paragraphs, referring to the administration of state affairs and the destruction of property interests, both of which were cut out. The first reaffirmed the allegiance of the party to the platforms adopted in 1906 and in succeeding years." The second condemned legislation destructive to property interests.

G. L. Aynesworth objected to these paragraphs on the ground that they dealt only in "glittering generalities," and on the further ground that he did not know what they mean. It was decided to eliminate them after considerable discussion.

James A. Burns interpreted the paragraph condemning the destruction of property interests, as a condemnation of the dry movement, but Hawson said this was not meant to be interpreted that way.

Trouble With Resolutions.

The Democrats were the only partisans who sought to adopt resolutions and they had considerable trouble getting satisfactory ones.

In these resolutions, the Democrats refer with a great deal of pride to President Wilson and urge the election of James D. Phelan for United States senator and the election of the senate and assembly nominees in Fresno county.

When the committee was first called to order, a committee was appointed to draft resolutions. The set offered did not meet with the approval, either of the members of the committee or of the central committeemen. With the consent of the members of the resolutions committee they were discharged and the central committee, as a committee of the whole, discussed and acted upon the resolutions offered by Uhler.

Officers Unchanged

The organization of the committee was effected in Judge Church's courtroom in the court house. Officers were elected as follows:

Russell Uhler, chairman; James J. Senior, secretary; H. C. Harvey, treasurer.

The Democratic party was the only party in Fresno to elect a full county central committee at the August primary and had no vacancies to fill yesterday. The Democrats also have regularly qualified senatorial and assembly nominees in the four Fresno county districts and so were not called upon to elect any delegates to the state convention in Sacramento.

Fifteen additional members are to be added to the central committee, however, to act in an advisory capacity. Five are to be chosen from each assembly district. Appointments will be made by the chairman. The appointment of executive and finance committees of seven members each, by the chairman, was also authorized.

The committee will meet again on Saturday afternoon in its new headquarters, probably in the First National Bank building.

The following are the members of the Democratic County Central Committee:

J. N. Daniels, N. W. Bostick, G. L. Aynesworth, James A. Burns, H. C. Harvey, Ed Vogelsang, J. J. Senior, James Gallagher, J. B. Lewis, Lewis Hall, B. F. Sliter, Russell Uhler, George N. Smith, John Forney, H. H. Harding, W. H. Kerr, J. E. Lewis, J. J. Vanderburgh, T. H. Jack, F. C. Simpson, H. F. Winnes.

Democratic Resolution

The Democratic party of Fresno county, represented by its duly elected central committee, assembled in accordance with law this 8th day of September, 1914, declare and re-affirms its unswerving loyalty to the principles of the Democratic party as enunciated by its immortal leaders from the days of Thomas Jefferson and embodied in the statute books of the nation.

We rejoice that because of the election two years ago of that illustrious statesman, Woodrow Wilson, to the presidency of this great republic the people have enjoyed and are enjoying the benefits of a Democratic administration of public affairs, that under the wise and patriotic leadership of President Wilson and his colleagues in the cabinet and in Congress, aided by the patriotic and self-sacrificing services of loyal Democrats in the United States Senate and the national House of Representatives the great problems of tariff, currency reform and other internal administration policies have been wisely and beneficially solved. Especially do we congratulate our party and the nation that because of the splendid statesmanship of our great President the nation has been saved from the horrors of armed intervention in the republic of Mexico, where an over-burdened people groan under the oppression of an unjust system of government, and that at this time, when the nations of Europe are engaged in warfare beyond the conception of ordinary men the United States is in a position to maintain a splendid and honorable neutrality and to tender to the belligerents our good offices whenever the time shall be opportune and to assist those stricken peoples in returning to the enjoyment of the blessings of peace when the war mania shall have passed, and we join our great President in the fervent hope that in good time there shall be a return of that season of concord and amity which should be the aim of all good government.

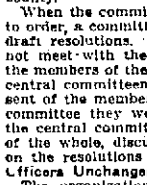

In order that President Wilson may be assured of the continued and loyal support of the people of the great state of California, we confidently appeal to the electorate to re-elect our representative in Congress, the Honorable Denver S. Church, who alike by his consistent enunciation of Democratic principles and by his self-sacrificing devotion to the duties of his high office, evidenced by his loyal service in the House of Representatives through a session of unprecedented duration and trying nature, has proven a splendid representative of the Democracy of this great San Joaquin valley.

With the same confidence and with the same purpose we call upon the Democracy of California to elect as United States Senator from this state the Honorable James D. Phelan of San Francisco, whose thorough sympathy with the administration and whose unparalleled knowledge of and sympathy with the interests of the state admirably equip him for that high office.

We congratulate the Democratic party of the county of Fresno upon the nomination of candidates for the state Senate and Assembly in every way worthy of their confidence and support. We tender to Hon. George L. Warlow the assurance of our loyal services in his canvass for election to the state Senate, and to Messrs. Gould, Traber and Hawson, our nominees for the Assembly, the utmost assistance in achieving their success, believing that in these sterling Democrats we have men who will carefully and sagaciously protect and advance the interests of the state of California in the legislature of the state.

Every tiny infant makes life's perspective wider and brighter. And whatever there is to enhance its arrival and to ease and comfort the expectant mother should be given attention. Among the real helpful things is an external abdominal application known as "Mother's Friend." It is so well thought of by women that most drug stores throughout the United States carry "Mother's Friend" as one of their staple and reliable remedies. It is applied to the abdominal muscles to relieve the strain on ligaments and tendons.

In a little book are described more fully the many reasons why "Mother's Friend" has been a friend indeed to women for more than two generations. This book was prepared not only to aid the inexperienced but to enable so many women to have at hand the timely hints, suggestions and helps in concise and neatly printed form for ready reference. It should be in all homes. Progressives Hold Money Awaiting Legal Organization

Cary to Resign From Republican State Convention

The members of the Republican County Central Committee held quite a lively session in the grand jury room at the court house yesterday afternoon in the course of which they authorized the president and secretary to take the necessary steps to secure the funds in the treasury of the old Republican committee, when the members of that committee joined the Progressive party. The balance is about $400.

It was stated afterward that the only reason the Republicans met in the courthouse was because they realized that their chances for getting the $400 would be jeopardized if they organized in any other place. Notices had been sent out calling the meeting in General Muller's office in the Forsyth building, but at the last moment the place of meeting was switched to the courthouse as required by law.

When the call was issued for the meeting in General Muller's office the statement was made that if organization was effected there, the money would not be turned over, because organization would not have been made in accordance with the primary law.

When the members of the Republican county central committee of 1912, forsook the party for the Progressive party, early last spring, a demand was made by a delegation styling themselves the Republican committee, for the money that was in the treasury. The former Republicans refused to give up the money on the ground that the so-called Republican committee was not legally organized.

Legal organization was effected yesterday and it was said that the money will be turned over without further question. It is now being held by Ray W. Baker, secretary of the old Republican committee.

Officers Same.

The officers of the new Republican committee are the same as those of the provisional committee which was active in the pre-primary campaign, with the exception of the secretary. Hayden F. Jones was secretary of this committee, but he becoming a candidate for assemblyman in the 51st district, gave up his place as a member of the county central committee. The officers are:

Truman G. Hart, chairman; M. W. Muller, vice chairman; Arthur H. Drew, secretary.

Executive, finance, registration and meeting and publicity committees were authorized. The personnel of these committees will be announced by the chairman at the next meeting of the committee to be held next Saturday afternoon in the grand jury room.

The Republicans were called upon to appoint three delegates to the Republican state convention in Sacramento. L. D. Scott, one of those appointed, was nominated for assemblyman in the 50th district, but under the law is not entitled to a seat in the state convention, by this nomination, because his name was written in. By the action of the committee he will be given a seat.

The Republican nominee for the State Senate is W. F. Chandler, who is a Progressive, but he has no seat in the state convention because his name too, was written in. W. D. Mitchell was appointed a delegate from the senatorial district.

Cary to Resign.

In the 52nd district there is a peculiar situation, which, however, the Republicans believe will be solved without trouble. L. B. Cary, Progressive, was regularly nominated for assemblyman by both the Republicans and the Progressives. He advised the Republicans yesterday, however, that if such a thing were possible, he would resign from the Republican convention and give his seat to an appointed delegate. The Republicans expect to get his resignation within the next day or two and will send in his stead, E. R. Reed of Reedley.

In the course of the meeting, individual members denounced the present primary law and declared for the old convention system. They also denounced non-partisanship in the majority of state and all county offices, and W. D. Mitchell said he believed even constables should be elected by parties.

The Republicans have one vacancy yest to fill in the fourth supervisoral district. The balance of the membership of the committee is as follows:

S. P. Frisselle, H. C. Hansen, Al McNeil, L. F. Timmins, T. G. Hart, A. H. Drew, L. Lauritzen, F. W. Naden, Carl Emirzian, M. W. Muller, E. M. Prescott, A. E. Snow, Frank H. Short, Charles E. Green, H. C. Kerr, Charles Nelson, L. D. Scott, W. D. Mitchell, Lucius Powers, E. R. Reed, L. M. Say.

SOCIALISTS FILL MANY VACANCIES

Thirteen Out of Twenty-Three on Committee Appointed

The county central committee of the Socialist party met yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the grand jury room in the Courthouse to organize for the campaign. The Socialist platform which is to be ratified at the state convention next Tuesday was adopted. Officers were chosen as follows:

Harry M. McKee, chairman; Earl Wooster, secretary.

In addition to electing officers, the members of the committee were called upon to fill thirteen vacancies on their own committee and to elect two delegates to the state convention of that party, which is to be held in Sacramento next Tuesday. The vacancies on the county central committee were caused by failure to elect at the primary election on August 25. Only ten out of a total of twenty-three allowed by law were elected at the primary.

The two delegates elected to the state convention, caused by the failure to nominate assemblymen in the fifty-first and fifty-second districts were Harry M. McKee and Joseph Ballam. McKee is the Socialist nominee for Congress, but congressional officers are not credited as delegates at the state conventions of the different parties, and it is only as representatives of an assembly district that McKee will have a vote.

The Socialist committee meeting was shorter than any of the others and about half an hour after the committee was called together adjournment was taken.

The following is the full county central committee of the Socialist party:

Viola N. Scott, Chance Scott, M. Hayes, H. Clark, Walter Conlin, W. L. Rourke, S. W. Coffren, P. W. Hansen, George Pickett, Ira Kenna, Jessie Ross, Harry M. McKee, Edna Wooster, Earl Wooster, W. Howard, A. F. Nelson, C. Christiansen, John Baird, J. M. Clark, J. W. Steinwand, T. C. Ladd, Frank Bretz, P. H. Lancey.

PROHIBITIONISTS HOLD 2 MEETINGS

Appoint Five to Fill Vacancies; Four to Be Chosen

The Prohibitionists held what really amounted to two conventions yesterday. The first was called to order at 1:30 yesterday afternoon in Union hall, and at this meeting plans for carrying on of the campaign work of the Prohibition party were discussed. The real organization of the county committee was completed in the office of the district attorney in the Courthouse, in order to comply with the primary law. Officers were elected as follows:

J. F. Butler, Del Rey, chairman; W. W. Wharton, secretary-treasurer.

An executive committee of three members was appointed. The members of this committe are J. W. Raybourn, J. S. McCormick and O. S. Hecox.

The Prohibitionists had no delegates to elect to the state convention of their party as they had regular qualified nominees for state senator and assemblymen in all the districts of the county.

They did have a number of vacancies to fill in their own committee, however. The Prohibition committee is entitled under the law to twenty-two delegates. But thirteen were elected at the August primary, leaving nine to be appointed. Five of the nine were appointed yesterday and four remain to be appointed. The appointment of the other four was postponed until a legal question which was raised in the committee has been settled.

The following are the eighteen members who have qualified to serve on the Prohibition county central committee, out of twenty-two allowed:

J. W. Raybourn, O. S. Hecox, Don A. Allen, W. W. Wharton, James Stewart, A. A. Rowell, J. S. McCormick, Irving Halleen, N. M. Johnson, John H. Lundell, J. F. Butler, W. C. Kent, J. C. McCubbien, Thomas Mulligan, Mrs. Anne Brewster, Mrs. G. A. Gillespie, W. H. Tucker and W. L. McGonagill.

MINISTERS CONDEMN BREWERY WORKERS' ACTION

Doubt Wisdom of Injecting Dry Issue Into Parade

One Clergyman Opposes Action on Labor Day Controversy

The Fresno Ministerial Union passed condemnatory resolutions at a regular meeting yesterday on the members of the Brewers' Union who prevented the dry workers from parading on Labor day, while at the same time they questioned the wisdom of the Christian Endeavorers in bringing the California dry issue into connection with the Labor day parade.

Among the thirteen members of the Ministerial Union present, Rev. Thomas Giffen, pastor of the First Congregational church and representative to the Fresno Labor Council, cast a dissenting vote. Afterwards he said:

"As the Christian Endeavor society were not invited by us to parade, I do not think that the question falls upon us to decide whether or not they were justified in a difficulty that has come up."

The Resolution passed by the union follow:

"Resolved, That while there may be a difference of opinion as to the wisdom of the Junior Christian Endeavor Union in bringing in the California Dry issue in connection with the Labor Day parade, yet in as much as they had permission from Mayor Snow to march in the streets, we deplore and denounce the action of certain members of the Brewers' Union in attempting to prevent them from so doing."

The Rev. William Matthew Holderby, representing the California Dry Federation in presenting the question to the ministers at their meeting said:

The fact to be understood is that the leaders of the group of Christian Endeavorers fully recognized the right of the authorities in command of the Labor day parade to forbid them to march as an integral part of the procession. This the Dry forces respected. The action of the members of the Brewery Workers' Union in defiantly and abusively refusing to heed the authorities of Mayor Snow of the city was the violating of a constitutional right of citizen.

"It seems strange that the Ministerial Union would be used to dignify the parade by marching at its head, but when the things for which the ministers stand is represented at the rear their children and young people are mistreated. It is needless to summon the young people to become crusaders and when they are willing to fearlessly stand for the principles taught them, and invite opposition because of it, to leave them defenseless.

"If the Labor unions of Fresno desire the ministers of the churches to stand for the principles of organized labor, it is but right that organized labor stand for the principles of the churches."

PLAN TO UNITE OIL EXHIBITS OF COUNTIES

Dr. Allen Here Today to Confer With Commercial Organizations

Word was received in Fresno last night from San Francisco that Dr. Irving C. Allen, petroleum chemist of the federal bureau of mines and commissioner of petroleum exhibits at the Panama-Pacific exposition, would reach Fresno today in his appeal for the counties to unite upon a collective exhibit to represent the oil industry of California at the 1915 fair. Dr. Allen will visit the commercial organizations in this county, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara.

The Fresno County Commission has already prepared an oil exhibit from here and has united with the San Joaquin Counties Commission. Wylie M. Giffen, one of the commissioners, said last night that he knew of no necessity for Dr. Allen's visit but that he would be cordially received and his plans thoroughly investigated.

CONTROVERSY ABOUT LABOR DAY PARADE

Editor Republican:—It seems necessary for me to make a further statement regarding an incident which occurred during the Labor Day parade.

A representative of the Christian Endeavor Union talked with me informally a few days ago on the subject of their joining in the Labor Day parade. At that time I told him that the matter would have to come officially before the parade committee. I also told him that should the Christian Endeavor Union be given permission to parade with us it would be on the understanding that they did not attempt to display any Wet and Dry banners or any other political signs.

That was the last I heard of the matter until I saw their parade lined up beside ours, going in the opposite direction on J and Mariposa.

The long and short of the matter is that whatever official or semi-official permission the Christian Endeavor Union may have had to parade on Labor Day, no one connected with the labor movement would for a moment have considered their entry in our parade if it had been understood that they intended to inject the wet and dry issue into it in any way, shape or manner.

E. W. MULDOON,
Chairman, Float and Parade Committee, Fresno Labor Day Celebration.

To Whom It May Concern: — The statement has been made public that I consented to the entering in the Labor Day parade of the "Dry Contingent" under the leadership of the Christian Endeavor Society. In view of this I feel called upon to make the following public statement:

I did not at any time give anyone permission to enter any "Dry" forces in the Labor Day parade; first, because I had no such power, and second, because I do not believe that the Labor Day parade should be used either for or against the "Drys" or "Wets."

A Mr. Kendall rang me up on the phone at our residence some weeks ago and asked permission for the Christian Endeavor Society to tag into the rear end of the Labor Day parade. Mr. Kendall never mentioned the fact that it was a "Dry" contingent he wished to enter in the Labor Day parade.

How this could be taken as a permission to inject the "Dry" issue into a Labor Day parade, without application to the parade committee and a frank statement from the C. E. S. of what they intended representing in the parade, surpasses my understanding.

Personally, I feel as though I have been made the victim of a mean trick, upon the part of those who represent the C. E. S., and I hope they will be fair enough to state to the public their object in making the fact that they intended to parade a "Dry" contingent without stating that fact to the parade committee.

The issue here raised is not one of religious opinion, nor it is one involving my ideas on the "Wet and Dry" question; it is merely whether the Christian Endeavor Society of its representatives shall force their way into a Labor Day parade with an issue that has no place there, and whether they should resort to subterfuge to do it, as they have done.

The facts are these: The C. E. S. never had any permission, to my knowledge, to inject the "Wet and Dry" issue into the parade; I had no authority to grant permission to any organization to enter the parade nor would I be a party to the granting of such permission to any organization to parade, if that organization injected the "Wet and Dry" issue.

G. W. BOSWELL.

Editor Republican: — Today there was some difficulty with the Dry Federation, the organization that is fighting for state-wide prohibition in California, and the organized labor unions of Fresno over the Dry Federation's marching in the Labor Day parade. We simply wish to state our side of the case.

Without any invitation, as far as we know, the members of the Dry Federation lined up to begin their march with the labor Unions of the city yesterday. The parade, as organized by the grand marshal, had no place for the Dry Federation workers, and the parade was intended for organized unions, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, only. The outside music that was allowed to march, unaffiliated, was allowed only on the sufferance of the Musicians' Union.

The organizations that are now connected with the liquor interests, or are dependent on them to a certain extent for their livelihood are the Cooks and Waiters, the Brewery Drivers, the Bottlers, and the Bartenders, and they are all affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. These organizations would naturally feel that their rights were violated if a directly antagonistic organization, not affiliated with the A. F. of L., and not invited, were permitted in line.

Though the Bartenders were not in line today their employers, the saloonkeepers of the city of Fresno, made the celebration possible by their donations, there being forty-two saloons in the city, and the labor unions collecting approximately $375 from them all, thus defraying the expenses of the celebration.

The marchers in the Dry Federation were told, we understand, that they could march in line if they would remove certain banners that they carried. None of the organizations in line were permitted to carry banners, and no advertising matter of any kind was allowed, this being ruled against. However, as the Dry Federation would not remove their banners, they naturally could not be permitted in line.

We have no fight with the Dry Federation. We would have liked to see the children in line, but they were not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, were uninvited, as far as we know, and violated the rules of the parade as laid down by the labor organizations, who should have charge of all matters of this, their national holiday.

Yours very truly,
BARTENDERS' INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE OF AMERICA,
LOCAL 668.
T. M. RYAN, President,
P. L. GRACE, Secretary.

WILL MEET TO PLAN CITY BEAUTIFUL CAMPAIGN

More Parks Is Said to Be Pressing Need at This Time

Removal of More Awning Posts Will Also Be Agitated

The winter campaign of the City Beautiful Committee will be given preliminary discussion tomorrow evening at 2 o'clock when members of the committee meet in the city hall at 2 o'clock. Miss Eugenia Miller, chairman of the body, is now out of the city but is expected to return before the time of meeting. It is difficult to forecast just what work will be done by the committee this winter, as each member will be expected to announce ideas that have come up to them during the last several months.

It is certain, however, that considerable attention will be given during the fall to city parking. The members of the organization are much interested in providing for the city a greater number of parks in various localities now undotted. This matter probably will be one of the principal topics of discussion.

The further removal of awning posts and ways and means to bring this about will be given consideration by the committee. This matter is also considered of great importance as part of the campaign to beautify Fresno.

Those who probably will attend the meeting tomorrow night are J. S. Bates, J. R. Daly, Will Marshall, E. A. Berg, C. C. Starr, George R. Andrews, Mrs. Ira Bennett, Mrs. H. C. Warner, Thomas Clayton, Mrs. S. S. Hockett, Miss Kate Parsons, Mrs. H. D. Carver, Mrs. Al Braverman, Sigmund Levy, Mrs. C. B. Shaver, Miss Eugenia Miller, Miss Edith Cory and Mrs. W. J. McNulty.

ANCIENT SPORT WILL BE REVIVED AT FAIR

Chariot Racing Under Big Searchlight; Wild Mule Race Also

One of the most thrilling of the many sports which have been programmed for the Fresno District Fair which will open September 29, is the chariot racing. This sport will be held under the rays of a powerful searchlight and the effect should be exciting and beautiful in the extreme. There will be but two entries in each race as each team will consist of four horses and the fair grounds track will accommodate only eight horses abreast.

Just as exciting, but not so picturesque, will be the wild mule races which have been arranged as a novelty feature for one evening. A herd ten of the most unmanageable mules obtainable has been secured and twenty men will be necessary to manage them, as each rider will be allowed a helper in catching and saddling his animal.

Very few, if any of the mules have felt the weight of saddles to date and they are guaranteed to be full of sudden and unexpected twists and squirms. Each rider will be required to stick with his mount for the entire distance of the course. If he is thrown he immediately becomes disqualified.

FIREMEN ANSWER THREE ALARMS

The fire department was called out three times yesterday in response to alarms from west of the Southern Pacific tracks.

The first alarm was from 1061 Mayor street, where the home of Joe Posco was totally destroyed. The loss will reach $300 and is fully covered by insurance. Cause of fire unknown.

The Yee Sing Company's store at 1543 Tulare street was damaged by fire yesterday noon. The stock was damaged by smoke and water. The loss will reach approximately $2,000.

The jewelry store of J. Watanabe at 831 F street was slightly damaged by fire yesterday afternoon.

California Oil

FIELDS IN TEXAS ARE PRODUCING MUCH OIL

Sour Lake, Having Third Boom, Is Producing 15,000 Barrels Daily

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 8.—A local oil man just returned from Texas says the famous Spindle Top is still producing and proving a veritable gold mine to the men there with its daily production of 1500 barrels. Sour Lake field is producing 15,000 barrels a day, Gumble 9000 and Vinton 5000 a day.

Of the smaller Texas producers Batson and Saratoga are producing 2,000 barrels a day each, Markham 450 barrels, Jennings 900, Goose Creek 500, Edgerly 200 and Orange county 50 barrels a day. A year ago Orange county was the center of all eyes, having just completed one good well, and seemingly with the prospect of a boom ahead. But the second well was a failure, and finally the Orange fields slipped from public view.

One reason for the failure of the Orange wells was the great depth at which the oil is located. The cost of putting down a well is an amount which represents to the average man a sum quite as desirable as the well itself. The drop in the price of oil may be another factor which has prevented the development of this field.

It may prove to be another Vinton field. Vinton, really discovered in 1902, was lost and not rediscovered until six or seven years later, to the consternation of the original operators.

Sour Lake, Texas, is now having its third boom. The first was when the discovery well came in in 1903, the second was with the extension of the field in 1908, and that now on is the third. The last started December 2, 1913, when the Sour Lake Petroleum No. 3 Jackson came in with 600 barrels a day at a depth of 1040 feet.

Three weeks later the Lake Oil company's No. 4 started flowing with 1200 barrels. Since then, 100 wells have been put down into the deep sands. Some have had initial productions of from 1000 to 8000 barrels.

May 17 the Humble Oil company, drilling a mile north of the production, brought in a well flowing 1800 barrels a day from a depth of 1865 feet. When the same company completed a gasser nearby it stopped producing. Other test wells near it have not made good. Some distance to the north the Sun company has drilled 2700 feet and spent $20,000 with no signs of oil.

LETS CONTRACT TO DRILL WELL

COALINGA, Sept. 8.—The Kern Trading and Oil Company has entered into a contract with the W. D. Head Drilling company to drill its second well on section 11, 20-15. The drilling company is to carry the 10-inch string of casing to 3100 feet, and guarantees the pipe shall be straight in the hole when landed, and has executed a bond as a guarantee for the faithful compliance with the contract, which covers tools and supplies used in the drilling. The system that will be used in this work is a Mogul rotary outfit, the same as this company has successfully used in the Midway field. Section 11, 20-15 adjoins section 2, 20-15 on the south, the home of the Turner Oil company, that has several fine producing wells on the south half of section 3, producing a light gravity oil, about 50, high in by-products. The gas in its wells is being refined on the property and is yielding a superior quality of high gravity gasoline.

NEW INVENTION WILL HELP WATER TROUBLE

Air Lift Is Being Used in Coalinga Field With Considerable Success

COALINGA, Sept. 8.—Some of the prominent operators on the west side, who are cooperating with the water commission in charge of the water conditions of this field, are securing good results in the efforts made to clear the formation of the water trouble that has been a serious problem to this field. The general conditions are improving. Possibly the most noticeable today is that of the Kern Trading & Oil company, and the American Petroleum, each having large holdings on the west side. The use of compressed air has been successful in many wells. One of the operators has invented a new air lift to be used with the compressed air system that is giving good results. This lift has been successfully used on a well 220 feet deep, the lift blowing 1000 barrels per day. This well has gone down to practically only a color of oil, and the fluid levels have been lowered in all wells using this new air lift. This new device has demonstrated the fact that water can be pumped from 2200 feet with only 25 per cent submersion.

OIL DEVELOPMENT NOTES OF MIDWAY

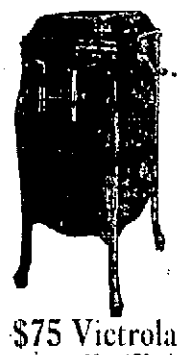

TAFT, Sept. 8.—Water has been cemented off in the No. 3 well of the American Oilfields company, on the Midland division, on section 32, 12-23, at a depth of 3441 feet. The cementing was done with the landing of a string of 4½-inch casing. This well has long been a big producer of oil and gas, and only recently has been giving trouble because of water breaking in.

The work of transporting the heavy fly wheels and steel plates for the installation of auxiliary pumping plants at the various stations of the Producers' Transportation company, along its lines to the coast, is again progressing. Several carloads of materials have arrived at the siding near McKittrick and are now being hauled out. Lisrly & Son, the hauling contractors, have 24 head of mules and two auto trucks engaged in the work. The mules and one truck are working from McKittrick to the Junction station, while the larger truck is employed over the long haul from McKittrick to the Antelope station.

The Combined Oil company is erecting a second new rig on its property on section 14, 31-22, near Fellows.

George Brown, formerly of the Union Oil company, but now of the Pitt Meadows Oil works, Ltd., is one of the few drillers who went to the fields of Canada who is still among the employed. Sanitary Plumbing Heating Plants of All Kinds

A Human Churn

"WHEN the food reaches the stomach it is subjected to a peculiar churning movement by the muscular walls of the stomach"—(See Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, page 45). In the liver, kidneys and skin, the blood is purified of its waste materials—these organs act as human filters, leaving the blood pure and clear—unless liver, digestive tract and kidneys are clogged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a stomach, liver and kidney tonic—by assisting the stomach to assimilate, the liver to filter, the kidneys to act—the poisons are removed, the red blood corpuscles are increased and one feels light, fresh and active instead of logy, dull and heavy. The "Discovery" stimulates the stomach, increases action of heart and arteries and is a most satisfactory alterative in blood-taint of any character. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over forty years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form; or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. V. M. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y., a trial box will be mailed you.

MONSTER MENAGERIE, DAZZLING PARADE AND STUPENDOUS SHOW WITH BARNUM AND BAILEY'S CIRCUS

A portion of the big menagerie—Barnum and Bailey's Circus in Fresno tomorrow.

No animal is so intimately and affectionately associated in the popular mind with the circus as the elephant, and probably none is more sagacious. Thus appropriately, the managers of the Barnum & Bailey circus, coming with its acres of tents to Fresno next Thursday, September 10th, for two performances and a street parade, turned to Harry J. Mooney, trainer of the circus herd of over a score of beasts, to provide something out of the usual routine as a feature.

The result is the only baseball game of its kind ever played and the most convulsingly ludicrous one. Three elephants participate—pitcher, batter and gloved and masked catcher. They enter into the sport as keenly enthusiastic as human participants.

Pilot hits a foul, starts for first base and returns reluctantly at the umpire's command. He strikes ineffectively and allows three balls to pass. Then pitcher and catcher hold a whispered conference over the critical situation. Pilot awaits the next ball pitched, drops his bat and is off. First, second and third bases are successfully negotiated, but, alas! the catcher awaits him at home, ball in trunk. Pilot makes a tremendous slide, is called out, and is sent from the field and game, trumpeting his rage at the decision. It's the most convulsing demonstration in the annals of animal training, veterans declare.

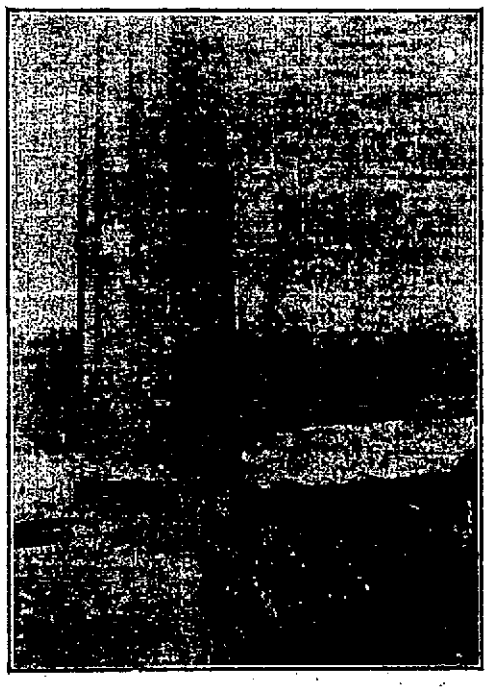

Of the wonderful results of skill, patience and perseverence.

The circus will come here in new dress and trappings and with a performance universally acclaimed as the very best circus ever put together. For the greater part it is entirely new and will offer as a gratuitous addition to the regular arenic program a spectacular prelude entitled "The Wizard Prince of Arabia," a wordless play in which over 1,000 persons take part, including a huge ballet and hordes of camels, horses and elephants. Three rings, four stages and the track are scenes of incessant activity for almost three hours, and only acknowledged champions find a place upon the program. The zoo has been enlarged and offers as a distinctive display a herd of four giraffes, including a baby giraffe born last March. The more familiar animals will be shown in great profusion and fine types of the rhinoceros, hippopotamus, along with the seldom seen specimens of wild animal life help to make up the collection.

The big show will show tomorrow afternoon and evening in Fresno tomorrow.—Adv.

LABOR DAY PARADE MOVIES AT PASTIME

"DEVIL'S EYE" IS SENSATIONAL DETECTIVE PLAY

Scene from "Devil's Eye at the Pastime today.

The Labor Day parade is being shown at the Pastime. The pictures were shown the first time Monday afternoon and came as a surprise to many because of the short time in which they were produced by Mr. Laval and his company. These pictures will be shown today and next Sunday.

Detective Hayes Again.

This time he appears in "The Devil's Eye," (a 4 act feature), which is one of the most sensational pictures ever produced and all of these sensations are actually carried out by this great, "Dare Devil" Detective.

"The Devil's Eye."

Among the guests at the Countess Rita's Masquerade Ball are her lover, Count Hugo, and the Barrys, two brothers, whose fame as diamond dealers has penetrated to every quarter of the globe. They prevail upon the Countess to show them her remarkable diamond, "The Devil's Eye," which is without doubt the largest uncut diamond extant. She sends her lady companion to the strong room to fetch it, and in the meantime the party break up and mingle with the merry throng.

Suddenly a servant appears to announce the fact that the door of the strong room is closed and the lady companion is a prisoner. When the strong room is opened again the lady is found to be dead, and "The Devil's Eye" has disappeared. The police are summoned, and the servant accuses Count Hugo, whom he observed near the safe.

'Ere the police can find him, the Countess has warned him of his danger, and promising to return when he has established his innocence, he starts towards the border, knowing that once it is crossed he is safe from the bloodhounds of the law. The actions of the Countess and Hugo, who, in the excitement of the moment, have acted very foolishly, inteasify the police's suspicion, and they follow hotly on his trail.

It is impossible to describe in a brief synopsis, the manner in which the Count reaches the Border. With consummate skill the producer of this drama has made full use of the talent and unparalleled daring of an actor, who is never more happy than when flaunting death in the face.

Three times three does he risk his life jumping from high bridges, climbing perilous heights, riding on horseback down steep precipices, and in fact, defying death in every possible form. The chase is one succession of thrills and daredevil feats, until at last the Border is reached.

The Count's next step is to go to Amsterdam, which, being the diamond market of the world, is the place in which the thieves will seek to dispose of their booty.

After a trying time, in which he finds himself staring death in the face times out of number, he is surprised to find that the Barry brothers stole the Diamond, and have it in their possession.

In order to prove his case against them he taps the telephone wires and records all their telephonic conversations on the Dictaphone Thus obtaining valuable evidence.

He then communicates with the Countess, and she avails herself of an invitation to spend a week-end at the Barry's house, and is thus enabled to smuggle Hugo into their house, where he learns that the diamond is hidden in a basket which is suspended on a wire stretched from one tall chimney to another in the factory where the Barrys are conducting an illegal process for improving the lustre of diamonds.

The Count makes a bold bid to obtain the diamond. He climbs out along the wire, until he reaches the basket in which it is hidden. His dangers are manifold, for the basket is suspended at a great height, and while he is laboriously working his way towards it, a storm arises. In order to prevent the Barrys interfering with Hugo, whilst performing this dangerous operation, Countess Rita steals up into their secret laboratory, and handcuffs one of the brothers.

Finding that the game is played, he makes his way to a switch, which has been prepared to destroy the factory in the event of such a discovery taking place.

A few moments later a terrific explosion rends the air, the two immense chimneys totter to the ground, and the factory is blown to atoms. This brings the Count hurtling from his perilous perch to the ground, but fortunately his fall is broken, and his life saved.

Hugo has now established his innocence, recovered "The Devil's Eye," and brought the thieves to justice. No obstacle remains between him and the Countess, who welcomes him to the kingdom of love with smiles of joy and happiness.

AMERICAN BIG GAME HUNT AT KINEMA

From Wild Animals in Africa—Kinema tomorrow.

When the French government saw some of the recent wild animal pictures they decided that there was a method of permanently preserving living views of these wild creatures whose very existence is being threatened by hunters.

This same idea had been in the mind of Paul Pathe, and by the combination of these two powerful factors the greatest animal pictures ever secured were brought out of the jungle and are being displayed at the Kinema tomorrow and until Saturday.

French Government Pays the Bills

No one man could have afforded the tremendous cost of such an expedition, but with the government at his back and its purse wide open Pathe spared no pains or time in getting a most thorough set of motion pictures.

Alligator and His Dinner Fight

The goat, which is used in Africa to supply both meat and milk, formed a part of the cortege, and one of these unwise animals estrayed only to meet a fee quite unknown to her. She had never retreated from any animal so far, and proceeded to butt this one, too. Of course this was just what the alligator wanted, and she butted somewhat further than she expected. A tussle ensued with an end that might be surmised. However, the big fellow was later killed and brought to camp on a camel's back.

Eagle Resents Stealing Eaglets

One of the party in an endeavor to get some young eagles from their nest met with the task of fighting the mother, a task that was rather disastrous and might have been fatal but for the fact that friends were watching ready with guns and rock sided in with the man.

Many other thrilling episodes were caught by the camera man and form a part of this great record and defy description excepting to the eye as seen in these actual living pictures.

Dorothy Gish as Attractive as Ever

Besides a Keystone comedy and the regular Pathe Daily War News, there are first an attractive picture of Dorothy Gish, semi-humorous, semi-tragic such as only this little lady can carry with success, and also the next installment of our Mutual Girl with a possible but not final solution to the theft of her camera.

Today's Program

Today there is an exciting and thrilling tale of a gang of crooks in a large city and their battles with the police force. Also a Majestic Film her comedy and another featuring Bunny, the ever-present fat man, and a very excellent issue of the Path Weekly.—Adv.

$1,000 VAUDEVILLE AT PLAZA THEATER

ALL FEATURE BILL AT POPULAR PLAY-HOUSE

Milton and Dolly Nobles, headliners at the Plaza Theater

"Thousand Dollar Vaudeville at the Plaza!

This is all that it requires to fill this popular place of amusement every night. For people have learned that when Manager Hesse says he has a thousand dollar vaudeville show that he means it. It is a show way above the ordinary and one that is made up exclusively of feature acts.

That is the bill that opens tonight at the Plaza for the last four nights of the week and which is sure to entertain record crowds.

Bartello & Co.

—This company of exponents of strength have an act that is good all the way through and which is a genuine novelty as well as the most entertaining act and one that is to be admired in every way.

Singing Conidienne.

This is Marie Leeds, the pretty and petite little comedienne whose work has set audiences to shrieking with glee everywhere that she has appeared. Her work is the kind that is fresh and spontaneous and the manner in which she delivers her funny sayings is altogether irresistible.

"The Tenderfoot's Troubles."

This is the funny Western novelty comedy that has made such a tremendous hit everywhere that it has been given. It is filled with the funniest kind of comedy and has an abundance of comedy running through it. This is the sort of fun that has the true Western atmosphere and it abounds in Western customs and ideas of fun.

Captain Brunswick & Co. are giving this act and have made it a remarkable success. There are three men in the company and they have been chosen for their special talents in this work.

"The Auto Suggestion Club."

A delightful skit by Milton and Dolly Nobles is the big feature of the bill. These people were originally dramatic stars who deserted that line of work because of the possibilities they saw in vaudeville. They were among the first to do this and the success they made of it tempted other stars to do likewise, until today it is the commonest happening of the theatrical world.

Milton and Dolly Nobles have followed vaudeville as a permanent profession and produced a number of very funny and clever skits. Their act here is one of the funniest in vaudeville.

Burlesque Roller Skating.

The burlesque roller skating act of Jesty & Rodgers is one of the most clever of its kind and has real comedy all through it.

Of course there will be the regular Keystone picture, which is one of the best shown yet.

Tickets should be reserved in advance for this show. This can be done over phone 942. Shows commence at 7:45 and 9:15.—Adv.

JOHN COFFEE HAYS IS RETIRED BY MT. WHITNEY CO.

Has Been President of Visalia Company During Past Seven Years

Said to Be Part of Reorganization Plan of John Hays Hammond

VISALIA, Sept. 8.—At a meeting of the directors of the Mount Whitney Power and Electric Company held this morning, John Coffee Hays was retired from the office of president. The directors present were Mr. Hays, Sue Mitchell, C. E. Baker, Ben M. Maddox and C. M. Longan. Mr. Hays has been president of the Mount Whitney Company for the past seven years, during its greatest period of development and construction. The action taken by the directors today is presumed to be a part of a reorganization plan which has been under way for several months past, since the advent here of P. M. Longan, representing the John Hays Hammond interests.

Mr. Hays recently returned from San Francisco, where he underwent a serious operation. The action of the directors had been expected for some weeks and has created little stir in business circles.

PACKING PLANT GETS OFFERS OF LOCATIONS

Article in This Paper of Plant to Be Rebuilt Is Read By New Yorkers

LINDSAY, Sept. 8. — That other cities are alive to the benefits of commercial industry and to the profits derived from factories, is demonstrated by the letters that are being received by Chas. Burr, district manager of the Randolph Fruit Co., at this place. Recently there appeared in the Fresno Republican an article in reference to the rebuilding of the packing plant that was destroyed by fire. Manager Burr has received letters from as far east as Utica, N. Y., and as far north as Vancouver, B. C., telling of the exceptionally fine locations that were to be had in these cities if his company contemplated moving their plant to any other city. As Lindsay is the Queen City of the Citrus Belt of California, having shipped more carloads of oranges last season than any other single station in the state, it would be hard to find a more desirable location for an orange packing plant than the present location at Lindsay, which has been decided upon for the new plant.

PLAN NEW CHURCH FOR ORANGE COVE

Presbyterian Society Has Been Organized and Plans to Build on Property Owned; News Notes

ORANGE COVE, Sept. 8.—Dr. Warren H. Wilson, superintendent of the Presbyterian Department of Church and Country Life, of New York, accompanied by Rev. E. P. Shire of Dinuba, spent the bigger part of the day Friday in Orange Cove. The Presbyterians have an organized congregation in the Cove, which has for some time past held Sunday school and services in the Navelencia school house, but it is now their intention to erect a church building in the town of Orange Cove on six lots now acquired. The lots have been graded and city water mains extended to them, and the work on the new church edifice will begin in the early fall.

The water crew of the Santa Fe railroad has a train on the siding and is putting in a water main the whole length of their yards, from the depot in the north to the section house on the south. Pipe will also be extended to the cattle corrals. These lines will be furnished with water from the city water works.

The new sheds of the Hume-Bennett lumber company are now completed. The capacity of these buildings have just been doubled.

George N. Packard has completed boring an irrigation well on his place near the school house. The well affords an excellent flow of pure soft water, an overabundance for his twenty acres.

FOUR GENERATIONS MEET IN REUNION

FAMILY OF FIFTY MEET TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT OAKDALE

Reunion of McLaughlin Family at Oakdale—Fifty attend, representing four generations.

OAKDALE, Sept. 8.—Four generations of Laughlins, and every member of the family of fifty, but four, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Laughlin of Oakdale, here on Friday.

The family gatherings was unique in many ways. With the exception of but one member, a grandson, Gilbert Moore of Farber, Mo., every member of the family is a citizen of California, and most of them are natives. The Laughlins were married in Osage county, Mo., June 5, 1864, and came to Modesto five years later. They are the parents of ten children. Four generations of Laughlins were here for the reunion and golden wedding celebration which had been delayed because of illness among the younger members of the family. The four generations were the great grand parents, their daughter, Mrs. J. V. Crow, her daughter, Mrs. L. C. Adams, and the latter's 2-year-old baby daughter. Mr. Laughlin is 74 years of age and his wife 66. She was married at the age of 16. The head of the clan is a prosperous farmer, and although he has retired from active life, says he is still able to do a good day's work on a farm in California.

LINDSAYITES PREPARE FOR REVIVAL SEASON

Large Tabernacle Is Built in Eight Hours By Crew of Volunteer Men

LINDSAY, Sept. 8—Preparations for the coming revival in Lindsay are being speedily carried on. One of the remarkable features was the practical erection of a large frame tabernacle, 80x100 feet, in about eight hours today. Work began about 9 o'clock this morning with a large crew of volunteers, and this evening only a part of the roof remained to be placed in order to complete the structure. The building will seat about 1600 people. Two meetings will begin next Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Christian church of this place. Rev. Floyd John Evans will have charge of the services, assisted by several able singers.

ORANGE MARKET WILL BE GOOD FOR VALLEY

War in Europe Will Leave Open Market; to Guard Unripe Shipments

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 8—It was stated by leading orange growers and packers today that owing to the prospects for an exceptionally early Washington navel season this year every effort is to be made to prevent the shipping of immature fruit this fall. It is pointed out that because of the delays in shipping from the West Indies and the elimination of all oranges from Europe due to the war, the Tulare county navels will secure a practically free market even if no shipments are made before November 15.

This year, it is stated, if organization work will prevent, the market will not be depressed early in the year by consignments of immature and poorly colored fruit.

MERCED JUSTICE FILES CONTEST

MERCED, Sept. 8—I. J. Buckley, justice of the peace of township No. 1, Snelling, today filed a contest of the election of J. C. Larson to that office, alleging irregularities in the count of the ballots and illegal voting in Merced Falls and Hopeton precincts. Larson defeated Buckley in the recent primary election by one vote. Under the new law, election contests supersede other court matters and must be set for trial that an early date after filing, and indications are that this contest will be in the superior court next week.

TURLOCK SHIPMENTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Total of 1251 Cars Sent Out, Over 500 Each of Two Melon Crops

TURLOCK, Sept. 8. — The heaviest period of the season's shipping is now over, and figures obtained from the Southern Pacific freight office show a substantial increase of shipments of nearly all the products of the Turlock irrigation district over those of the season of 1913.

It has been a big season for both watermelons and cantaloupes, particularly the latter. During the months of July and August of this year, 50 cars of cantaloupes were shipped from Turlock, against 210 cars during the same period in 1913. The record of the two months shows 551 cars of watermelons, an increase of twelve cars over July and August of last year.

The outgoing freight for the present season, from July 1 to September 7, makes the following excellent showing:

Product.	Cars.
Watermelons	577
Cantaloupes	551
Peaches	71
Stock	12
Casabas	5
Sweet potatoes	37
Hay	6
Dried fruit	10
Canned fruit	8
White grapes	3
Miscellaneous products	20
Total	1251

The first wine grapes were shipped out this week—one car to George West & Son's winery at Sierra Vista, and two cars to Bay Point. Shipments will steadily increase from now on until the crop is picked.

MOTORBIKE RUNS INTO AUTOMOBILE

Both Machines Are Badly Wrecked at Bridge Near Dinuba But No One Is Injured; News Brevities

DINUBA, Sept. 8—A motorcycle completely demolished, and an automobile badly damaged, was the result of a collision between the machines, late last evening, at the Madison ranch corner, between this place and Reedley. The automobile, occupied by a man and two women, probably tourists, was traveling north at a very high rate of speed. The motorcycle was one of a number ridden by members of the Bakersfield Motorcycle club, on its way to Stockton to participate in races at that place. At the crossing a bridge hides the view of the cross roads and the motorcyclist crashed into the side of the auto without warning. Luckily no one was injured. The accident is a reminder of the accident in which Millard Fenwick lost his life a few weeks ago, when his motorcycle crashed into the side of a large car, on a similar corner, just north of town.

That the Santa Fe rail road, might be induced to build a spur track from North Dinuba to the town proper in the event of a cannery being established here, is one of the many expressions in local business circles since the opening of the cannery matter by the visit of Vernon Campbell, of Porterville, to Dinuba, yesterday. The cannery would create a volume of business in which the Santa Fe people might wish to participate. Such a project has been talked of many times in the past, but to date, the railroad company has taken no definite action in the matter.

Arthur Kaiser left this morning for Porterville, where he will make motion pictures of the cannery at that place for use by the Tulare county board of trade, after which he will proceed to Bakersfield, where he will remain for a week, assisting Secretary Tom Burke, of the Kern county board in getting subjects for their exhibits at the expositions.

SELMA, September 8.—"Selma, the Home of the Peach," in blazing electric letters is to be placed across one of the streets of this city at a point where it will command the attention of passengers on passing trains, and the motorists who travel the state highway. The Merchants' Association is behind the project and the merchants expect to put up a sign which will be out of the ordinary and therefore compel more attention than the signs usually used by cities of this size. The association therefore is asking the various manufacturers of electric signs to submit designs with their figures, and a committee will select from these different ideas the one best suited to the needs of the city.

He made an extended talk in which he reviewed the policies of the Progressive party, and accomplishments of the present state administration, and indicated some of the things for which he stands and which he proposes to advocate if elected to the upper branch of congress. He was given liberal applause at the mention of the fact that if elected he would be found always fighting on the side of those things which would be of the greatest benefit to the common people.

Barclay McCowan, candidate for district attorney, also made a short address in which he stated what his policy would be if elected to the district attorneyship of Kern county.

FISHER IN LEAD OF STATE HITTERS

Fisher Gains Five Points and Howard Loses Five

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8. — The week ending with Sunday's games saw Del Howard, manager of the San Francisco team, passed out of first place among the Pacific Coast league's batsmen by Gus Fisher, the Portland backstop. Evidently Harry Wolverton's Sacramento pitchers served the very sort of baseball that Fisher eats, for he improved his average during the week from 384 to 353, while Howard was slipping from a standing of 355 to 350. Catcher "Rowdy" Elliott of Venice is the third ranking man among those who have played in a majority of the games this season. His average is 315. Next come Wolter, Los Angeles, 310, and Justin Fitzgerald, San Francisco, one-time league leader, now ranking 306.

Besides topping the league in games won, Portland leads in the matter of club batting at the same figure as last week, 278, followed by Los Angeles 273; Oakland 261; Missions (Sacramento) 258; San Francisco and Venice tied at 257.

Venice is the best for the season, ranking 965, a drop of one point from last week. The others rate as follows: San Francisco, 963; Oakland, 961; Portland, 960; Los Angeles, 957; Missions, 956.

Hari Maggart, Los Angeles, leads the run-makers with 96, warmly pressed by Carlisle, Venice, and Wolter, Los Angeles, who are tied with 95.

Rodgers of Portland, has stolen 61 bases and has no close competitor for first honors.

Among the long distance scatters, Lober of Portland is the foremost home-run getter, having circled the bases nine times; Wolter has 18 three-baggers to his credit, Eskoros, Portland, Ness, Oakland, are tied for leadership among two-base hitters with 31 each.

Among the pitchers who have been worked often Higginbotham of Portland stands out foremost with a percentage of 668 for 35 games played. However, Jack Ryan of Los Angeles has 17 victories against 5 defeats and stands 680. Martinont, Portland, is rated as an 800 pitcher but he has appeared so far in only ten games.

National League

BOSTON, 8; NEW YORK, 3

BOSTON, Sept. 8.—Boston took the lead in the National League race today by defeating New York, 8 to 3, in the final game of the series. James held the visitors to three hits; one of them a triple and another a double. Besides hitting Marquard, Fromme and Wiltse for fifteen safeties, the home team played baseball far different from that displayed yesterday afternoon.

Boston's only slip-up came when James threw wild to first in the third inning and allowed Doyle to reach third.

New York's error came when Doyle threw Moran's rap into the dugout.

James was Boston's pitching selection, while Marquard went into the box for New York.

CHICAGO, 4; CINCINNATI, 3

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—A batting rally started by Good in the tenth inning, coupled with his daring base running when he scored from second on a short single to right, gave Chicago a 4 to 3 victory over Cincinnati in the last game the visitors played here this season.

The locals punched hits off Douglass and took an early lead over the visitors, but Lavender's wildness enabled Cincinnati to tie the count.

After each pitcher was relieved the game diverted into a pitcher's battle between Ames and Zabel, with the latter having all the better of the argument. Score:

PHILADELPHIA, 5; BROOKLYN, 4

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Philadelphia made a clean sweep of the series with Brooklyn by winning today's game. The score was 5 to 4. Reulbach was hit hard in only one inning, but in the seventh the home team won the game on two passes, a double by Magee, a sacrifice fly and an error by Cutshaw. Score:

DOUBLE-HEADER DIVIDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Washington and Philadelphia divided a double-header today, the home team taking the first game, 2 to 1, and the visitors winning the second, 9 to 4.

Shaw shut out the Athletics in the first game. He allowed more hits than Bush, but was good in pinches and was aided by three fast double plays. Washington scored a run in the first inning on Milan's triple and a single and another in the seventh on Mitchell's triple and a sacrifice fly.

Philadelphia drove Johnson from the box in the fourth inning of the second game, twelve hits having been made off his delivery. Scores:

BOSTON, 6; NEW YORK, 5

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Boston wound up its short series here today with a 6 to 5 victory over New York. The locals got off to a great start, scoring all their runs in the opening inning, three being counted off the delivery of Gregg. Shore went in cold and was wild. An intentional pass by Fisher to Carrigan in the eighth led the way to defeat for New York. Shore surprised with a single, filling the bases, with two down. Fisher then passed Hoonor, forcing Hoblitzell in with the winning run. Score:

DETROIT, 3; CHICAGO, 1

DETROIT, Sept. 8.—Rube Oldham, a recruit southpaw, pitched Detroit to a 3 to 1 victory over Chicago today. 1 BULLET OUT OF 5,000 FATAL

A regular army officer is my authority for saying that during a battle only one bullet out of every 5,000 fired kills an enemy.

Two armies each of 50,000 men might go into action with 100 rounds of ammunition. These armies could discharge at each other 10,000,000 bullets.

If only one shot in 1,000 took effect, 5,000 men on each side would be killed or wounded. That would be a heavy casualty list, as the army officer says, the artillery fire is more destructive than rifle fire.

To the cannon and not to the rifle belongs the greater destruction in battle.—From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

INVESTIGATED BEFORE THE RESCUE

"Is she going to marry the young man who saved her from drowning?"

"I think so."

"But is she sure that he is able to support her in the style to which she has been accustomed?"

"Yes, she looked him up in Brainstreet's before she fell in."—From the Houston Post.

SEALS CREEPING NEARER LEADERS

Oaks' Misplays Cause of Defeat at Hands of San Franciscans

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—By winning from Oakland here today while Portland was losing to Los Angeles in the southland, the Seals narrowed the distance between themselves and the league leaders to slightly less than two full games. The Oaks outhit the Seals almost two to one, but five misplays accounted for all but one of the San Francisco runs, two errors by Bowling, late of the Union Association, "fried" out by Oakland at second base, being especially costly. FEW THRILLS IN CIRCUIT EVENTS

King Coachman Victor in Nutmeg; Airdale Wins Acorn

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 8.—Small fields and races with few thrills were offered at the second day of the Grand Circuit meeting at Charter Oak park this afternoon. All three events were stake races for $2,000 purses, the Nutmeg going to King Coachman, driven by Tommy Murphy, after five heats. King Coachman was beaten by Rastus in the first two because of bad behavior, and the latter failed to make any opposition in the last two heats for the same reason.

The Acorn, 2:24 trot for three-year-olds, was won in hollow fashion by Airdale, none of the other entries being able to push her hard.

The best race of the day developed in the second heat of the Elmwood 2:12 trot when Brighton B. nosed out Marta Bellini at the wire in a stiff drive down the stretch, the effort forcing Dickinson to withdraw the brown mare after, which Murphy had no trouble warding off Harry J. S.

CHAMP BASE STEALER OF SENATORS

Clyde Milan.

Clyde Milan, outfielder for the Washington Senators, is one of the team's hardest hitters and has the undisputed title of its champion base-stealer. When the statisticians get busy at the end of the season Milan's name is usually among the topliners of the major leagues for records in base purloining. This season he was injured and was out of the game for several weeks.

MISSIONS LOCATE SOUTHPAW SLANTS

Listless Playing of Venice Aids in Their Defeat

OAKLAND, Sept. 8.—Listless playing by Venice and a capacity on the part of the Missions for finding Roy Hitt's southpaw slants, gave the former Sacramento team a 5 to 1 victory today over the Southerners. Poor base running by the Missions prevented the score being more one-sided. Score:

YALES' GOLFERS ARE ELIMINATED

Out of Inter-Collegiate Finals First Time in Eleven Years

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 8.—For the first time in eleven years, Yale will not be in the final for the annual team golf championship of the Inter-collegiate Golf association, as her representatives were eliminated today by the Princeton team, a point score of 5 to 4 in the foursomes and singles on the Garden City Golf club's course.

This was an unexpected defeat, as Yale has held the team prize for the last nine years. The New Haven collegians won two of the three foursomes, but got only two of the six single matches.

Harvard made almost a clean sweep of the nine contests with Pennsylvania, winning all the singles, but losing one of the foursomes played early in the day. Harvard and Princeton will fight it out tomorrow when their teams will meet in the final matches for the first time since 1905, when the Cambridge men were the victors over the same links.

POTTER ELIMINATED IN GOLF CONTEST

California Title Is Now Sure to Go to a Californian

DELMONT, Sept. 8.—The contest for the California golf title became a purely California matter today, as O. W. Potter, the only representative from the state of Washington, was eliminated by Heinrich Schmidt of the Claremont Country Club, Berkeley. Schmidt, who is a favorite for final honors, showed the top of his form today.

Robin Hayne of the Burlington Country Club disposed of Kenneth Montcalm with ease. He will meet Schmidt tomorrow.

In a flight between Southern California players today, A. A. French of the Annandale club, pulled out ahead of Jack Jevne after a close contest. Jevne was one down to the sixteenth green, where he drew level, only to lose the last two holes by erratic work.

Jack Neville, who will be called upon to defend his title of California champion, had the best of the draw, is sailing along easily. Experts picked from a winner in his play with W. W. Campbell of the Virginia club tomorrow.

C. E. Madd, who defeated Vincent Whitney today, meets Harry K. Davis of the Presidio Golf Club, of San Francisco, who is making low medal scores in every round.

The championship play is narrowed down now to three players of the San Francisco district, one from San Jose, one from Burlingame, one from Monterey, and two from Southern California.

Mrs. Thomas S. Baker of Burlingame, and Mrs. A. H. Pommer of San Francisco, tied for the lowest best gross score today, each turning in a card of 90. Several matches between women from the opposite ends of the state have made the first round of the championship flight interesting.

PORTLAND LOSES TO LOS ANGELES

Ryan Pitches Splendid Ball to Eighth; Score 7 to 5

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Los Angeles' ability to realize on their hits gave them the game today over Portland, 7 to 5.

Ryan, who has been troubled with a sore arm, pitched good ball until the eighth inning, when the weakened arm gave way to Hughes. Higginbotham lasted into the third inning. Gideon's error let in two runs. Score:

FIREMAN'S INSTINCT IN DOG

Regardless of the physical pain it causes him, a bulldog, owned by Chesson Sullivan of Collingdale, will put out any blaze he sees.

Sullivan first noticed the dog's aversion to fire as he struck a match to light his pipe. The dog leaped forward and extinguished the blaze with its mouth. Its master next tried it with a piece of burning paper, upon which it sprang and put the fire out with its paw. Since then no one in the house can strike a match without the dog leaping forward with genuine fireman's instinct.—Philadelphia Record.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

Notice is hereby given to the electors of the State of California that the following Acts and Initiative Measures will be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden on the third day of November, A. D. 1914:

SACRAMENTO STATE BUILDING BONDS

An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to be known as "state building bonds," to provide a fund for the erection and equipment of state buildings in the city of Sacramento for state purposes, creating a commission to determine the amount to be expended for furnishing and equipping said buildings and accepting a suitable site, creating a sinking and interest fund for the payment of interest on said bonds and the redemption of the same, making an appropriation therefor, making an appropriation of five thousand dollars for the expense of printing and lithographing said bonds and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of creating and providing a fund for the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred, as hereinafter provided, the state treasurer shall immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, provided for in section ten hereof, prepare six thousand suitable bonds of the State of California, in the denomination of five hundred dollars each. The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of three million dollars, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum from the date of issuance thereof and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard of value, and they shall be payable at the office of the state treasurer at the expiration of fifty years from their date. Said bonds shall bear date the second day of July, 1915, and shall be payable on the second day of July, 1965. The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold shall be due and payable at the office of the state treasurer on the second day of January and on the second day of July of each year after the sale of the same. At the expiration of fifty years from the date of said bonds all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest, and the state treasurer shall call in, forthwith pay and cancel the same out of the moneys in the sinking and interest fund provided for in this act. All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the controller, and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned, and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, 1915, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of such office or offices.

SEC. 2. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds, so that such coupons may be removed without injury to or mutilation of the bond. Said bonds shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July, 1915. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

SEC. 3. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared.

SEC. 4. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be sold by the state treasurer at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in such parcels and numbers as shall be directed by the governor of the state; but the state treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date and he may, by public announcement, at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. When a sale is continued, as hereinabove provided, no notice need be given other than the public announcement of the continuance, as hereinabove provided. Before offering any of said bonds for sale, the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured before the date fixed for such sale. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer must give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and costs of such additional notice shall not exceed five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The costs of such publications shall be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated on controller's warrants duly drawn for such purpose. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon, shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the state treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund, to be known and designated as the "state building fund" which fund is hereby established. Any and all sums which may have been paid as accrued interest shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the state treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the "state buildings sinking and interest fund," which fund is hereby established.

SEC. 5. Any and all moneys derived from the sale of the bonds provided for in this act are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the following purpose to wit:

The constructing and equipping of state buildings in the city of Sacramento, State of California, for the various officers boards and commissions of the state, at a cost not to exceed the total sum of three million dollars, such portion of said sum of three million dollars to be used for the furnishing and equipping of said state buildings as may be determined by a board consisting of the governor, the presiding justice of the supreme court, and the state librarian, which board for such purpose is hereby created; provided, however, that no moneys provided for by this act shall be used for such purpose until a site suitable for such purpose, and acceptable to the state board last above created, shall be donated or given to the state, the title thereto to be free and clear of all liens and encumbrances; the number of buildings and their location on the lands to be donated shall be determined by said board in this subdivision of this section mentioned; the plans and specifications for said buildings, and each of the same, shall be prepared under the direction and control of said board in this subdivision of this section provided for.

SEC. 6. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of fifty thousand (50,000) dollars annually, to pay the principal of the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act. Said annual appropriation to continue until the same, together with the accrued interest on the investment thereof, shall be sufficient to pay the principal of said bonds at the maturity thereof.

There is also hereby appropriated from any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act.

There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the other revenues of the state, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

On the 2d day of January and on the 2d day of July of each year, after the sale of any bonds as herein provided for, the state treasurer and state controller shall transfer from the moneys hereby appropriated to the state buildings sinking and interest fund, a sufficient sum of money to pay all interest due and payable on any bonds sold and said transfer shall continue to be so made up to the date of maturity of such bonds and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay the same when the same falls due. On the first Monday in July of each year, after the sale of any of the bonds as in this act provided the state controller and state treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to transfer the moneys hereby appropriated for the payment of the principal of said bonds to the said state buildings sinking and interest fund. The moneys so transferred to the said state buildings sinking and interest fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds, shall be invested from time to time by the state treasurer in United States or state bonds. All interest payable on such bonds so invested shall be paid into the said state buildings sinking and interest fund and be applied and held for the payment of the principal of said bonds or reinvested in other bonds for the payment of such principal, as herein provided.

The principal of all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due, from the "state buildings sinking and interest fund" and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due from said fund and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold and the interest accruing thereon.

The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 7. When the bonds provided for by this act are redeemed, the state treasurer shall mark the same cancelled, and shall, in the presence of the governor destroy the same by burning the said bonds.

SEC. 8. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, 1914, as to all its provisions excepting those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature passing the same.

SEC. 9. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and fourteen, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon the words "For the state's buildings bonds" and such other designation as may be necessary to properly identify this act. In a square immediately below the square containing said words there shall be printed on said ballot the words "Against the state buildings bonds." Opposite the words "For the state buildings bonds" and "Against the state buildings bonds," there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against this act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the state buildings bonds" and those voting against said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the state buildings bonds." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

SEC. 10. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rule as votes cast for state officers; and if it appear that said act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided, and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if the majority of the votes cast aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold shall be due and payable at the office of the state treasurer on the second day of January and on the second day of July of each year after the sale of the same; provided, that the first payment of interest shall be made on the second day of January, 1916, on so many of said bonds as may have been theretofore sold. The state treasurer shall, on the second day of July, A. D. 1965, call in, cancel and destroy all bonds not theretofore sold and issued at the date of the maturity thereof. All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor and countersigned by the state controller and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, 1915, and each shall have the seal of the State of California stamped thereon. SEC. 2. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds so that such coupons may be detached without injury to or mutilation of the bond. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered, and shall be signed by the state treasurer. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds, and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser.

SEC. 3. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in the printing and sale of said bonds. Said amount shall be paid out of the general fund on the state controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 4. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be sold by the state treasurer at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as said state treasurer shall determine; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered for sale, and he may by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, for good and sufficient cause, continue such sale as to the whole of the bonds offered or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select, not exceeding, however, sixty days. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. Drafts and warrants upon said fund shall be drawn upon and shall be paid out of said fund in the same manner as drafts and warrants are drawn and paid for other state work under the control of the said department of engineering.

For the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds a sinking fund, to be known and designated as the "San Francisco state building sinking fund" shall be and the same is hereby created as follows: The state treasurer shall, on the second day of January and on the second day of July, commencing on the second day of January, 1916, and thereafter on the second day of July and the second day of January of each and every year thereafter in which a portion of the bonds sold pursuant to the provisions of this act shall become due, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the said "San Francisco state building sinking fund" such an amount of the moneys appropriated by this act as may be required to pay the principal and interest of the bonds so becoming due and payable in such years. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds, issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest becomes due and payable. There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue, to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

SEC. 6. The principal on all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due from the said San Francisco state building sinking fund and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due from said sinking fund. Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands audited by the state board of control and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold and the interest accruing thereon.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of creating and providing a fund for the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred, as hereinafter provided, the state treasurer shall immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, provided for in section ten hereof, prepare one thousand five hundred suitable bonds of the State of California in the denomination of five hundred dollars each. The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum from the date of issuance thereof, and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard of value, and they shall be payable at the office of the state treasurer, at the expiration of fifty years from their date. Said bonds shall bear date the second day of July, 1915, and shall be payable on the second day of July, 1965. The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold shall be due and payable at the office of the state treasurer on the second day of January and on the second day of July of each year after the sale of the same. At the expiration of fifty years from the date of said bonds all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest and the state treasurer shall call in, forthwith pay and cancel the same out of the moneys in the sinking and interest fund provided for in this act. All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the controller, and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned, and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, 1915, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of such office or offices.

SEC. 2. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds, so that such coupons may be removed without injury to or mutilation of the bond. Said bonds shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July, 1915. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

SEC. 3. The sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared.

SEC. 4. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be sold by the state treasurer at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in such parcels and numbers as shall be directed by the governor of the state; but the state treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date and he may, by public announcement, at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. When a sale is continued, as hereinabove provided, no notice need be given other than the public announcement of the continuance, as hereinabove provided. Before offering any of said bonds for sale, the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured before the date fixed for such sale. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer must give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and costs of such additional notice shall not exceed five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The costs of such publications shall be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated on controller's warrants duly drawn for such purpose. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon, shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the state treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund, to be known and designated as the "state fair grounds fund" which fund is hereby established. Any and all sums which may have been paid as accrued interest shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the state treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the "state fair grounds sinking and interest fund," which fund is hereby established.

SEC. 5. Any and all moneys derived from the sale of the bonds provided for in this act are hereby appropriated and shall be used exclusively for the following purpose, to wit: For the acquiring of additional land for the enlargement and extension of the state fair grounds in the city of Sacramento, the erection of additions to buildings now existing on said grounds, the erection of new buildings on said grounds, the equipping of said buildings and the general improvement and beautification of said state fair grounds as a complete plant for the exhibition and exploitation of the resources and products of this state. The funds herein appropriated shall be expended under the direction and control of the state board of agriculture; provided, that the plans and specifications for the erection of additions to existing buildings and for the erection of new buildings and for the improvement and beautification of said state fair grounds shall be prepared by the state department of engineering subject to the approval of the state board of agriculture, and all work at said state fair grounds to be paid for from the funds created by this act shall be carried out in accordance with the general law governing the construction and prosecution of all public work for the State of California.

SEC. 6. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars annually, to pay the principal of the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act. Said annual appropriation to continue until the same, together with the accrued interest on the investment thereof, shall be sufficient to pay the principal of said bonds at the maturity thereof. There is also hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act. There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum, in addition to the other revenues of the state, as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum. On the 2d day of January and on the 2d day of July of each year, after the sale of any bonds as herein provided for, the state treasurer and state controller shall transfer from the moneys hereby appropriated to the state fair grounds sinking and interest fund, a sufficient sum of money to pay all interest due and payable on any bonds sold, and said transfer shall continue to be so made up to the date of maturity of such bonds and it shall be the duty of the state treasury to pay the same when the same shall fall due. On the first Monday in July of each year, after the sale of any of the bonds as in this act provided, the state controller and the state treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to transfer the moneys hereby appropriated for the payment of the principal of said bonds to the said state fair grounds sinking and interest fund. The moneys so transferred to the said state fair grounds sinking and interest fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds, shall be invested from time to time by the state treasurer in United States, state, county, city and county, municipal or school district bonds issued in the State of California, and such other bonds as are now or may hereafter be authorized by law. All interest payable on such bonds so invested shall be paid into the said state fair grounds sinking and interest fund and be applied and held for the payment of the principal of said bonds or reinvested in other bonds for the payment of such principal, as herein provided. The principal of all said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due, from the state fair grounds sinking and interest fund and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due from said fund and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold and the interest accruing thereon. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 7. When the bonds provided for this act are redeemed, the state treasurer shall mark the same cancelled, and shall, in the presence of the governor, destroy the same by burning the said bonds.

SEC. 8. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, 1914, as to all its provisions excepting those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall go into effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature passing the same.

SEC. 9. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and fourteen, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon the words "For the state fair grounds bonds" and such other designation as may be necessary to properly identify this act. In a square immediately below the square containing said words there shall be printed on said ballot the words "Against the state fair grounds bonds." Opposite the words "For the state fair grounds bonds" and "Against the state fair grounds bonds," there shall be left spaces in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate whether they vote for or against this act, and those voting for said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "For the state fair grounds bonds" and those voting against said act shall do so by placing a cross opposite the words "Against the state fair grounds bonds." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

SEC. 10. The votes cast for or against this act shall be counted, returned and canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rule as votes cast for state officers; and if it appears that said act shall have received a majority of all of the votes cast for and against it at said election as aforesaid, then the same shall have effect as hereinbefore provided and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged, and the governor shall make proclamation thereof; but if the majority of the votes cast aforesaid are against this act then the same shall be and become void.

The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of ten million dollars, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of issuance thereof, and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard value, and they shall be payable at such place in the United States as may be designated in the bonds (full authority to designate such place being hereby conferred on the governor who shall sign said bonds), at the expiration of seventy-four years from their date, subject, however, to redemption by lot as in this act hereinafter provided. Said bonds shall bear date the second day of July, A. D. nineteen hundred and fifteen, and shall be made payable on the second day of July, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine. The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold, shall be due and payable at the place designated in said bonds as aforesaid, on the second day of January, and on the second day of July, of each year after the sale of the same; provided, that the first payment of interest shall be made on the second day of July, nineteen hundred and sixteen, on so many of said bonds as may have been theretofore sold. At the expiration of seventy-four years from the date of said bonds, all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest and likewise all bonds redeemed by lot shall cease to bear interest as in this act provided, and the said state treasurer shall call in, forthwith pay and cancel the same, out of the moneys in the third San Francisco seawall sinking fund provided for in this act, and he shall on the first Monday of July, nineteen hundred and eighty-nine, also cancel and destroy all bonds not theretofore sold. All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the controller, and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, 1915, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state stamped thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned and endorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbent of such office or offices. Each bond shall contain a clause that it is subject to redemption by lot after the year nineteen hundred and fifty four.

SEC. 2. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds so that such coupons may be removed without injury to, or mutilation of the bond. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July, 1915. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

SEC. 3. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 4. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be by the state treasurer sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in such parcels and numbers as said treasurer shall be directed by the governor of the state, under seal thereof, after a resolution requesting such sale shall have been adopted by the board of state harbor commissioners, and approved by either the governor of the state or mayor of the city and county of San Francisco, who shall only approve the same when in their judgment the actual harbor receipts, and those reasonably anticipated, will justify such sale of bonds and the consequent increased burden on harbor receipts; but said treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date and he may, by public announcement at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof, offered, to such time and place as he may select. Before offering any of said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or will mature before the date fixed for such sale. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The cost of such publication shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, on controller's warrants duly drawn for the purpose. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the "third San Francisco seawall fund" and must be used exclusively for the construction of wharves, piers, seawall, state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith on the water front of the city and county of San Francisco. Drafts and warrants upon said fund shall be drawn upon and shall be paid out of said fund in the same manner as drafts and warrants are drawn upon and paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund. The amount that shall have been paid at the sale of said bonds as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be, by the state treasurer, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the "third San Francisco seawall sinking fund."

SEC. 5. For the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds a sinking fund, to be known and designated as the "third San Francisco seawall sinking fund," shall be, and the same is hereby created, as follows, to wit: The state treasurer, after the second day of July, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, shall on the first day of each and every month thereafter, after the sale of such bonds, take from the San Francisco harbor improvement fund such sum as, multiplied by the time in months, the bonds then sold and outstanding have to run, will equal the principal of the bonds sold and outstanding at the time said treasurer shall so take said sum from said San Francisco harbor improvement fund, less the amount theretofore taken therefrom for said purpose; and he shall place the sum in the third San Francisco seawall sinking fund created by this act. Said state treasurer shall, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose, employ the moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of the bonds of the United States, or of the State of California, including any bonds authorized, issued and theretofore sold under authority of this act or of the several counties or municipalities of the State of California, which said bonds shall be kept in a proper receptacle, appropriately labeled; but he must keep always on hand a sufficient amount of money in said sinking fund with which to pay the interest on such of the state bonds herein provided to be issued as may have heretofore been sold. The state treasurer may only purchase such bonds authorized and issued under authority of this act, with moneys in said sinking fund as have been theretofore sold. And to provide means for the payment of interest on the bonds that may be sold and outstanding, said treasurer shall monthly take from the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, and pay into said seawall sinking fund, an amount equal to the monthly interest then due on all bonds then sold, delivered and outstanding. The board of state harbor commissioners are hereby authorized and directed by the collection of dockage, tolls, rents, wharfage and cranage to collect a sum of money sufficient for the purposes of this act over and above the amount limited by section two thousand five hundred and twenty-six of the Political Code of the State of California. Between the first and tenth day of May, in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-five and between the first and tenth day of May of each year thereafter until the maturity of said bonds, the said treasurer shall, in the presence of the governor, proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund at that time, and shall thereupon and before the tenth day of June following, give notice by public advertisement to be inserted twice a week for two weeks in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and also in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, stating the number of bonds so drawn and that the principal of said bonds will be paid on presentation to the treasurer on or before the second day of July, following, and that from and after such last named date, all interest upon bonds thus drawn shall cease, and it shall be the duty of the treasurer as soon as said bonds so drawn by lot are surrendered to him and paid to cancel the same, and the interest coupons thereon, and each year beginning with the year nineteen hundred and fifty-five, the said treasurer shall in the manner aforesaid, proceed to draw by lot such an amount of bonds as shall be requisite to exhaust as nearly as may be the amount in said sinking fund, and proceed in the manner hereinabove stated. In the event that the state treasurer employs moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of any bonds authorized, issued and theretofore sold under authority of this act, than at the time in this section provided for the drawing of bonds by lot, and immediately preceding such drawing the state treasurer shall retire and cancel any bonds in said sinking fund authorized, issued and sold under authority of this act, and the amount in said sinking fund remaining at the time shall constitute the amount for the purposes of such drawing. After the payment of all said bonds, the surplus or balance remaining in said sinking fund, if any there be, shall forthwith be paid into the San Francisco harbor improvement fund. At the time of the respective drawings by lot, as aforesaid, and also at the maturity of said state bonds, said treasurer shall sell the United States or other bonds then in said sinking fund, except bonds authorized, issued and sold under authority of this act, at governing market rates, after advertising the sale thereof in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds hereby authorized to be issued, and shall use the proceeds for the payment of such bonds as may be drawn by lot, and at the maturity of said bonds outstanding shall pay and redeem said matured outstanding bonds out of said moneys in said fund in extinguishment of said bonds on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 6. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any party interested, or the governor, or the attorney general, or a committee of either branch of the legislature, or a joint committee of both, or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 7. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay the interest of said bonds, when the same falls due, out of the sinking fund provided for in this act, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 8. This act, if adopted by the people, shall take effect on the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred and fourteen, as to all its provisions except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes, and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature passing this act.

SEC. 9. This act shall be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden in the month of November, nineteen hundred and fourteen, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon and at the end thereof, the words, "For the San Francisco harbor improvement act of 1913," and in the same square under said words the following, in brevier type: "This act provides for the improvement of San Francisco harbor and for the payment of all costs thereof out of San Francisco harbor improvement fund." The governor of this state shall include the submission of this act to the people, as aforesaid, in his proclamation calling for said general election.

SEC. 10. The cost of such publications and notice shall be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated on controller's warrants duly drawn for said purpose. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon, shall be forthwith paid by said treasurer into the state treasury and said treasurer shall keep him a separate fund, to be known and designated as "Los Angeles state building fund," hereinafter provided for.

The selection, purchase or acquisition of a site for a state building in the city of Los Angeles, the improvement thereof and the construction, equipment and furnishing of a state building thereon. A commission is hereby created to consist of the governor of the state, the president of the state railroad commission and the presiding judge of the district court of appeals in the second appellate district, who shall constitute a commission to locate and acquire said site and to construct said building, with power to determine the respective amounts of said appropriation to be paid for said site, for the improvement thereof, for the construction of said building and for furnishing or equipping the same. Such commission shall receive no compensation for services, but necessary traveling expenses of the members thereof shall be paid out of the moneys herein appropriated. Immediately after the taking effect of this act, said commission shall proceed to select, locate, purchase or acquire a suitable site in said city of Los Angeles for the erection thereon of a state building for the use and occupancy of such officers, departments, boards or commissions of the state as now are or hereafter may be authorized or required by law to maintain offices or departments in said city of Los Angeles. Said commission shall have the power to receive in the name of the State of California gifts or donations of any such site or toward the purchase thereof, together with any and all appurtenances connected therewith. Title to any property so purchased or acquired shall be taken in the name of the State of California. When said commission shall have selected said site and determined the amount to be paid therefor, if the same is to be purchased, such commission shall present a claim therefor to the state board of control and upon the approval thereof the state controller shall draw a warrant for the amount thereof, payable out of the sum hereby appropriated, in favor of the owner or owners of such property selected and agreed to be purchased as herein provided, such warrant or warrants when so drawn to be delivered to such commission and the same shall be used for the purchase of such site, taking a deed therefor to the State of California, said deed to be delivered to the secretary of state of the State of California and to be executed of record in the office of the recorder of the county of Los Angeles and thereafter filed in the office of the secretary of state.

Immediately after the acquisition of such site said commission shall provide for the construction of a state building thereon adequate for said purpose and shall have power to expend the funds available therefor under this act, provided that the plans and specifications for the erection of such building and for the improvement of said ground shall be prepared by the state department of engineering and all work involved in such construction or improvement to be paid for from funds created by this act shall be carried out in accordance with the general law governing the construction and prosecution of all public work for the State of California.

After the purchase or acquisition of said property and its improvement and the construction and furnishing or equipment of the building thereon has been completed as herein provided, the management and control of the same shall vest in the officer upon whom said duties are imposed by law and the legislature shall, from time to time, make suitable provisions therefor.

SEC. 6. For the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds a sinking fund, to be known and designated as "Los Angeles state building sinking fund" shall be made and is hereby established and shall be constituted as follows: The state treasurer, on the second day of January and on the second day of July, commencing on the second day in January, 1916, and thereafter on the second day of July and the second day of January of each and every year in which a portion of the bonds sold pursuant to the provisions of this act or any interest thereon shall become due, shall transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "Los Angeles state building sinking fund" such an amount of the moneys appropriated by this act as may be required to pay the principal and interest of the bonds so becoming due and payable at each or such respective dates. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act as said principal and interest respectively become due and payable. There shall be collected annually in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected such a sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as herein provided and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

SEC. 7. The principal of all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due from the said "Los Angeles state building sinking fund" and the interest on all of said bonds sold shall be paid from said sinking fund at the time said interest becomes due; and the faith and credit of the State of California are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal of said bonds so sold and the interest accruing thereon.

SEC. 8. The state controller and the state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all of their proceedings under this act, and shall transmit to the governor an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, to be by the governor laid before the legislature biennially; and all books and papers pertaining to the matter provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of the governor, the attorney general, a committee of either branch of the legislature, a joint committee of both, any person interested or any citizen of the state.

SEC. 9. This act, if approved and adopted by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon at the general election to be held in November, 1914, shall take effect five days after the date of the official declaration or such vote by the secretary of state so to call its provisions, except those relating to and necessary for its submission to the electors and for returning, canvassing and the issuance of the official declaration of such vote and as to said excepted provisions this act shall take effect in accordance with the provisions of the constitution and laws of the state relative to initiative measures to be submitted directly to the electors.

SEC. 10. This act shall be submitted to the electors of the State of California for adoption or rejection by them at the next general election to be holden in the month of November, 1914, and all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon in the manner required by law such ballot title or designation of this act as has been prepared in accordance with law and opposite such designation or proposition to be voted on, in separate lines the words "YES" and "NO" shall be printed. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "YES" his vote shall be counted in favor of the adoption of this act; if he shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "NO" his vote shall be counted against the adoption of this act. The returns of the state shall include the submission of this act to the electors as aforesaid in his proclamation calling said general election.

SEC. 11. The votes cast for or against the adoption of this act shall be counted, returned, canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rule as those cast for state officers; and if it appear therefrom that this act shall have received a majority of all the votes cast upon the question of its adoption as aforesaid and that a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon approve said act, then it same shall take effect as hereinbefore provided, but if a majority of the votes cast as aforesaid are against the adoption of this act, then the same shall be and remain void. The secretary of state shall in accordance with the provisions of the constitution and law make official declaration of the vote thereon and of the result of said election upon the question of the adoption of this act.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to have this act published in at least one newspaper in each county or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout the state for three months next preceding the general election to be holden in the month of November, 1914; the cost of publication shall be paid out of the general fund on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 13. This act shall be known and may be cited as "Los Angeles state building act" and shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of the liabilities herein created shall be paid and discharged in full, but the legislature may, notwithstanding that it is an initiative measure, amend said act in furtherance of its purpose and the legislature may also repeal said act at any time after its adoption if no debts shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof.

STATE UNIVERSITY BUILDING BONDS

Initiative Measure to be submitted directly to the electors

An act authorizing the construction of the unfinished portion of the library building of the University of California, and the construction of a building for assembly use as a recitation building, of a building for the use of the college of agriculture, and of a building for the use of the college of natural sciences as a chemistry building, upon the grounds of said University of California at Berkeley; providing for the issuance of bonds of the state to meet the cost of the foregoing purposes; and providing the necessary moneys for the payment of the principal and interest to become due on said bonds.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The regents of the University of California are hereby authorized to complete the construction of the library building of the University of California, and also to construct a building for general use by said university as a recitation building, a building for the use of the college of agriculture of said university, and a building for the use of the college of natural sciences of said university as a chemistry building; all on the grounds of said university in the city of Berkeley. For the purpose of meeting the cost of such construction, the State of California is hereby authorized to, and shall, incur an indebtedness in the manner provided by this act, in the sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars ($1,800,000).

Immediately upon the taking effect of this act the treasurer of the state shall prepare eighteen hundred ($800) suitable bonds of the State of California, negotiable in form and payable to bearer, and expressing on their face the obligations of the State of California to pay, in gold coin of the United States, the principal amount thereof at the respective dates of maturity hereinafter specified, together with interest, as hereinafter specified, in the denomination of one thousand dollars ($1000) each. Said bonds shall be numbered consecutively from one (1) to eighteen hundred (1800), inclusive, and shall bear date the fifth day of January, 1915. The total issue of such bonds shall not exceed the principal sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars ($1,800,000), and such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent (4½ per cent) per annum upon the principal sum thereof from the date thereof. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the treasurer of the state, at the times and in the manner following, to wit: The first forty (40) of said bonds shall be due and payable on the fifth day of January, 1921; and forty (40) of said bonds in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the fifth day of January in each and every year thereafter, until and including the fifth day of January, 1965. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable at the office of the treasurer of the state on the fifth day of January and on the fifth day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same. The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity, and the said bonds so issued and sold shall on the day of their maturity be paid, as herein provided, and cancelled by the state treasurer. All bonds remaining unsold shall, at the date of the maturity thereof, be cancelled and destroyed by the treasurer of the state. All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of the state, countersigned by the state controller, and endorsed by the state treasurer, and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as hereinbefore provided, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the said thereof be made at a date or dates after the persons so signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices.

SEC. 2. Attached to each of said bonds there shall be an interest coupon for each semi-annual payment of interest thereon, negotiable in form, and payable to bearer, and expressing the obligations of the State of California to pay, in gold coin of the United States, the amount of each semi-annual payment of interest, in gold coin of the United States, at the time of maturity thereof. Said interest coupons shall be so attached that each may be detached without injury to or mutilation of said bond, or injury to, mutilation of, or detachment from said bond of, the remaining coupons the time or payment for each of which has not yet been reached. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered in the chronological order of their time of payment, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the said treasurer. No interest shall be paid on said bonds for such time as may any of said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the day of sale thereof, except to the extent to which accrued interest shall have been paid to the state at the time of such sale by the purchaser of said bond.

SEC. 3. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as in section 1 provided, the state treasurer shall, from time to time, sell such number thereof as the governor of the state may direct, to the highest bidder for cash. The governor of the state shall, from time to time, issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the regents of the university of California. Such resolution shall specify the amount of money which, in the judgment of said the regents of the University of California, shall be required at such time, and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of bonds as will, at the par value thereof, equal said amount of money required according to such resolution of the regents of the University of California. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order, save and except that the state treasurer may sell two or more bonds at the same time in one lot, which lot, however, shall be made up of bonds consecutively numbered, the first of which in number shall be the first bond in number yet unsold. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond or bonds bid for, and to the amount of the accepted bid there shall be added in each case, as a part of the purchase price to be paid by the bidder, the amount of interest which shall have accrued on the bonds bid for between the date of the payment for said bonds and the last preceding interest maturity date. Each bid shall be in writing and signed by the bidder or his agent duly authorized, and shall be deposited with the state treasurer not later than the last business day preceding the date of sale. Each bid shall be accompanied by the deposit with the state treasurer, either in gold or by certified check on a responsible bank within the state of California, to the order of the State of California, of one-tenth of the amount of the par value of the bond or lot of bonds bid for. Such deposit of each unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him immediately upon the next acceptance of his bid, and such deposit of the successful bidder shall immediately upon the acceptance of his bid become and be the property of the State of California and be placed in the state treasury to the credit of the "University of California building fund" hereinafter mentioned, and shall be credited to the successful bidder upon the purchase price of the bonds bid for in case such price is paid in full by him within the time hereinafter prescribed. At the time of sale the state treasurer shall open said bids and accept the bid of the highest bidder for cash, save and except that no bid shall be accepted which is lower in amount than the par value of the bonds bid for, and that the state treasurer may, in his discretion, reject all bids. The purchase price of the bonds sold shall be payable within ten days after the acceptance of the bid thereto, and if not so paid the successful bidder shall have no right in or to said bonds or by reason of said bid, or to the recovery of said deposit hereinbefore mentioned, but shall be entitled to any allowance or credit by reason of such deposit. In case the purchase price is not so paid, the bonds so sold but not paid for shall be resold by the state treasurer upon notice as hereinafter provided in case of original sale. Bonds sold shall be delivered to the purchaser immediately upon, and not before, the payment of the purchase price therefor. Before delivering any of said bonds, the state treasurer shall detach therefrom all interest coupons which have matured before the date of the payment of the purchase price therefor. The state treasurer may, by public announcement at the time and place fixed by him for said sale, continue such sale to such time and place as he may at the time of said continuance designate. When a sale is so continued no notice thereof need be given other than the public announcement of such continuance by the state treasurer as last hereinbefore provided. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for each sale so advertised.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "University of California building fund," and immediately after such sale of bonds the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in said "University of California building fund" the total amount received from the sale of said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the treasurer of the state, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in a fund to be known as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds."

The moneys placed in the "University of California building fund," pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall be used under the direction of the regents of the University of California exclusively for the completion of the construction of said library building and the construction of the other buildings hereinbefore mentioned.

Moneys shall be drawn from said "University of California building fund," for the purposes of this act, upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon claims made by the regents of the University of California and approved by the state board of control.

SEC. 4. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act as said principal and interest become due and payable. There shall be collected each year, and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, such sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds maturing in each year, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the levy and collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds." The state treasurer shall, on the first day of July, 1915, and on the first day of each January and the first day of each July thereafter, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds" such an amount of money as shall be required to pay the interest maturing at the next interest payment date on the amount of said bonds sold and outstanding; and shall likewise, on the first day of January of the year 1921, and the first day of January of each year thereafter in which any of said bonds sold and outstanding mature, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds" such an amount of money as may be required to pay the principal of such of said bonds sold and outstanding as mature in such year.

SEC. 5. The principal and interest of all of said bonds which may be sold shall be paid at the time the same become due from said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds," and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment in full of the principal and interest of said bonds so sold as the same mature. Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon presentation at the state treasurer on or after the day of the maturity of the same of the bond or coupon so maturing, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and required to make such payment. Warrants for such payments shall be duly drawn by the state controller upon the request of the state treasurer.

SEC. 6. There shall be provided in the general appropriation bill to be passed at the next regular session of the legislature sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds and in the advertising of the sale thereof as in this act provided.

SEC. 7. The state controller and state treasurer shall keep full and particular account and record of all their proceedings under this act, and they shall transmit to the governor, in triplicate, an abstract of all such proceedings thereunder, with an annual report, in triplicate, one copy of each to be by the governor laid before each house of the legislature bi-annually. The books and papers pertaining to the matters provided for in this act shall at all times be open to the inspection of any parties interested, or of the governor, the attorney general, or the legislature, or of any citizen of the state.

SEC. 8. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "University of California building bond act," and, after any of the bonds herein provided for have been sold, shall be irrepealable until the principal and interest of all bonds shall have been paid and discharged in full, but the legislature may amend this act at any time in furtherance of its purpose, and may also repeal this act at any time after its adoption, provided that there are at the time no bonds which have been sold thereunder outstanding and unpaid in full as to both principal and interest.

A TRIAL, FRENCH STYLE

Le Juge leaned forward in his seat
A dozen senators to greet.
Polite, but warm, he cried: "Vive!
Vite!"
And motioned to a roll.
But when the fair defendant came
From her luxurious dungeon come,
In gown of violette et creme,
He gurgled: "Ah, Que belle!"

Up spoke le Maitre Labori,
"A flower of innocence!" said he
To which the hearers yelled, "Out!
Out!
Go on! Bis! Bis! Encore!"
And cheers came from the female flocks
That sat around in costly frocks.
(A Yankee princess had a box
With her Ambassador.)

The Prosecutor rose to say
He hoped the learned Court would stay
Emotionally tres frappe
Before this sorceress!
At once a cry of anger low
Shook all his hearers comme il faut:
"Ah, cochon gros! Ah, tete de veau!
Toujours la politesse!"

Le Juge at once he gave a roar
That counsel was un lapin mort
And if he'd kindly step outdoor
They'd fight unto the end.
But people said: "This will not do!
The fight is not polite of you!
Kiss and make up! Embrassez vous!
Comprennez?" They comprenned!

The happy Juge remarked: "Ma foi!
L'etat, you understand, c'est moi!
Let us adjourn us to the Bois
And have a glass of wine!"
Madame remarked: "Enfin! 'Tis done!"
She kissed le Juge upon his bun
And every one kissed every one.
And all went off to dine!

MOTORING ACROSS CANADA

The attempt to "blaze a road" across Canada by motor-car — the journey lasting forty-nine days—was an experience, exciting and thrilling enough while it lasted, writes Thomas A. Willby in the September White World Magazine. Having made the round of the United States on a path-finding and sight-seeing motor tour of 105 days, I looked eagerly around for a fresh world to "conquer," and found it, this time, within the boundaries of the British Empire. I selected Halifax, Nova Scotia, on the Atlantic side of Canada, as my starting point, and Victoria, British Columbia, on the Pacific side, as the goal, and I waited until summer was on the wane before setting out.

In crossing and recrossing the United States I was on comparatively familiar ground. Others had gone before me, there was always more or less of a path, and motoring over the Rockies was merely like rising to high plateaux rather than scaling a mighty range. But in attempting to cross Canada I had no precedent to guide me, and very often I had no road. I had to organize a system of guides, or, rather, the generous-spirited Canadians did so for me. For thousands of miles they sprang on and off my car or ventured with their own machines into the wilderness, to pilot me over those mighty tracts of sparsely-settled land stretching toward the setting sun. Governments sent out their road-gangs to clear the way, town councils and motor clubs welcomed me, mayors entrusted me with messages to their civic colleagues on the Pacific, and premiers gave me written greetings to the Premier of British Columbia, while the wives of the mayors—I believe there is no such rank as "mayoress" in Canada—graciously tied the pennants of their towns or cities on to the car.

BIG SNAKES HOLD UP FIVE

Charles Capuro, his wife and three children, aged 6, 8 and 13 years, had a thrilling experience with a monster blacksnake while they were picking blackberries on the mountain near here. They were about ready to return home when Capuro spied the reptile, and, picking up a stone, he hit it. This maddened the snake and it sprang at Capuro, who was on the edge of a steep cliff, but he knocked the reptile away.

His cries brought his wife and children to his side. They kept quiet, while the snake maintained his position nearby, without making any effort to attack him.

For nearly four hours Capuro and his family were held captive without venturing to move. Then Jacob Pozzaro came along with his dog, and the Capuros made a hasty escape from the scene, while the reptile crept away to some rocks.—Frackville (Pa.) Dispatch to St. Louis Republic.

THE SIX RULES
For the Prevention of Fires in the Mountains
1—MATCHES. Be sure your match is out before you throw it away. Matches whose heads glow after the flame is out are dangerous.
2—TOBACCO. Throw pipe ashes, and cigar or cigarette stumps in the dust of the road and stamp or pinch out the fire before leaving them. Don't throw them into brush leaves or needles.
3—MAKING CAMP. Build a small camp fire. Build it in the open, not against a tree or log. Scrape away the trash from all around it.
4—LEAVING CAMP. Never leave a camp fire, even for a short time, without quenching it with water or earth.
5—BONFIRES. Never build bonfires in windy weather or where there is the slightest danger of their escaping from control. Don't make them larger than needed.
6—FIGHTING FIRES. If you find a fire, try to put it out. If you can't, get word to the nearest U. S. Forest Ranger or State Fire Warden at once. Keep in touch with the rangers.

GRAIN

CHICAGO.—Wheat prices tumbled in headlong fashion today, chiefly on account of reported victories for the allies being taken to mean the possibility of sudden peace. A reaction ensued but the market closed heavy at 5 to 5½c net decline. Corn finished 1¼ to 2¾c off, oats down 1½ to 1¾c to 1¾@1¾c, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a loss of 47½c.

Much activity as well as decided weakness developed in the wheat trade right at the start and here was an extreme break of 6¼c before the market began to rally.

Corn receded with wheat but was better sustained by predictions that the government crop report would be against the bears.

Realizing sales and heavy consignment notices formed the rule in oats. The seaboard demand which has been such a feature of late was today far from being as urgent as heretofore.

Provisions ranged lower in all the active options.

Close: Wheat — Sept., $1.14; Dec., $1.18¾; May, $1.24½.

N. Y. FINANCES

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—More confidence in the financial situation was expressed by domestic bankers today.

Direct connection with Paris was more difficult today, but bankers with French connections were completing arrangements for drawing bills on Bordeaux, the temporary seat of the French government.

Foreign exchanges were slightly easier, cables on demand on London declined about ¼ per cent, but advancing a trifle later in the day. Transfer of $1,000,000 to Canada was made by the local agent of a Canadian bank.

Local money conditions were unchanged as to rates but supply was more limited, last Saturday's bank statement, which was not up to popular expectations, causing some lenders to withdraw from the market. The most interesting item of routine news was the government crop report as to September 1, which showed a decline of over 3 per cent in corn condition, compared with the previous month, and a decline of 7½ per cent in spring wheat. The government's cotton report issued today places the amount of the staple ginned form the 1914 crop to September 1 at a little more than 472,000 bales, or substantially 325,000 less than in the corresponding period of 1913.

Western railway officials report little change in traffic conditions from a year ago.

WHEAT OUTLOOK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Prospects for the spring wheat crop decreased 15,000,000 bushels and for the corn crop 35,000,000 bushels, owing to unfavorable weather during August. Indications now are for a spring wheat crop of 221,000,000 bushels and a corn crop of 2,598,000,000 bushels, according to the Department of Agriculture's forecast issued today. Prospects of oats decreased 37,000,000 bushels, but tobacco prospects increased 71,000,000 pounds; potatoes 1,000,000 bushels, and sweet potatoes 5,000,000 bushels.

Additional details of the crop follows: Spring wheat, condition 63 per cent of a normal; indicated average yield, 12 2 bushels. Corn, condition, 71.7; acre yield, 24.9. Oats, condition, 75.8; acre yield, 29.1. Barley, condition, 82.4; acre yield, 26.3. Buckwheat, condition, 87.1; acre yield, 21.5. White potatoes, condition, 75.8; acre yield, 96. Sweet potatoes, condition, 81.8; acre yield, 93. Tobacco, condition, 71.4; acre yield, 729. Flax, condition, 72.7; acre yield, 8. Rice, condition, 88.9; acre yield, 34.5. Hay, condition, —; acre yield, 1.42. Apples, condition, 61.0.

AGAIN IN OUR MIDST

This is the time of year when the sentimental soul turns from gazing at the western evening sky to say:

"If we could paint this sunset in its actual colors, people would laugh at us, wouldn't they?"—From the Newark News.

FOR EXCHANGE

PIERCE & ANDERSON.

Our exchange specialists have been scouring the country side for properties that we could conscientiously offer to clients who sought profitable exchanges, and have to announce the following:

Level, fertile, highly productive raw land, to exchange in any quantity desired—from 20 to 100 acres—for city property.

160 acres improved to Thompson Seedless, Muscats, peaches and alfalfa, have been put into our hands, with instructions to trade for income property in San Jose, Oakland or San Francisco. This property is desirably located, and can be counted upon to return a good income.

We want some good ranch property in exchange for business property that is now bringing in a revenue of $215 monthly.

If you have something that is worth the money, tell our exchange men about it without delay.

Our exchange lists embrace a number of good houses that are slated for exchange for 20 acre ranches.
The location of these houses makes them very desirable home places.

Remember our Exchange Department is the liveliest real estate institution in Fresno, and is wide awake to the best exchange chances of the day.

DOMESTIC WINE TAX HEAVY ON CALIFORNIA

War Stops Imports; Rise in Price Is Anticipated

Hoped for As Offset to $9,000,000 Levy War May Impose

If Congress passes the proposed tax of 20 cents per gallon on domestic wines, the government will raise approximately $10,000,000, $9,000,000 of which will be paid by the wine men of California. It is estimated that the output of wine in the United States reaches 50,000,000 gallons, and if levied it will be the first time that the government has ever collected tax on domestic wines. As nine-tenths of the wine of the United States is manufactured in California, this state will feel the greatest effect if the proposal of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives becomes a law.

While the tax would almost double the cost of putting the wine on the market, it is very probable that the increase in the price of the wine, because of the European war, would offset the 20 cents per gallon revenue. In the past, imported wines have all come from France. Now with the center of the European war in France and in the Champagne district, the output from that country will be cut off from the world's market. This will mean that South American and other countries will look to the United States for wine, especially Argentina. Central California wine men yesterday pointed out that under those conditions the wine tax would not be a hardship on the industry in this state, as California will at least have the whole United States market.

George P. Beveridge, Central California representative of the California Wine Association, stated yesterday that he had been in communication with his offices in San Francisco, but was unable to state definitely how the tax would effect the California manufacturers. He said that nothing had been agreed upon yet and did not know whether protests would be sent to Washington or not.

The proposed imposition of 2 cents a gallon tax on rectified spirits will affect Central California some, but not greatly. There is some California brandy used in this line, but for the most part corn spirits.

COLLECTOR SCOTT VISITING FRESNO

Anticipates New War Taxes Will Greatly Increase Work of Office

Joseph J. Scott, internal revenue collector for the northern district of California and Nevada, formerly a well known newspaper man, arrived in Fresno last night on a tour of this part of his district, which embraces all of the state north of Kern county. He is at the Sequoia.

Mr. Scott stated that he is here on a tour of inspection of wineries which come under his jurisdiction in connection with the collection of internal revenue on brandy. He was greatly interested in the proposed changes in the internal revenue tax schedules, due to the war, which he anticipated would greatly increase the business of his office, both on account of the proposed tax on wine, and on account of the increase in the income tax.

WILL UNVEIL ROWELL MONUMENT THIS MORNING

Judge M. K. Harris Will Deliver Address at 11 o'Clock

Selections By Octette and Band Music to Be Included

Coincident with the Admission Day celebration today by the Native Sons of the Golden West will be the unveiling of the memorial monument erected in court house park by friends of the late Dr. Chester H. Rowell. Today was chosen as the day for the unveiling because of the fact that it is a legal holiday, which will enable many persons to be present who perhaps otherwise could not attend.

The monument will be presented to public view for the first time at 11 o'clock with appropriate ceremonies which will be conducted under the auspices of the Rowell Monument committee. W. F. Chandler, chairman of the committee and a lifelong friend of the late Dr. Rowell, will preside. Judge M. K. Harris will deliver the address.

Ex-Senator Bard of Ventura, who was a personal friend of the man whose memory the monument will perpetuate, was invited to attend the ceremonies and speak, but he will be prevented from attending by serious illness. Haig Patigian, a former Fresnan who designed and constructed the monument in San Francisco, arrived in Fresno yesterday and will be present at the unveiling of his work this morning.

The ceremonies will be opened with a band selection by members of the Musicians' Union who have been chosen to play on this occasion. Prof. A. G. Wahlberg has charge of the musical program and under his direction eight men will sing two selections, "Still, Still With Thee," by Gerrish, and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," by Herbert Johnson, are the numbers chosen. The octette will consist of George Babcock and Olney Rudd, first tenors; John Sishmanian and S. L. Platt, second tenors; Gus Olson and A. G. Wahlberg, baritones; Maurice Berghure and D. L. Zimmerman, bassos. A band selection will close the ceremonies.

The Rowell monument is located at the southwest corner of court house park. It is done in bronze and the figure is in a sitting position.

TENTH TOWNSHIP RESULT CHANGED

William Hawkins will contest with W. H. Thrower for the office of constable in the 10th township, instead of H. J. Wiemiller, as was announced a few days ago. In tabulating the result, it was found that 15 votes, cast for Hawkins in Pine Ridge precinct, were not counted. This gives him a total of 95 votes while Wiemiller, who was second round, has but 93. Wiemiller is eliminated as a result of the new totals.

UTILITIES ELECTION TO BE CALLED ON OCT. 15

Papers Will Be Ready Then for Trustees to Act

City to Vote on Taking in Two Districts on Same Date

The board of trustees will, on October 15, call an election in the city of Fresno to decide whether the control of the public utilities shall be turned over to the State Railroad Commission, according to information secured last night. This matter has been hanging fire for some time, but it is now said that the papers will be ready to call the election on October 15. It will probably be held some time immediately after the middle of November.

The trustees at their meeting last night issued a call for an election to decide whether the city shall take in Arlington Heights and Dean Park. Both districts have voted to come in. Hazelwood will not be included in this election, because it is contiguous both to Arlington Heights and Dean Park and the law requires that non-contiguous territory only can be voted on at one election. There will be but one polling place, at the city hall.

Franchise renewals were granted the Fresno Traction company on Fresno avenue and South J streets. The old franchises still have several years to run. The renewals were opposed by Trustees Boles and Waterman, on the ground that these franchises would undoubtedly be worth considerable money in the next ten or twelve years and on the further ground that such an action is an evasion of the city charter.

Frank H. Short, who appeared for the Traction company, asserted that the renewal of these franchises would facilitate the borrowing of money, so that the Traction company may double track on Fresno avenue and pave between the tracks both on Fresno avenue and South J street.

Charges of extravagance were made against the administration of the playgrounds by Trustees Boles and Irwin, in opposing a resolution for an immediate transfer of $3,000 from the general fund to the playgrounds fund. The resolution was passed, but both the opponents assert they will make an investigation. Holes objected because salaries were fixed without consulting the trustees, as is done by the police and fire and park commissions. He cited as extravagance the $175 a month salary of the superintendent, whereas the fire and police chiefs receive but $125 per month. Irwin objected to the seemingly large payroll and the payment of $60 a month to youths attending school, when they only serve during vacation time.

George Waterman came to the defense of the commission, declaring that it was a business-like board, that every cent expended was accounted for and that the only objection against the commission is that it is a new body and that for that reason the board is not yet in the habit of making allowances for it as for other departments.

Specifications were offered for the electrolier system on the basis of cast iron pillars, but were rejected. A resolution of intention was finally passed, however, calling for alternative bids for cast iron or steel-copper parts.

The mayor returned unsigned the contract for the asphalt mixer for repairing pavement because, he said, it was not in conformity with the bid.

Chief of Police Coyle asked that a time be set for hearing charges against the Japanese Supply company, a wholesale liquor establishment at 1402 Tulare street, which is accused of selling beer in quantities of less than one-fifth of a gallon, and has permitted liquor sold, to be drunk on the premises. The hearing will be given on Monday night, October 21, at 9 o'clock.

A request for the use of the Auditorium for the Dickey Playgrounds Woman's Recreation club, in the hope that club membership will be increased, was granted. This club will have the use of the auditorium twice a week.

MINISTERS FAVOR ATTENDANCE PLAN

The Ministerial Union at a meeting yesterday passed resolutions favoring the "Go to Sunday School" day to be held on the last Sunday in September in the churches of Fresno. The arrangements for the observants are in charge of Claude A. Cowan, superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday school.

The resignation of Rev. S. D. Baxter, recent pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, who left for Tennessee, was accepted. An application for membership was received from Rev. N. G. Papazian, pastor of the Armenian Congregational church. Negotiations were suspended with Henry C. Ostrum, who was unable to fill a proposal to conduct a series of meetings in Fresno. Arrangements will be made for someone to take his place.

ADMISSION DAY TO BE CELEBRATED HERE TODAY

Native Sons Will Give Public Program at Holmes Park

Athletic Events for Boys to Feature Program of Celebration

The celebration of Admission Day at Holmes Park, near the car barns, promises to be a red letter day for every boy in Fresno today.

Literary, musical and athletic exercises have been arranged under the auspices of the Native Sons' lodge of this city, with the opening of the program at 2 o'clock and the close at 5:30. District Attorney McCormick and William Glass are to be the speakers of the day and will deliver short talks toward the close of the program. The Y. M. C. A. band will give a concert during a large part of the afternoon and two baseball games will be played. An important feature of the program is the track and field meet for the boys of Fresno. Prizes, donated by the members of the Native Sons, will be awarded the winners.

Stores Close

Admission Day will be generally observed throughout the city by the closing of stores, city and county public offices, banks, the post office and a large number of private offices and mercantile houses. This is the sixty-fourth anniversary of the admission of California into the Union and is a legal holiday throughout the state. The Native Sons' order has brought Admission Day into special importance during the last several years by holding big celebrations in various parts of the state. This year the state celebration is to be held in Vallejo and for the first time in the history of the local parlor, the members will not join it. In order to conserve all efforts for the big celebration in San Francisco during the fair time, next year, the local celebration will receive all attention today. This event is intended primarily for the young people but the program has been arranged to interest the older folks as well.

The complete program has been announced by Superintendent R. L. Quigley, of the city playgrounds department, who is in charge of the athletic features of the day, and has arranged the various events. The program follows in full:

Athletic Test.

The athletic program at Holmes athletic field is serving to quicken interest to a considerable extent in the way of track athletics. That the valley athletes need this quickening is certain, as the valley championships which will take place at the Fresno district fair are only about three weeks off and this meet will serve as a good forerunner to give the athletes a chance to get a line on their powers.

Many athletes have already signified their intentions of getting into the open competitions of the program, of which there are eight; four track events and four field events. The events are so chosen that both sprinters and long-distance men, jump men and weight men will have a chance to perform.

The athletes will have a chance to find out whether their staying qualities are really up to the proper stage, also whether they have worked up a good sprint for the finish. It will not take long for them to find out after they get in competition whether their wind is sufficient or whether they are properly trained so that they will not get leg tired.

Use Judgment.

Good judgment is acquired in track athletics principally through actual competition and experience. Too much weight cannot be laid on the fact that competition with careful training is what brings out track men. Of course, now and then, a phenomenal showing is made by a man who has not had careful training, but his phenomenal performances will not be kept up with any consistency unless the careful training is followed up.

Track in Condition.

The mile run will be especially adapted to those men who are training for the cross country race and will aid the valley competitors considerable in rounding out their form for this event.

The quarter mile track at Holmes will be in first-class condition and in shape for record time when the starter's pistol cracks tomorrow. Workmen are putting in extra licks on the field today. The track will be wired off so that the crowd will in no way interfere with the competitors at the finish.

Two large bleachers are stationed near the finish line so that all will have a good chance to see the finish. As well as the open competition for the athletes of the valley, there are contests running, jumping, etc., for all ages and sizes of both boys and girls.

These races run off for the promotion of true sport and genuine fun, will be heightened in interest by the variety of good prizes given for these contests. The prizes run in value some of them as high as $10.

Two Ball Games.

A good ball game is expected on Diamond No. 1, which is the opening event of the afternoon's program. The Republicans, who have an exceptionally strong team, will endeavor to stop the winning streak of the McAfees. The Bankers will also cross bats with the Brunswicks. The diamond will be in first-class condition and fast ball is sure to result.

Russell Uhler will introduce the speakers of the day. William Glass will give the first address, after which the band will play a selection; then M. F. McCormick will address the audience.

Band Concert.

The Y. M. C. A. band, under the leadership of David Dahlinger, is strengthening its forces and will be on the job with plenty of good music during the festivities.

A bandstand has been erected in front of the bleachers on which the band will play and the speakers of the afternoon will make their appropriate speeches.

Ice cream and other refreshments will be served on the field.
